Epistles From A Roman

A Soldier Awaits Signs After Christ Is Crucified

Jerusalem, Judea

Gaius my father,

The Galilean is dead!

He was crucified this day between two common thieves in the place of execution called Golgotha while street scum mocked and taunted him and the black skies were rent by lightning and thunder fairly shook the earth.

And, while the mob hurled jeers and insults and laughing soldiers cast lots for his garments, the tortured Galilean lifted his head and asked—no, implored—pardon for them saying: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

The Procurator Pilate, the last man who could have saved him, allowed himself to be cowed by the mob's thirst for blood. The Procurator pronounced him faultless yet summoned a bowl of water and washed his hands of the whole affair.

BUT, I CAN find in my heart to understand and forgive the Procurator for, in the words of the Galilean, in his weakness he knew not what he did. But why do I speak of forgiveness? Do strong men forgive? Is forgiveness not a weakness?

The Galilean is dead!

This I know, for I was with the crowd that followed as he carried his cross to the place of execution, bloodied and weakened from scourging, dressed in robes of mock royalty and crowned with a circlet of thorns. Would that I could have helped him in his ordeal.

I stood at the foot of the cross as his life expired, when a bolt of lightning splashed the scene with unearthly light and the world rocked beneath our feet as in an earthquake and a centurion of Rome stood stunned and gasped out: "Truly, this was the Son of God."

If only I could have spoken personally with this Galilean, this Christus. If only I could have put to him these questions that now torture me. Must they haunt me the rest of my life?

Now, it is too late.

THE GALILEAN, Jesus, lies in the tomb. His tomb is sealed by a rock, one too heavy to be rolled away by one man or by six men.

Steel Seeks Strike, USW Chief Claims

Says Walkout Talk Being Promoted To Spur Scare Buying

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The president of the United Steelworkers charges the steel industry with being "hell-bent on formenting a strike" and with "deliberately promoting strike talk to stimulate scare buying of its products."

David J. McDonald said Thursday that proof of his charge was contained in a statement made by Clifford Hood, president of U.S. Steel Corp., the industry's pacesetter.

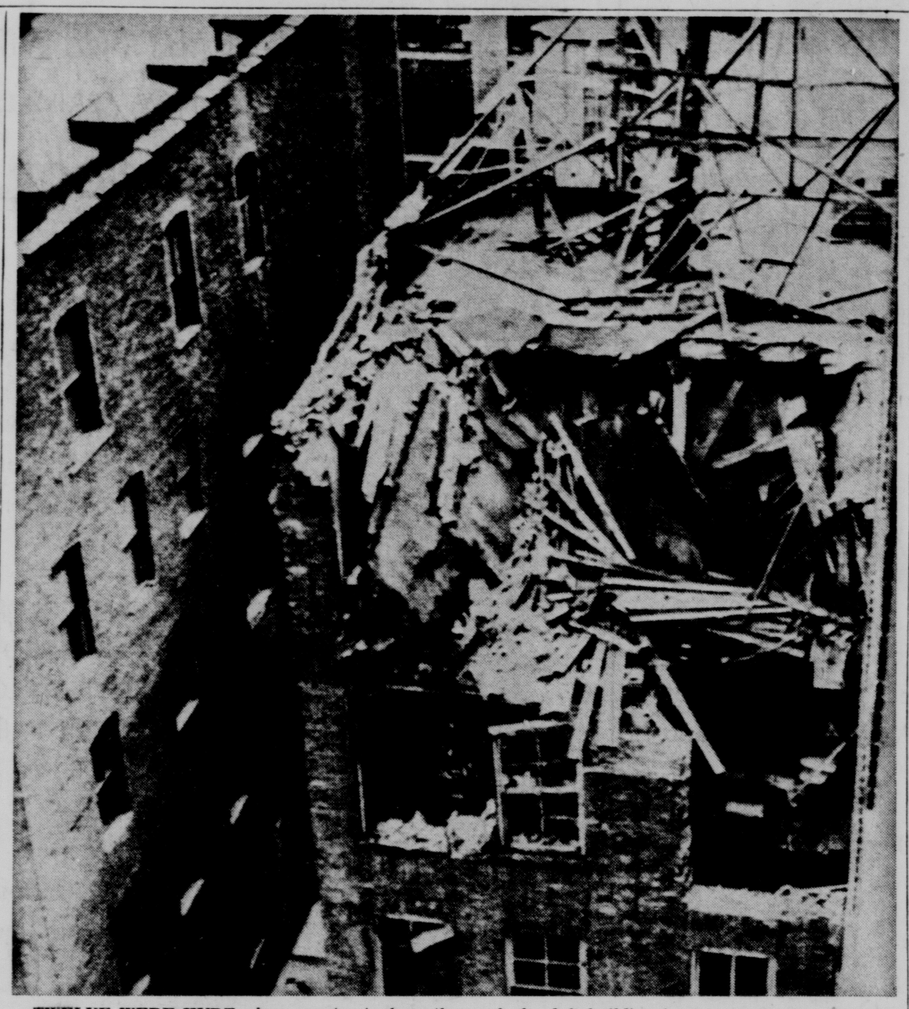

Hood, in replying Wednesday to an appeal by President Eisenhower to hold down a new spiral of inflation, said: "With the already high rates of wages, we in United States Steel see no reason why there should be more employment cost increases and more price increases again this year. We will exert every effort to avoid both."

Hood was not immediately available for comment on McDonald's prepared statement, but Joseph Block, president of Inland Steel Corp., branded the strike charge "ridiculous."

McDonald assured President Eisenhower that the USW "will enter our forthcoming negotiations with a deep sense of our responsibility not only to our own members but to the nation at large."

"I cannot emphasize too strongly our union does not want a strike," he added.

Current industry contracts expire June 30. Negotiations for new pacts open in mid-May in New York.

Meeting Set By Ministers On Program

Unification Would Be Achieved Over Period Of Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain, France and West Germany were reported generally favorable today to a U.S. master plan for negotiations with the Soviet Union on the future of Germany.

The aim of the plan is to achieve the unification of West Germany and Communist East Germany in stages over a period of years. This would begin with creation of a loose federation and end with the conclusion of a German peace treaty.

Limitations on forces in central Europe and an end to the division of Berlin also are envisioned as the plan progressed.

The foreign ministers of Britain and France are to discuss the program with Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter here next Tuesday.

West German representatives will join the talks Wednesday in advance of broader discussions among foreign ministers of all the North Atlantic Treaty powers meeting Thursday for a NATO 10th anniversary session.

The preliminary discussions are pointed toward an East-West foreign ministers meeting in Geneva May 11 and a later summit conference, as proposed to the Soviet Union by the Western powers Thursday.

It is an open question whether the U.S.S.R. would be interested in any part of the U.S. plan or in any other which the Western powers might suggest.

Some officials say there is at least a slight possibility Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may be seriously interested in negotiating an acceptable German settlement.

Others say that whether or not Khrushchev is interested, the Western powers must go into the negotiations with the Soviets prepared to put on the table a set of reasonable proposals which would dramatically demonstrate the willingness of the Western powers to make agreements with the Soviet Union on fair terms.

Paper Strike Touches Off Free-For-All

MECHANICVILLE, N.Y. (AP) —A force of 200 striking paper workers battled salaried employes and police in front of a struck West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. plant Thursday night.

Three officials were shoved, kicked and slugged, the company said.

The free-for-all broke out as 14 policemen attempted to escort 16 salaried workers into the plant.

Moments before, Mayor Thomas Nolan pleaded with the strikers to break up the demonstration.

"This is anarchy. This is lawlessness," he shouted to the booing throng.

Hundreds of spectators crowded around the strikers' picket lines.

The United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union struck Jan 20 in a dispute over the wording of contract clauses governing seniority, grievances and management rights. Wages are not an issue.

The plant, in this Hudson River city 22 miles north of Albany, suspended operations. A total of 940 hourly workers were idled.

Safecrackers Get $90 From School, Mill

Burglars Also Hit Store And Tavern In Series Of Enterings

Workmanlike burglars obtained about $90 in two safecrackings overnight — one at the Beaver Local High School and another at a Rogers feed mill — and they also entered a Cannons Mill feed store and a Kensington tavern.

Over $30 was taken from the safe at the principal's office at the Williamsport area high school by thieves who efficiently forced a window and metal frame to enter the building.

Sheriff's deputies, who discovered the school entering in a routine patrol check at 4 a. m., said the safe combination was knocked off and the door drilled to open it.

George VanHorne, executive head of the school district, said the money lost was chiefly Red Cross contributions, since the the school — entered several times in the past two years — does not keep large amounts on hand.

A small glass pane in a door of the Rudibaugh Feed Mill at Rogers was smashed by the thieves to enter. The safe in the feed store was moved into the hardware department and opened in the same manner as at the high school. About $50 was in the safe, Sheriff Russell VanFossan said.

Both safe jobs were similar to those at Salem this week and Co-

Liner Blames Tanker In Sea Crash; 4 Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—The owners of the cruise liner Santa Rosa say the tanker Valchem was to blame for the collision that killed four tanker sailors and brought a shattering climax to a Caribbean holiday for 247 passengers.

A "radical course alternation" was made by the tanker, the Santa Rosa owners say. There was no immediate comment from the operators of the Valchem.

Conflict over whether there was fog at the time of the crash highlighted the preliminaries to a Coast Guard investigation starting Monday.

Spokesmen for the Grace Line, owner of the Santa Rosa, said the collision off Atlantic City, N.J., at 3 a.m. Thursday occurred in only patchy haze. They said the Valchem had been sighted both visually and by radar.

But a Santa Rosa lookout, a number of passengers and several injured crewmen of the tanker said there was thick fog in the collision area 22 miles off the coast.

Seventeen of the crew of the Valchem were injured, in addition to one known dead and three missing and presumed dead. The Santa Rosa brought the injured here and they were taken to the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital on Staten Island.

None of the 247 passengers and 265 crewmen on the Santa Rosa was injured when the 25-million-dollar liner knifed into the tanker.

Flood Control Help Unlikely In Chester Run

Soil Conservationists Advise Group After Study Of Watershed

Flood control aid for Middle Run in Chester is apparently not available from the Soil Conservation Department, representatives of the city were advised Thursday following a survey of the watershed.

Engineers and economists from the Soil Conservation offices at Morgantown pointed out the watershed is heavily wooded and shows little evidence of eroison — conditions which apparently eliminate a proposed Soil Conservation flood control plan.

A spokesman for a delegation of six representatives which visited the area yesterday indicated the Soil Conservation program could be available only if there were heavy soil erosion.

The planned flood control project stemmed from a move by city officials to prevent recurrences of flood damage which hit the community in July when Middle Run left its banks.

Dr. R. D. Watkins and Ray Stevens of the Kiwanis Club's flood control committee, said they were advised the next step the city could take would be to apply for federal assistance from the Army Corps of Engineers. The service club had agreed to serve as sponsor for the Soil Conservation project.

Dr. Watkins said if the city wished to pursue the flood control program further, Rep. Arch Moore

Tibet Chief Escaped Reds, Sikkim Says

TOKYO (AP) — Maharaja Kumar of Sikkim said today that loss of life in the Tibetan revolt has been very heavy but as far as he knows the Dali Lama escaped from the Chinese Communists.

The young maharaja, son of the ruler of the tiny Himalayan state between India and Tibet, arrived in Tokyo for a Buddhist cultural conference. He said he got his information from official sources just before he left Gangtok, capital of Sikkim.

The Sikkim prince said the Dalai Lama, Tibet's 23-year-old spiritual and political ruler, escaped from his summer palace before the Chinese Reds captured it on Tuesday.

He reported that Red forces began firing on the palace at 1 a.m. Tuesday and kept up a violent barrage until it capitulated.

"No one knows if the Dalai Lama was hit when the Chinese captured the palace," the prince said. "We hope and pray for him. Even if he falls into Chinese hands, we pray no harm will come to him."

An unconfirmed report in India Thursday said the Dalai Lama had fled from Lhasa, and there were rumors he was heading south toward Sikkim or the Indian province of Assam.

In contrast with reports in India that fighting in Lhasa had subsided over the weekend, the maharaja said fighting in and around the capital "was particularly violent" on Tuesday.

"After taking the palace," he continued, "the Chinese then shelled the university monasteries of Sera and Drapung on the outskirts of Lhasa. There were about 12,000 student monks in the two universities at the time."

Ousted U.S. Broadcaster Bares Vast Purge In Iraq

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A vast purge of army officers and government personnel in Iraq is reported by an American broadcaster just kicked out of the country.

Winston Burdette of the Columbia Broadcasting System said on arrival here Thursday that Baghdad prisons were filled "until there is no more room in them for all the political detainees."

Burdett implied that the purge theatens what efficiency was left in the Iraqi government and army after the cleanout last summer of partisans of the pro-Western monarchy and assassination of Premier Nuri Said. He said the latest wave of dismissals and arrests has decimated the corps of army officers and depleted the ranks of government personnel.

Premier Abdel Karim Kassem has lost control of the situation, the American correspondent reported. While Kassem speaks as a man of moderation, Burdett said, "his own people's court acts like an independent branch of government, ignoring his leadership."

Burdett was one of three American newsmen given less than 12 hours to leave Iraq by the revolutionary regime, which told them only "you have been here long enough."

The other two were Larry Collins of United Press International, who had been in Baghdad only a week, and William McHale of Time and Life magazines, who had been there two weeks, the same time as Burdett.

Another American newsman, Dennis Fodor of Time, was refused permission to stay when he flew in to Baghdad from Beirut Thursday.

There are only three Western newsmen still in Iraq—Stan Carter of The Associated Press, Erik Durshmied of the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. and Douglas Brown of the London Daily Telegraph.

Pottery Arbitration Postponed To April 15

Hearings before a federal arbitrator, which were to begin today, have been rescheduled until April 15 in a dispute that idled 1,500 employes at the Homer Laughlin China Co. for about two weeks in early February.

Announcing the postponement, officials at Laughlin said it was agreed upon at the request of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The case will be heard by R. W. Haughton of Detroit, representing the mediation and concilation service of the U. S. Labor Department.

Boy Must Apologize For False Fire Alarm

A 15 - year - old East Liverpool boy who phoned in a false fire alarm Monday must contribute $10 to the firemen's pension fund and apologize to firemen at the Central Fire Station today.

That was Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin's penalty for the youth at a hearing Thursday at Lisbon. He admitted to the judge he turned in the false alarm that sent firemen to a Thompson Ave. confectionery although they were busy at the time fighting a brush fire off Maine Blvd. A policeman traced the call when he recognized the boy's voice in the tape recording firemen make of all phoned alarms.

Recent Tax Collection Totals $2,162,750

LISBON — A total of $2,162,750 was collected in real estate taxes for the first half of 1958, according to Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer. This is about $40,000 less than anticipated.

A 75 per cent distribution has been made to the subdivisions, by Auditor Kenneth Bell, with the balance to be distributed sometime in April.

The collection ended March 14.

There Is A Difference

Initiative, Referendum Explained

Although the meaning of the two terms has been explained repeatedly over the last 12 months, many East Liverpool residents apparently still fail to understand the distinct differences between the "initiative" and "referendum" processes under which city ordinances can be put to a vote of the people.

Both words have been used repeatedly and sometimes interchangeably in the debate over a vote on the new city income tax ordinance.

Since the initiative procedure was used to repeal the 1958 tax ordinance but the referendum method apparently will be employed to test the will of the people on a proposed new tax measure, the confusion has been multiplied.

BASICALLY, here are the two methods and their differences:

Initiative — the method by which an organization or a group of private citizens may circulate a petition proposing a new city ordinance and asking that it be put to a vote at the next general election.

Referendum — the procedure followed when a group or an individual wishes to put to a vote of the people an ordinance which already has been enacted by Council.

There is a third point that also needs clearing up. Council has no authority under state law to go direct to the County Election Board with a resolution asking for a vote of the people on an income tax.

Some among the opposition have contended that Council should call for a vote on the proposed new tax, rather than enacting an ordinance. But such procedure is impossible under state law.

In both initiative and referendum procedure, the group seeking to force an issue to a vote circulates petitions to obtain signatures of qualified electors. If it obtains the percentage of signers required by state law, the issue goes onto the ballot for a decision.

There's another basic difference in the two procedures. If Council enacts an ordinance and a referendum action is initiated successfully, state law holds up the effectiveness of the questioned legislation pending a decision at the polls.

But that is not the case in initiative procedure.

GENERALLY, initiative procedure is employed to propose new legislation for a direct vote of the

A 15 - year - old East Liverpool boy who phoned in a false fire alarm Monday must contribute $10 to the firemen's pension fund and apologize to firemen at the Central Fire Station today.

That was Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin's penalty for the youth at a hearing Thursday at Lisbon. He admitted to the judge he turned in the false alarm that sent firemen to a Thompson Ave. confectionery although they were busy at the time fighting a brush fire off Maine Blvd. A policeman traced the call when he recognized the boy's voice in the tape recording firemen make of all phoned alarms.

Pottery Arbitration Postponed To April 15

Hearings before a federal arbitrator, which were to begin today, have been rescheduled until April 15 in a dispute that idled 1,500 employes at the Homer Laughlin China Co. for about two weeks in early February.

Announcing the postponement, officials at Laughlin said it was agreed upon at the request of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The case will be heard by R. W. Haughton of Detroit, representing the mediation and concilation service of the U. S. Labor Department.

Easter Weather Fair; Snow Flurries Tonight

The Ohio weatherman promised Sunday will be generally fair for the Easter parade but there will be another touch of winter before the holiday arrives.

Tonight will be windy and colder with snow flurries expected and a sub - freezing low of 27 to 31 degrees. But Saturday will be warmer by afternoon. Today's high will be in the mid-30's, more like winter than spring.

Recent Tax Collection Totals $2,162,750

LISBON — A total of $2,162,750 was collected in real estate taxes for the first half of 1958, according to Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer. This is about $40,000 less than anticipated.

A 75 per cent distribution has been made to the subdivisions, by Auditor Kenneth Bell, with the balance to be distributed sometime in April.

The collection ended March 14.

4-H News

Demonstration of how to splice electrical wire and set a table were given at a meeting of the Busy Gals and Pals 4-H Club of Pancake Hill near Negley Tuesday evening.

David Lee showed splicing and Barbara Wolie table setting. Some 22 members and 3 advisors attended the meeting at the Lee home.

Beverly Green was appointed safety and health director. Greg Shultz and Butch Grees were presented birthday gifts by their secret pals.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer and the singing of "Jacob's Ladder." Members wore Easter hats they made.

Next meeting will be April 7 at the home of Gayle Pancake.

Motorists Kill More Deer Than Archers

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Motorists killed more deer in Wisconsin last year than were killed by bow and arrow hunters, the State Conservation Department reports.

Cars struck and killed 3,172 deer in 1958 — a new high. Archers bagged 1,879.

Commissioners Plan Annexation Hearing

LISBON — A public hearing on a petition for annexation of 441 acres to Columbiana village will be held April 3 at 10:30 a. m., according to R. Max Gard, chairman of the Columbiana County commissioners.

This is part of the territory whose residents petitioned last year to go into Columbiana. It was turned down when an error was found in the description.

A public hearing will be held the same day at 1:30 p. m. for vacating streets and alleys in the old Lindesmith Addition in Leetonia to make way for a flood control program, Gard said.

The commissioners, Gard, Walter A. Hunston and Frank Wilson, inspected the territories Thursday.

Mrs. Martin had been ill one day. She was born in East Palestine Sept. 11, 1888, a daughter of the late George H. Allcorn and Anna Piffer Allcorn. She was a member of the Grace Lutheran Church of East Palestine. She moved to Youngstown 29 years ago. Her first husband, John Gribben, died in 1919. About 39 years ago, she was married to Milford M. Martin. The family home is at 369 Marmion Ave.

In addition to her husband, she leaves three sons, Rodney Gribben of Boardman, Roy Gribben of Negley and Milford J. Martin Jr. of Indianapolis; two brothers, C. W. Allcorn of East Liverpool and Duese Allcorn of East Palestine and nine grandchildren and one great - grandchild.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Shriver-Allison South Side Funeral Home, 2326 Market St., Youngstown, by the Rev. Charles Lindquist of Bethel Lutheran Church at Youngstown. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery at Youngstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and tonight.

Francis Johnson

Francis C. Johnson of Forsyth Pl. died Thursday night after an extended illness in a hospital at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Mr. Johnson was retired and he and his wife were spending the winter at their apartment in Pompano Beach, Fla., when death came.

He operated an oil distributing business before his retirement.

Surviving are the widow and two sons, Francis Johnson Jr. in the Army in Germany and Robert Johnson, a student at Mercersburg Academy.

The body will be taken to McKeesport pending services.

Jesse Welling

Jesse Welling of Alliance, father of Charles M. Welling of East Liverpool, died Thursday noon at Alliance City Hospital after an illness of several weeks. He was 60.

He was born Sept. 10, 1898, at Rock Lick, W. Va., near Cameron, and was a member of the Grace Cathedral in Akron.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mabel Rutan Welling at home; two other sons, Carl Welling and Sheldon Welling, and a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Ward, all of Alliance; four brothers, Daniel Welling, Charles Welling, Harry Welling, and Robert Welling, all of Cameron; four sisters, Mrs. Greta Courtwright, Mrs. Fanny McKerrian and Mrs. Icie Scott, all of Graysville, Pa., and Mrs. Gayle Hartley, and five grandchildren.

Services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Antills Funeral Home in Cameron. Burial will be in Rock Lick Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Samuel Bowers

Samuel Paul Bowers of Canton, brother of Mrs. Louise Reed of East Liverpool, died Thursday afternoon in his home of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 74 and had been ill for a long period.

Born in East Liverpool, he was a resident of Canton for 50 years and had owned and operated the Bowers Dry Cleaning Co. for 30 years. He also worked 16 years in the shipping department of the Canton Hardware store.

Other survivors include his widow, Mrs. Tyrone Bowers at home; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Hilton of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Francis Formet and Mrs. Ronald Schweitzer, both of Canton; two sons, Richard D. Watson of Kansas City, Kan., and William Bowers of Canton, and eight grandchildren, one great-grandchild and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held Monday at 1 p. m. at the Formet & Clevenger Funeral Home at 18th St. and Cleveland Ave., North, Canton. The Rev. John B. Barker of the Calvary Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Westlawn Cemetery in Canton. Friends may call Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. at the funeral home.

4-H News

Demonstration of how to splice electrical wire and set a table were given at a meeting of the Busy Gals and Pals 4-H Club of Pancake Hill near Negley Tuesday evening.

David Lee showed splicing and Barbara Wolfe table setting. Some 22 members and 3 advisors attended the meeting at the Lee home.

Beverly Green was appointed safety and health director. Greg Shultz and Butch Grees were presented birthday gifts by their secret pals.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer and the singing of "Jacob's Ladder." Members wore Easter hats they made.

Next meeting will be April 7 at the home of Gayle Pancake.

Motorists Kill More Deer Than Archers

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Motorists killed more deer in Wisconsin last year than were killed by bow and arrow hunters, the State Conservation Department reports.

Cars struck and killed 3,172 deer in 1958 — a new high. Archers bagged 1,879.

Commissioners Plan Annexation Hearing

LISBON — A public hearing on a petition for annexation of 441 acres to Columbiana village will be held April 3 at 10:30 a. m., according to R. Max Gard, chairman of the Columbiana County commissioners.

This is part of the territory whose residents petitioned last year to go into Columbiana. It was turned down when an error was found in the description.

A public hearing will be held the same day at 1:30 p. m. for vacating streets and alleys in the old Lindesmith Addition in Leetonia to make way for a flood control program, Gard said.

The commissioners, Gard, Walter A. Hunston and Frank Wilson, inspected the territories Thursday.

All-Ohio Team Could Do It!

This is the time when the going begins to get hot and heavy in the Ohio General Assembly.

Legislative committees are starting to sink their teeth into the hard core of the legislative proposals that are ticketed for serious consideration.

The people who are supposed to speak up or forever hold their peace are doing their best to make themselves heard.

The drum-beaters and the bush-beaters are busy, too. Their pamphlets and letters are coming into newspaper offices with every distribution of the mail.

In general, they all say the same thing:

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the pressure bloc!

Or, because it takes at least two pressure blocs to make an issue, they say:

Now is the time for all right-thinking men to come to the aid of our pressure bloc and give those other fellows the go-by!

ONE THOUGHT comes to mind over and over again as these presentations and arguments — and attacks, veiled and otherwise— come to attention.

What would happen if each legislator, each lobbyist and every Ohioan who becomes involved as a citizen were to ask himself each morning after breakfast what he thinks would be best for the statewide interests of Ohioans and be guided for the whole day by his honest answer?

Much too often, people who take sides in public issues become so obsessed with the idea of beating the other fellow that they lose sight of the fact they and the other fellow have a common interest in the welfare of the whole community.

They fall into the trap of winning at any cost for the sake of winning, forgetting what they might lose.

Occasionally someone in public authority tries to bring both sides together on common ground. Gov. DiSalle has made a notable gesture of this kind in Ohio. President Eisenhower has tried to do it in the federal government.

But the extremists are to much for them to handle. They would rather do something to hurt and punish their opponents than to help and benefit the whole state.

THERE ARE BILLS pending in the Ohio Assembly that most assuredly would be changed if it were the purpose of their backers to do only what was good for Ohio — all of Ohio.

An all-Ohio legislative team . . .

Representatives and senators dedicated to do nothing that would hurt the best interests of the state as a whole, even if it meant giving up some narrow advantage or some scheme to get even with those so-and-so's on the other side of the issue . . .

It's something to dream about.

Must Transportation Pay For Itself?

The dead end being approached by public transportation in urban areas was dramatized a few days ago when New York Central Railroad abandoned its Weehawken ferry service, leaving 5,000 commuters stranded.

Here was a basic type of metropolitan transportation that had been in continuous existence for 130 years being stopped because it could not be made to pay for itself. It pointed up the ballooning problem of transportation in the nation's biggest city, whose millions of residents and workers are losing more and more commuter services that have been starving to death because they are not used by enough patrons.

The problem is what to do with the residue of patrons who are still using the services and are wholly dependent on them. Even if everyone could drive his own car or find a place in a car pool, New York and other cities could not find room for that many automobiles; cities are in the throes of traffic and parking strangulation.

As could be expected, moves are being made to subsidize transportation, which is what municipally owned transportation does, in effect. And in the meantime it is being acknowledged reluctantly by public authority that the existence of public transportation that does not pay for itself cannot be justified.

Its demise can be postponed — and has been in New York — with loans and financial manipulations. Its problems can be eased by public authority in various ways. But the only thing in sight that can reverse the trend toward private automobiles is such a glut of vehicles that they cannot be kept in motion even under ideal conditions.

Every expressway, every move that makes traffic move more easily is like the classic paradox of making India's food shortage worse by sending food ships to India, thereby enabling more Indians to survive and beget more children to go hungry.

The survival of cities is at stake. The question whether they should save themselves by paying whatever it costs to provide transportation that cannot be justified as private enterprise is pressing.

In the old days, polticians took great delight in running for office against greedy transportation monopolies that took pennies out of the poor people's pockets. The grandsons of the utility company baiters now are coaxing the grandsons of yesterday's utility magnates to stay in business as long as the red ink lasts.

Dog Named Laddie

A collie dog named "Laddie" was killed on the Y. & O. Road Thursday by a motorist who didn't bother to stop.

The hearts of two young children were among those "broken" as the result. The youngsters had been walking with "Laddie" and were by the road when the tragedy occurred.

This is but one of several such incidents that will take place from now until next winter. In many cases, the motorist will not be at fault, but in others will be because of excessive speed and improper driving.

With good weather, dogs and children roam more and motorists find more time for taking to the highways. But as always, the burden is on the motorist. Children and dogs are intelligent in their own right, but seldom are alert enough to cope with the problem of fast-moving traffic.

And it could have been "Laddie" who had the broken heart today had the children wandered onto the highway instead of the dog.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Looks like all big motor companies will turn out small car models. Even engineers, designers and company presidents are having trouble parking big ones. Ford, GM and Chrysler executives have been late reaching policy conferences in superdooper models while midget-car competitors have been getting to their meetings through modern traffic with little difficulty.

You can identify the big car owner easily. He's the one with his sacroiliac in bad shape from backing into space between parking meters.

NO MAJOR COMPANY will go overboard for small cars, however, because of uncertainty whether Americans will completely shake off the desire for size, luxury and glamor. These questions remain:

1. Is it possible for a man to have prestige without taking up more space than he needs?
2. Is the "Keeping Up With Joneses" motif here to stay?
3. Will the American consumer ever abandon idea that the size of his auto is more important than the size of his bankroll?
4. Is there much chance that many people will decide to be thrifty at the risk of having a neighbor show up in a car that keeps him broke?

Our guess is that it will take a big switch in American way of life before the market for larger cars is seriously hurt. "Try this on for size," is a suggestion that will sound odd to most buyers for years to come. When they go into a salesroom they want more than a "fitting." But you never can tell what gasoline taxes, service-station bills and heavy traffic will do. Maybe the demitasse auto will be bought as an "extra."

RAYMOND McCAW, buried the other day in the old home-town of Liberty, Neb., was for decades top news editor for The New York Times and one of best newspapermen this writer ever knew. We never saw Hollywood's absurd idea of a newspaper editor as brash, noisy "Mr. Big" without thinking of McCaw who was a real news chief, cool, calm, quiet, considerate and deadly efficient.

This writer hit New York in same month with McCaw, on the same paper with Russel Crouse, Wes Stout, Max Anderson and Bill Chenery, all greenhorns getting their chance on the New York Globe under George T. Hughes. McCaw, then in his 20s, had come up the hard way, with training on Western and Midwest papers, and had the genuine "nose for news."

When the Globe was sold it looked bad for this happy family but all hit the heights in a short time.

Labor Reform Bill Doubtful

By Victor Riesel

In search of privacy for a secret meeting less than 90 days ago, some 50 labor officials drove by various routes to a lodge between Omps and Paw Paw, W. Va. There, virtually in the Cacapon forest, they conferred, they matched information, they talked to several friendly senators and representatives — and came away with the certainty that there would not be any laws passed to their liking this session.

Victor Riesel

The secret 50 were the truly expert lobbyists — legislative representatives — of unions belonging to the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Dept. They met a few days before Congress itself opened officially.

After they hit the 100-mile trail back to Washington, they believed, among other things, that there would not be any anti-racketeering labor reform law passed this session.

THESE POLITICAL strategists know Congress like Churchill knows his cigar box. They reckon that the House will want a much tougher labor reform bill than the Senate will send over. The anti-racketeering bill will be stillborn amid loud wailing.

Thus there will be woefully wasted some three years of McClellan committee probing at a cost of at least 1½ million dollars. For, there will be no Senate racket-busting committee next year.

Fact is that the committee will be pummeling the mobs only for another four or five months at the most.

That's what Sen. John Kennedy told some of us in New York the other day.

"The days of the committee's active investigations are almost over," he disclosed. There will be hearings probably through July or August."

Sen. Kennedy does not believe there will be another year's extension of the probe. The racket-busters have about established the need for reform legislation—and that was the purpose of the committee.

Now we need a law, he said, and in four years or so the Senate Labor Committee should look into the matter again to see if it has worked.

THE SENATOR in a note to this column put it this way:

"It is perhaps inevitable that we would run into cross currents here as this issue of labor reform has strong pressures and biases on both sides. I would say, however, I am confident that a bill will be reported out of the full committee for consideration by the Senate after the Easter recess. I am confident it will pass.

"I likewise would be very much opposed to the adjournment of Congress this summer unless we have sent an anti-racketeering bill to the President's desk for signature! This is a must for this year."

In personal conversation, Sen. Kennedy did not feel certain that the House would think that some sort of a law was a "must."

There are other senators, with whom this columnist has spoken in the past few days, who feel that the Senate and House just won't agree.

This is backed up by some of those who made history between West Virginia's Omps and Paw Paw. Many of the labor leaders who just don't want any laws at all have not been banging the drums against the proposed laws. They have been told by their experts there won't be any new laws so why go out on the old limb in public.

Which is why the conference of the Cacapon forest really made history. It was there that it was decided for all practical purposes that labor need do nothing about the law one way or another.

Now there probably will not be a reform measure—and this will become the hottest campaign issue in 1960. Just watch!

Big Issues Lie Ahead

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Congress, having hardly worked up a good sweat over what it accomplished so far this year, has now gone home for its usual Easter breather.

Its work to date is about par for the course. It really has to start rolling when it returns in April.

By now the biggest issues of the first three months of 1959 have become pretty clear: inflation, the American economy in general, defense spending, and the Berlin crisis.

Congress has begun an extensive investigation of what makes the economy tick. It has held extensive and necessary hearings on many subjects, granted Hawaii statehood, prepared some legislation for later action, and voted on money bills.

Both houses of Congress stand firmly behind President Eisenhower on the Berlin crisis which the Soviets created. They have given him some suggestions. He hasn't said much except that he won't budge an inch on Berlin.

Nevertheless, discussion has been intense and will continue right up to and through the summit conference next summer — if there is one.

For months now Eisenhower has been hammering against the danger of inflation and seems to have singled out the steel industry for special attention. He has addressed his appeals both to steel management and to the steel workers union which soon will be asking more wages.

He has cautioned both sides — since steel prices affect the whole economy — against upsetting the applecart: labor by asking for too much money; management by using higher wages as an excuse to raise steel prices.

But while he's been warning steel to be careful, inflation has been increasing in other industries and it is questionable whether workers and management in the steel industry will stand still while prices go up around them.

This week the government's monthly report on living costs came down.

Practically every spending category except food went up. Prices for housing and most fuels went up in February. So did the cost of medical care, gasoline, and such items as toilet goods, haircuts, household appliances, TV sets, radio and movie admissions.

Another argument bound to continue: the Democrats contend that Eisenhower, in his desire to show a balanced budget after three consecutive years of deficits, wants to spend too little on defense.

The Republicans—but not all of them—rally around Eisenhower's rejoinder that he is in the best position to know what defense this country needs.

What seems the biggest illusion of 1959 is Eisenhower's insistence that the budget can and must be balanced in the way he proposed. He figures that if the country in fiscal 1960 spends only 77 billion dollars it can take in in revenue $77,100,000,000. His figuring is amazingly paper-thin.

He is not estimating that revenue figure on the basis of taxes already on the books.

He is asking Congress to get revenue up to that amount by raising 600 million more in revenue through boosting postal rates and the gasoline tax. Since Congress almost certainly won't, that leaves him about 600 million dollars shy to start with.

But the crowning blow was struck this week when tax experts working for Congress figured revenue would be at least a billion dollars below Eisenhower's 77-billion-dollar spending budget.

Couple that with the fact the Democratic-run Congress seems bent on voting more money than Eisenhower asked for in his budget — on the grounds that he did not ask for enough—and his budget-balancing looks long gone.

But, like the Berlin crisis, the economy, and inflation, this argument over the budget will go on and on.

Brush Fire Wars

By David Lawrence

Cold War Pressure Felt Everywhere

The war goes on despite the talk of summit conferences.

The war is on in the Atlantic, where Russian trawlers recently cut the most important cables of confidential communication between the United States and Europe. What they did once, they can do again when the exigencies of war demand it.

David Lawrence

The war is on in Iraq, where the Communists have just conquered a country which used to be an ally of the West but which now withdraws from the alliance with Britain, Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and the United States and places itself at the service of Moscow.

The war is on along the borders of Turkey, where the Soviets recently lured an unarmed American transport plane across the line by false signals during bad weather and then shot down the plane, killing the 17 Americans aboard.

The war is on in the Far East, where the Red Chinese, who are supplied with arms and munitions by the Soviets, keep up a constant bombardment that threatens Formosa and the military position of the United States in the Pacific.

The war is on in Cuba, Boliva, Venezuela, and other Latin American countries, where Communist money and influence are at work to cause friction with the United States.

THE WAR is on in the Philippines, where Communists have managed to get enough political influence to prod the government to engage in more and more controversies and quarrels with the United States.

The war is on inside the Western democracies, where Communists, working through stooges—many of them unwitting, on the so-called "liberal" side—manage to make political trouble for the existing administrations.

The Communist influence in France, for instance, remains a threat. The Communist alliances with certain "liberal" groups in Britain continually cause some of the latter to play the Communist game.

The pressure to suspend nuclear tests is steadily applied through worldwide propaganda by the Communists. They never intend to keep their end of any agreement but hope to stop America's scientific experiments.

In all the Western countries a psychology of fear of the Communist threat in Berlin has given impetus to a peace-at-any-price sentiment. The idea seems to be that the only means of assuring peace is to give the Soviets their way about West Berlin. This is being resisted in Washington and inside the governments of Britain, France and West Germany but, again and again, the pressure comes for some form of "compromise" that really means surrender.

THE SOVIETS, on the other hand, give nothing and do not understand the word "compromise." They rejoice over the talk in the West about "flexibility" or "free zones," because this means to them the beginning of a slow but steady process of one-sided concessions to the Communists.

The Middle Eastern campaign to date has been a big success for the Communists. They started out to win Nasser and they surrounded him with enough Communists to keep him hostile to the West. Now, with the Nasser ambition to control all the Middle East thwarted by the Communist conquest of Iraq, it is natural that the Egyptian president should feel miffed.

He denounces the Communists but he is beholden to them nevertheless and couldn't really cut himself off from Moscow even if he wished to do so. The Communist influence inside Egypt is extensive. It supports from Cairo the Alberian rebel movement and operates along the North African coast to Morocco.

All this is euphemistically called the "cold war" but it is hot enough to stir up rebellions and cause NATO to lose the benefit of the French Mediterranean fleet as well as several divisions of French troops that had to be diverted from the continental Europe to North African trouble spots within what has hitherto been the French sphere of influence.

The high command in Moscow, with hundreds of thousands of agents dispersed in every country of the world, is at the moment ruled by Nikita Khrushchev. He is a tough-minded, ruthless person who more and more resembles Hitler in his methods.

The Communist dictator, like his Nazi predecessor, knows when to turn on the soft talk and when to use threats. There was plenty of "flexibility" in the 1930's on the part of the Western governments as Hitler took one country after the other.

THE JARGON of "compromise" is being heard again. The idea being championed in too many places in the West is that a way should be found to satisfy Khrushchev by paying him some kind of price to keep a hot war from breaking out over West Berlin. Always the talk is that somehow Krushchev must be given something, though, oddly enough, he isn't expected to give anything in return. This is called the "price of peace" and the prevention of war.

President Eisenhower is unmoved by schemes that imply a formula for retreat or surrender by the West. He finds, of course, that he must negotiate—that's the demand of the Western world and it's the way apparently to keep political opposition abroad from upsetting the existing governments in the West.

"Negotiation" does not need to mean surrender. Sooner or later public opinion in the West will be face to face with the fact that the so-called "cold war" sweeping the globe will have to be stopped.

If it isn't halted, it is only a question of time until the Soviets will overplay their hand and a hot war will be the inevitable result.

Letters To The Editor

I have been reading the letters to the editor of The Review for some time in regards to the city income tax. I will have to say that to my way of thinking the city wage tax is unfair.

I realize that East Liverpool will have to have more money if it expects to go ahead. On the other hand, I live in Chester and I pay $15 a year to have my garbage hauled away, $2 for city driver's license to help maintain our streets, besides our county and city tax.

We also keep up our own fire department. Likewise, do the people who live in the townships.

I think I am safe in saying that 65 per cent of the pottery workers who live in East Liverpool work in Chester, Newell or elsewhere in West Virginia. Yet, these towns do not get one cent of revenue out of their wages. Suppose the manufacturers would tell their employes that they would have to live in West Virginia to work there. I am sure that no one would agree to that, and rightly so. But it is just as fair as to ask people who work in East Liverpool and live in West Virginia to help pay their taxes.

I am sure that Mayor Lawrence and other city officials would not think of asking their neighbors to help pay for getting their houses painted.

I think East Liverpool is a good town and has many good people and I for one would like to see it go forward. But we in West Virginia like to keep our town nice too.

All-Ohio Team Could Do It!

This is the time when the going begins to get hot and heavy in the Ohio General Assembly.

Legislative committees are starting to sink their teeth into the hard core of the legislative proposals that are ticketed for serious consideration.

The people who are supposed to speak up or forever hold their peace are doing their best to make themselves heard.

The drum-beaters and the bush-beaters are busy, too. Their pamphlets and letters are coming into newspaper offices with every distribution of the mail.

In general, they all say the same thing:

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the pressure bloc!

Or, because it takes at least two pressure blocs to make an issue, they say:

Now is the time for all right-thinking men to come to the aid of our pressure bloc and give those other fellows the go-by!

ONE THOUGHT comes to mind over and over again as these presentations and arguments — and attacks, veiled and otherwise— come to attention.

What would happen if each legislator, each lobbyist and every Ohioan who becomes involved as a citizen were to ask himself each morning after breakfast what he thinks would be best for the statewide interests of Ohioans and be guided for the whole day by his honest answer?

Much too often, people who take sides in public issues become so obsessed with the idea of beating the other fellow that they lose sight of the fact they and the other fellow have a common interest in the welfare of the whole community.

They fall into the trap of winning at any cost for the sake of winning, forgetting what they might lose.

Occasionally someone in public authority tries to bring both sides together on common ground. Gov. DiSalle has made a notable gesture of this kind in Ohio. President Eisenhower has tried to do it in the federal government.

But the extremists are to much for them to handle. They would rather do something to hurt and punish their opponents than to help and benefit the whole state.

THERE ARE BILLS pending in the Ohio Assembly that most assuredly would be changed if it were the purpose of their backers to do only what was good for Ohio — all of Ohio.

An all-Ohio legislative team . . .

Representatives and senators dedicated to do nothing that would hurt the best interests of the state as a whole, even if it meant giving up some narrow advantage or some scheme to get even with those so-and-so's on the other side of the issue . . .

It's something to dream about.

Must Transportation Pay For Itself?

The dead end being approached by public transportation in urban areas was dramatized a few days ago when New York Central Railroad abandoned its Weehawken ferry service, leaving 5,000 commuters stranded.

Here was a basic type of metropolitan transportation that had been in continuous existence for 130 years being stopped because it could not be made to pay for itself. It pointed up the ballooning problem of transportation in the nation's biggest city, whose millions of residents and workers are losing more and more commuter services that have been starving to death because they are not used by enough patrons.

The problem is what to do with the residue of patrons who are still using the services and are wholly dependent on them. Even if everyone could drive his own car or find a place in a car pool, New York and other cities could not find room for that many automobiles; cities are in the throes of traffic and parking strangulation.

As could be expected, moves are being made to subsidize transportation, which is what municipally owned transportation does, in effect. And in the meantime it is being acknowledged reluctantly by public authority that the existence of public transportation that does not pay for itself cannot be justified.

Its demise can be postponed — and has been in New York — with loans and financial manipulations. Its problems can be eased by public authority in various ways. But the only thing in sight that can reverse the trend toward private automobiles is such a glut of vehicles that they cannot be kept in motion even under ideal conditions.

Every expressway, every move that makes traffic move more easily is like the classic paradox of making India's food shortage worse by sending food ships to India, thereby enabling more Indians to survive and beget more children to go hungry.

The survival of cities is at stake. The question whether they should save themselves by paying whatever it costs to provide transportation that cannot be justified as private enterprise is pressing.

In the old days, politicians took great delight in running for office against greedy transportation monopolies that took pennies out of the poor people's pockets. The grandsons of the utility company baiters now are coaxing the grandsons of yesterday's utility magnates to stay in business as long as the red ink lasts.

Dog Named Laddie

A collie dog named "Laddie" was killed on the Y. & O. Road Thursday by a motorist who didn't bother to stop.

The hearts of two young children were among those "broken" as the result. The youngsters had been walking with "Laddie" and were by the road when the tragedy occurred.

This is but one of several such incidents that will take place from now until next winter. In many cases, the motorist will not be at fault, but in others will be because of excessive speed and improper driving.

With good weather, dogs and children roam more and motorists find more time for taking to the highways. But as always, the burden is on the motorist. Children and dogs are intelligent in their own right, but seldom are alert enough to cope with the problem of fast-moving traffic.

And it could have been "Laddie" who had the broken heart today had the children wandered onto the highway instead of the dog.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Looks like all big motor companies will turn out small car models. Even engineers, designers and company presidents are having trouble parking big ones. Ford, GM and Chrysler executives have been late reaching policy conferences in superdooper models while midget-car competitors have been getting to their meetings through modern traffic with little difficulty.

You can identify the big car owner easily. He's the one with his sacroiliac in bad shape from backing into space between parking meters.

NO MAJOR COMPANY will go overboard for small cars, however, because of uncertainty whether Americans will completely shake off the desire for size, luxury and glamor. These questions remain:

1. Is it possible for a man to have prestige without taking up more space than he needs?
2. Is the "Keeping Up With Joneses" motif here to stay?
3. Will the American consumer ever abandon idea that the size of his auto is more important than the size of his bankroll?
4. Is there much chance that many people will decide to be thrifty at the risk of having a neighbor show up in a car that keeps him broke?

Our guess is that it will take a big switch in American way of life before the market for larger cars is seriously hurt. "Try this on for size," is a suggestion that will sound odd to most buyers for years to come. When they go into a salesroom they want more than a "fitting." But you never can tell what gasoline taxes, service-station bills and heavy traffic will do. Maybe the demitasse auto will be bought as an "extra."

This writer hit New York in same month with McCaw, on the same paper with Russel Crouse, Wes Stout, Max Anderson and Bill Chenery, all greenhorns getting their chance on the New York Globe under George T. Hughes. McCaw, then in his 20s, had come up the hard way, with training on Western and Midwest papers, and had the genuine "nose for news."

Labor Reform Bill Doubtful

By Victor Riesel

In search of privacy for a secret meeting less than 90 days ago, some 50 labor officials drove by various routes to a lodge between Omps and Paw Paw, W. Va. There, virtually in the Cacapon forest, they conferred, they matched information, they talked to several friendly senators and representatives — and came away with the certainty that there would not be any laws passed to their liking this session.

Victor Riesel

The secret 50 were the truly expert lobbyists — legislative representatives — of unions belonging to the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Dept. They met a few days before Congress itself opened officially.

After they hit the 100-mile trail back to Washington, they believed, among other things, that there would not be any anti-racketeering labor reform law passed this session.

THESE POLITICAL strategists know Congress like Churchill knows his cigar box. They reckon that the House will want a much tougher labor reform bill than the Senate will send over. The anti-racketeering bill will be stillborn amid loud wailing.

Thus there will be woefully wasted some three years of McClellan committee probing at a cost of at least 1½ million dollars. For, there will be no Senate racket-busting committee next year.

Fact is that the committee will be pummeling the mobs only for another four or five months at the most.

That's what Sen. John Kennedy told some of us in New York the other day.

"The days of the committee's active investigations are almost over," he disclosed. There will be hearings probably through July or August."

Sen. Kennedy does not believe there will be another year's extension of the probe. The racket-busters have about established the need for reform legislation—and that was the purpose of the committee.

Now we need a law, he said, and in four years or so the Senate Labor Committee should look into the matter again to see if it has worked.

THE SENATOR in a note to this column put it this way:

"It is perhaps inevitable that we would run into cross currents here as this issue of labor reform has strong pressures and biases on both sides. I would say, however, I am confident that a bill will be reported out of the full committee for consideration by the Senate after the Easter recess. I am confident it will pass.

"I likewise would be very much opposed to the adjournment of Congress this summer unless we have sent an anti-racketeering bill to the President's desk for signature! This is a must for this year."

In personal conversation, Sen. Kennedy did not feel certain that the House would think that some sort of a law was a "must."

There are other senators, with whom this columnist has spoken in the past few days, who feel that the Senate and House just won't agree.

This is backed up by some of those who made history between West Virginia's Omps and Paw Paw. Many of the labor leaders who just don't want any laws at all have not been banging the drums against the proposed laws. They have been told by their experts there won't be any new laws so why go out on the old limb in public.

Which is why the conference of the Cacapon forest really made history. It was there that it was decided for all practical purposes that labor need do nothing about the law one way or another.

Now there probably will not be a reform measure—and this will become the hottest campaign issue in 1960. Just watch!

Big Issues Lie Ahead

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Congress, having hardly worked up a good sweat over what it accomplished so far this year, has now gone home for its usual Easter breather.

Its work to date is about par for the course. It really has to start rolling when it returns in April.

By now the biggest issues of the first three months of 1959 have become pretty clear: inflation, the American economy in general, defense spending, and the Berlin crisis.

Congress has begun an extensive investigation of what makes the economy tick. It has held extensive and necessary hearings on many subjects, granted Hawaii statehood, prepared some legislation for later action, and voted on money bills.

Both houses of Congress stand firmly behind President Eisenhower on the Berlin crisis which the Soviets created. They have given him some suggestions. He hasn't said much except that he won't budge an inch on Berlin.

Nevertheless, discussion has been intense and will continue right up to and through the summit conference next summer — if there is one.

For months now Eisenhower has been hammering against the danger of inflation and seems to have singled out the steel industry for special attention. He has addressed his appeals both to steel management and to the steel workers union which soon will be asking more wages.

He has cautioned both sides — since steel prices affect the whole economy — against upsetting the applecart: labor by asking for too much money; management by using higher wages as an excuse to raise steel prices.

But while he's been warning steel to be careful, inflation has been increasing in other industries and it is questionable whether workers and management in the steel industry will stand still while prices go up around them.

This week the government's monthly report on living costs came down.

Practically every spending category except food went up. Prices for housing and most fuels went up in February. So did the cost of medical care, gasoline, and such items as toilet goods, haircuts, household appliances, TV sets, radio and movie admissions.

Another argument bound to continue: the Democrats contend that Eisenhower, in his desire to show a balanced budget after three consecutive years of deficits, wants to spend too little on defense.

The Republicans—but not all of them—rally around Eisenhower's rejoinder that he is in the best position to know what defense this country needs.

What seems the biggest illusion of 1959 is Eisenhower's insistence that the budget can and must be balanced in the way he proposed. He figures that if the country in fiscal 1960 spends only 77 billion dollars it can take in in revenue $77,100,000,000. His figuring is amazingly paper-thin.

He is not estimating that revenue figure on the basis of taxes already on the books.

He is asking Congress to get revenue up to that amount by raising 600 million more in revenue through boosting postal rates and the gasoline tax. Since Congress almost certainly won't, that leaves him about 600 million dollars shy to start with.

But the crowning blow was struck this week when tax experts working for Congress figured revenue would be at least a billion dollars below Eisenhower's 77-billion-dollar spending budget.

Couple that with the fact the Democratic-run Congress seems bent on voting more money than Eisenhower asked for in his budget — on the grounds that he did not ask for enough—and his budget-balancing looks long gone.

But, like the Berlin crisis, the economy, and inflation, this argument over the budget will go on and on.

Down Through The Years

Brush Fire Wars

By David Lawrence

Cold War Pressure Felt Everywhere

The war goes on despite the talk of summit conferences.

The war is on in the Atlantic, where Russian trawlers recently cut the most important cables of confidential communication between the United States and Europe. What they did once, they can do again when the exigencies of war demand it.

David Lawrence

The war is on in Iraq, where the Communists have just conquered a country which used to be an ally of the West but which now withdraws from the alliance with Britain, Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and the United States and places itself at the service of Moscow.

The war is on along the borders of Turkey, where the Soviets recently lured an unarmed American transport plane across the line by false signals during bad weather and then shot down the plane, killing the 17 Americans aboard.

The war is on in the Far East, where the Red Chinese, who are supplied with arms and munitions by the Soviets, keep up a constant bombardment that threatens Formosa and the military position of the United States in the Pacific.

The war is on in Cuba, Boliva, Venezuela, and other Latin American countries, where Communist money and influence are at work to cause friction with the United States.

THE WAR is on in the Philippines, where Communists have managed to get enough political influence to prod the government to engage in more and more controversies and quarrels with the United States.

The war is on inside the Western democracies, where Communists, working through stooges—many of them unwitting, on the so-called "liberal" side—manage to make political trouble for the existing administrations.

The Communist influence in France, for instance, remains a threat. The Communist alliances with certain "liberal" groups in Britain continually cause some of the latter to play the Communist game.

The pressure to suspend nuclear tests is steadily applied through worldwide propaganda by the Communists. They never intend to keep their end of any agreement but hope to stop America's scientific experiments.

In all the Western countries a psychology of fear of the Communist threat in Berlin has given impetus to a peace-at-any-price sentiment. The idea seems to be that the only means of assuring peace is to give the Soviets their way about West Berlin. This is being resisted in Washington and inside the governments of Britain, France and West Germany but, again and again, the pressure comes for some form of "compromise" that really means surrender.

THE SOVIETS, on the other hand, give nothing and do not understand the word "compromise." They rejoice over the talk in the West about "flexibility" or "free zones," because this means to them the beginning of a slow but steady process of one-sided concessions to the Communists.

The Middle Eastern campaign to date has been a big success for the Communists. They started out to win Nasser and they surrounded him with enough Communists to keep him hostile to the West. Now, with the Nasser ambition to control all the Middle East thwarted by the Communist conquest of Iraq, it is natural that the Egyptian president should feel miffed.

He denounces the Communists but he is beholden to them nevertheless and couldn't really cut himself off from Moscow even if he wished to do so. The Communist influence inside Egypt is extensive. It supports from Cairo the Alberian rebel movement and operates along the North African coast to Morocco.

All this is euphemistically called the "cold war" but it is hot enough to stir up rebellions and cause NATO to lose the benefit of the French Mediterranean fleet as well as several divisions of French troops that had to be diverted from the continental Europe to North African trouble spots within what has hitherto been the French sphere of influence.

The high command in Moscow, with hundreds of thousands of agents dispersed in every country of the world, is at the moment ruled by Nikita Khrushchev. He is a tough-minded, ruthless person who more and more resembles Hitler in his methods.

The Communist dictator, like his Nazi predecessor, knows when to turn on the soft talk and when to use threats. There was plenty of "flexibility" in the 1930's on the part of the Western governments as Hitler took one country after the other.

THE JARGON of "compromise" is being heard again. The idea being championed in too many places in the West is that a way should be found to satisfy Khrushchev by paying him some kind of price to keep a hot war from breaking out over West Berlin. Always the talk is that somehow Krushchev must be given something, though, oddly enough, he isn't expected to give anything in return. This is called the "price of peace" and the prevention of war.

President Eisenhower is unmoved by schemes that imply a formula for retreat or surrender by the West. He finds, of course, that he must negotiate—that's the demand of the Western world and it's the way apparently to keep political opposition abroad from upsetting the existing governments in the West.

"Negotiation" does not need to mean surrender. Sooner or later public opinion in the West will be face to face with the fact that the so-called "cold war" sweeping the globe will have to be stopped.

If it isn't halted, it is only a question of time until the Soviets will overplay their hand and a hot war will be the inevitable result.

Chosen As Social Worker

Diane Vodrey To Serve In Germany 2 Months

Diane Vodrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Vodrey of Elysian Way, has been selected as one of 12 from the United States to spend two months in Germany this summer as an exchange social worker and student.

Miss Vodrey will make the trip under a program set up by Henry Ollendorf of Cleveland, director of the Neighborhood Settlement Association. Ollendorf made the arrangements with the German government while he was teaching one summer at the University of Hamburg. Students from Germany came here to study in universities and colleges and to work with various social agencies.

The first program was set up so that 6 exchange students made the trip each year but due to financial problems, 12 now make the trip every 2 years.

Miss Vodrey made application at Cleveland. She was recommended by Mrs. Russell Smith of Dairy Ln.

The field of those selected is narrowed down rapidly due to the requirements. The students must be between 20 and 30. Then three each are selected from graduates, undergraduates and professional workers.

Miss Vodrey is completing her sophomore year at Wilson College at Chambersburg, Pa. She plans to enter the social field. She served last summer as a counselor and swimming instructor at a camp in New Hampshire. She also has served as a counselor at camps in the East Liverpool area.

Miss Vodrey will meet with the group at Cleveland before going to Washington for a two - day orientation period with the State Department. They are scheduled to sail June 11 from New York City.

They then will be guests of the German government for two more days of orientation.

Miss Vodrey and the others will be housed in selected homes of citizens at Hamburg. She will engage in group work with summer camps and youth settlements and study.

Miss Vodrey is a 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

The group will leave Europe Aug. 22 for the return trip.

MISS DIANE VODREY
One Of 12 Exchange Students.

Motorist To Face Charge In Mishap

A 22 - year - old East End motorist is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court today on charges of failure to yield the right - of-way filed by police as the aftermath of a collision Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at Globe and Walters Sts.

Harold D. Johnston, 1623 Ohio Ave., was cited after a collision that damaged his 1955 sedan and a 1952 two - door sedan driven by Evelyn Ross, 739 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville. Johnston was driving south on Walters and the woman was proceeding east on Globe, police said.

Meanwhile, Robert P. Davies, 31, of 443 Thompson Ave., told police Thursday his 1956 auto was damaged in a collision Wednesday at 11 p. m. at E. 5th and Sugar Sts. Davies said his auto was hit in the rear as he attempted a left turn onto Sugar from E. 5th. The driver of the other car was not listed.

Rotarians At Midland Will Entertain Wives

Wives of members of the Midland Rotary Club will be guests for a dinner and dance Wednesday at 6:45 p. m. at the Country Club for the quarterly Rotary Ann meeting, David Schwerha, president, said.

About 55 will attend. Jules Jacob will be program chairman. The Leo Curto combo will play for dancing. Cards also will be a diversion.

Members met for dinner Thursday evening at Larry's Restaurant. Instead of the usual program, due to Holy Thursday, members later attended church services.

2 Boys Indicted

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hamilton County Grand Jury indicted two 16-year-old boys Thursday on charges of first degree murder and armed robbery. Huston Nelson, and Charles E. Bell, are accused of shooting to death Mrs. Bernice K. Wilson, 61, in a robbery of her drugstore Feb. 9.

$10 Fine Forgiven For Crash Driver

The driver of a tractor - trailer rig which crashed into the rear of a halted auto Thursday on Dresden Ave. at Moore St. was given a suspended $10 fine a short time later when he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court on a charge of driving an unsafe vehicle.

William Lloyd Kay, 32, of Hebron was cited by police after the rig he was driving demolished the rear of a 1957 four - door sedan operated by C. Edward Starks, 29, of Erie, who had halted in the traffic lane for a signal at Dresden and E. 9th St., police said. The crash was timed at 9:40 a. m.

Kay was driving a tractor - trailer owned by Leslie J. Strawn, Inc., of Canton, police said. He told police he was unable to halt in time because his air brakes failed. Judge George L. Brokaw fined Kay $10 and $6 costs, but suspended the $10 on payment of costs.

Mayor Fines Driver, Another Forfeits $16

SALINEVILLE — Glenn George, 29, of Mechanicstown R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs Thursday night by Mayor Karl Lindner on a charge of driving left of center. He was cited Monday on Route 644 by Police Chief Mellott.

Jerry H. Morrow, 33, of Hanoverton forfeited $16 bond when he failed to appear for a hearing on a charge of reckless operation for which he was arrested March 14 by Chief Mellott on W. Main St.

Rep. Moore To Attend Conference At Geneva

Rep. Arch A. Moore of Moundsville, congressman for the First West Virginia District, will leave Wednesday for Geneva, Switzerland, to attend the annual meeting of the 20 - nation Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration.

Moore and Rep. Francis Walters of Pennsylvania, are members of Congress' Joint Committee on Immigration and Nationality. They will fly to Rome for preliminary investigations on the work of ICEM.

Moore explained the organization's basic activities are the transport of people "for whom existing living conditions are inadequate to underpopulated areas where the particular skills are needed." Since 1952 ICEM has arranged transport of almost 400,000, including 100,000 Hungarians since the 1956 revolt there.

Fund Group Schedules Meeting Monday Night

The annual membership meeting of the Community Fund Association will be held Monday night at 7:30 at the YMCA when a complete report on the current campaign will be made and a slate of candidates for directors will be submitted.

James Reaney, chairman of the election committee, will present the slate for directors. Winston A. Porter, president, will preside.

All contributors to the 1958-59 campaign are invited to attend, Porter said.

Chosen As Social Worker

Diane Vodrey To Serve In Germany 2 Months

Diane Vodrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Vodrey of Elysian Way, has been selected as one of 12 from the United States to spend two months in Germany this summer as an exchange social worker and student.

Miss Vodrey will make the trip under a program set up by Henry Ollendorf of Cleveland, director of the Neighborhood Settlement Association. Ollendorf made the arrangements with the German government while he was teaching one summer at the University of Hamburg. Students from Germany came here to study in universities and colleges and to work with various social agencies.

The first program was set up so that 6 exchange students made the trip each year but due to financial problems, 12 now make the trip every 2 years.

Miss Vodrey made application at Cleveland. She was recommended by Mrs. Russell Smith of Dairy Ln.

The field of those selected is narrowed down rapidly due to the requirements. The students must be between 20 and 30. Then three each are selected from graduates, undergraduates and professional workers.

Miss Vodrey is completing her sophomore year at Wilson College at Chambersburg, Pa. She plans to enter the social field. She served last summer as a counselor and swimming instructor at a camp in New Hampshire. She also has served as a counselor at camps in the East Liverpool area.

Miss Vodrey will meet with the group at Cleveland before going to Washington for a two - day orientation period with the State Department. They are scheduled to sail June 11 from New York City.

They then will be guests of the German government for two more days of orientation.

Miss Vodrey and the others will be housed in selected homes of citizens at Hamburg. She will engage in group work with summer camps and youth settlements and study.

Miss Vodrey is a 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

The group will leave Europe Aug. 22 for the return trip.

MISS DIANE VODREY
One Of 12 Exchange Students.

Cancer Drive Leaders Map Fund Campaign

LISBON — About 15 volunteer workers attended a luncheon at the Hotel Wick Thursday mapping the annual Cancer Fund Drive in Columbiana County starting next Wednesday.

K. P. Reiser of Cleveland, a representative of the American Cancer Society, was speaker. He was introduced by Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, who is serving as head of the drive for the second year.

Hunston said about $16,000 was collected in the county last year, with some 60 per cent used in state and local work of Cancer Society units. Mrs. Jayne Calhoun of Lisbon is president of the county unit.

Bugging Case Nearing Jury

A Hancock County Circuit Court jury was expected to begin deliberations this afternoon in Mrs. Adeline Roach's $50,000 suit against William W. Harper, charging invasion of privacy through use of a secret listening device installed in her apartment at Chester.

Closing arguments began at 10 a. m. Twenty - six witnesses had testified before the defense rested at 2:45 p. m. Thursday. The trial began Monday.

The case is a rehearing of the alleged "bugging" charged by Mrs. Roach against Harper, a Chester school teacher and realtor. The suit was overruled a year ago in Hancock County court, but the West Virginia Supreme Court sent it back to the lower court at New Cumberland.

James A. Wallace of the Peoples Finance Co. office in Chester testified yesterday that a listening device was found in a cinder block in his part of the building but added that it never was connected.

The defendant declared Wednesday he had never placed such a device in the apartment building when it was erected. The issue of the alleged device in the finance office was not discussed in previous testimony by Harper.

The jury also heard testimony yesterday of Ralph Villers, who services radio equipment in cruisers of the Hancock County sheriff's office. Villars testified that the equipment found in the loan company, if properly connected, could have been used as a listening or a communications device.

He also testified that the instrument could have been used to reproduce sounds on a tape recorder.

Harper explained earlier in the trial that thermostats and electrical receptables were installed in the building in 1946, and an intercall system was hooked up between his office and two adjoining stores "but was seldom used."

Other witnesses yesterday included Mrs. Bert Williams, a cleaning woman for Harper, who said she never saw a tape recorder or heard any voices during her work on Tuesdays, and Mrs. Herbert Myers and Harvey Pickens, character witnesses for the defendant.

Cancer Drive Leaders Map Fund Campaign

LISBON — About 15 volunteer workers attended a luncheon at the Hotel Wick Thursday mapping the annual Cancer Fund Drive in Columbiana County starting next Wednesday.

K. P. Reiser of Cleveland, a representative of the American Cancer Society, was speaker. He was introduced by Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, who is serving as head of the drive for the second year.

Hunston said about $16,000 was collected in the county last year, with some 60 per cent used in state and local work of Cancer Society units. Mrs. Jayne Calhoun of Lisbon is president of the county unit.

Bugging Case Nearing Jury

A Hancock County Circuit Court jury was expected to begin deliberations this afternoon in Mrs. Adeline Roach's $50,000 suit against William W. Harper, charging invasion of privacy through use of a secret listening device installed in her apartment at Chester.

Closing arguments began at 10 a. m. Twenty - six witnesses had testified before the defense rested at 2:45 p. m. Thursday. The trial began Monday.

The case is a rehearing of the alleged "bugging" charged by Mrs. Roach against Harper, a Chester school teacher and realtor. The suit was overruled a year ago in Hancock County court, but the West Virginia Supreme Court sent it back to the lower court at New Cumberland.

James A. Wallace of the Peoples Finance Co. office in Chester testified yesterday that a listening device was found in a cinder block in his part of the building but added that it never was connected.

The defendant declared Wednesday he had never placed such a device in the apartment building when it was erected. The issue of the alleged device in the finance office was not discussed in previous testimony by Harper.

The jury also heard testimony yesterday of Ralph Villers, who services radio equipment in cruisers of the Hancock County sheriff's office. Villars testified that the equipment found in the loan company, if properly connected, could have been used as a listening or a communications device.

He also testified that the instrument could have been used to reproduce sounds on a tape recorder.

Harper explained earlier in the trial that thermostats and electrical receptables were installed in the building in 1946, and an intercall system was hooked up between his office and two adjoining stores "but was seldom used."

Other witnesses yesterday included Mrs. Bert Williams, a cleaning woman for Harper, who said she never saw a tape recorder or heard any voices during her work on Tuesdays, and Mrs. Herbert Myers and Harvey Pickens, character witnesses for the defendant.

Review Offered On Terms Initiative And Referendum

people. But it also can be used to propose an ordinance repealing legislation which Council has enacted.

In 1958, the initiative procedure was the only avenue open to the group which sought successfully to repeal the tax. The tax legislation enacted then contained an emergency clause under which it went into immediate effect and state law says no referendum can be allowed on an ordinance containing an emergency clause.

That left only initiative procedure. Opponents of the tax successfully circulated petitions to get a ballot place for an ordinance repealing the legislation.

But, because of the procedure laid down in state law, the city was allowed to collect the tax pending the decision at the polls. The tax went into effect May 1. A few weeks later the initiative petitions were filed.

Voters repealed the tax at the Nov. 4 general election. The action became official about 10 days later when the County Election Board formally certified the result of the general election.

With all that history in mind, Council decided to draft its new tax legislation in a form that would permit the public to force a vote — if it wished — and assuring that the tax would not be collected, meanwhile.

That's why, in the present legislative process, Council will consider the tax at three separate readings. The ordinance does not contain an emergency clause, which means the way is left open for a referendum.

Considering the legislation at three meetings a week apart also allows plenty of time for full and free debate on the pros and cons of the issue by the general public and the councilmen themselves.

But Council's changed approach to the tax question may be nullified by the opposition's altered strategy.

A YEAR AGO, the opponents centered their arguments on the fact that the tax legislation contained an emergency clause, barring a referendum and allowing the city to collect the money between May and November.

Their argument was, in effect: "We don't oppose the tax so much as the way in which it was passed —at a single reading and with an 'emergency' clause. If Council had left the way open for a referendum, a lot of the people who oppose it on principle would be silent."

But that argument has been ditched, now that Council is moving ahead with passage of the ordinance in the way in which the opponents said it should have been enacted in 1958.

Now the opposition argument centers on the fact that more than 5,000 people voted against the tax last November, while fewer than 4,000 supported it. There has been no mention of the fact that the legislation has no emergency clause and that it is being considered at three separate meetings.

The opposition's main argument now, in effect, is: "A clear majority of the voters rejected this tax in November. Now Council plans to enact it again. The issue was settled at the polls, so Council is thwarting the will of the majority by deciding to enact the tax again."

Council's position, of course, is that it is attempting to enact the tax in the way in which the opponents insisted it should have been handled last year. However, that point has been shoved aside in the argument to date over renewal of the tax.

THE FACT the present ordinance contains no emergency clause allows opponents two shots at seeking repeal.

First, they have 30 days after final enactment of the legislation to circulate a petition seeking a referendum.

But if they skip the referendum procedure, the 30 days after the ordinance becomes law can be used to circulate a petition initiating legislation to repeal the tax measure.

Thus the opponents would have 60 days after enactment to seek a test at the polls. In the first 30 days, they could seek a referendum. In the 30 days after the effective date, they could circulate an initiative petition.

However, the referendum procedure is expected to be used for the test, as it alone would hold up collection of the tax pending a decision at the polls.

However, the law does not permit the referendum petition to be placed in circulation until the ordinance has been passed and approved by the mayor. In the eyes of the law there is no ordinance until Council has approved it finally and the mayor has affixed his signature. No ordinance, no referendum, the law says in effect.

In the referendum procedure, the opponents would file a certified copy of the questioned ordinance with the city auditor's office, along with official notice of intent to circulate a petition. The group then would have 30 days in which to circulate its petitions and obtain the required number of signatures.

When the referendum petitions are filed with the auditor, the law requires him to hold them at least 10 days to determine if they carry a sufficient number of valid signatures to force a vote. He may certify his findings to the Election Board after 10 days, but the proposal must be turned over to the board in any event not less than 90 days before the general election.

INITIATIVE and referendum—and the recall—are the basic safeguards of citizens' rights written into the constitutions of all Democratic societies.

The intent is that the public can put to a vote a law it believes should be enacted—even if the local legislative authority refuses to act—or it can force a test at the polls on any legislation which a segment of the population feels should be repealed.

Although initiative and referendum generally are not used on routine legislative matters, the power is there in the law any time the public wishes to use it.

Technically, if a lone voter thinks the city should have an ordinance forbidding chickens to cross the road the law gives him the right to circulate a petition in an effort to get it onto the ballot.

Once he has enough signatures, the public bears the expense of printing the ballots and all the other costly election procedure required to get a decision at the polls.

Conversely, if the voter questions an ordinance his Council has enacted, he has the right to circulate a petition for a referendum in which all the qualified voters will have an opportunity to mark their ballots "yes" or "no."

There's one way in which Council could enact an income tax that would go to a vote of the people, but it's unlikely such procedure ever would be tried.

State law allows a Council to levy an income tax of up to 1 per cent without a vote of the people. But if Council wanted to enact a measure that would go direct to a vote of the people, it could fix a rate of 1.1 per cent, for instance. Because the rate exceeded the 1 per cent limit, it automatically would go into the ballot for a decision.

But a 1.1 per cent rate is five-tenths of one per cent more than the tax that was in effect in 1958 and seven-tenths of one per cent more than the tax Council proposes now.

Young Driver Loses Permit After Pursuit

A 19 - year - old LaCroft motorist lost his operator's permit for 15 days today in Municipal Court and was fined $10 and costs on each of two other charges filed by police in a case Thursday night that included a ring - around - the rosy game in an auto on the "super - road" and a pursuit in which he was nabbed by a cruiser.

Otto Thomas Jenkins was making his second appearance before Judge George L. Brokaw on a reckless driving charge.

"If you come back here again on such a charge, I will suspend your license for six months or a year," the judge warned Jenkins. "I'm almost inclined to do it now. We won't put up with this sort of thing."

Patrolman Paul Carter, who pursued and nabbed Jenkins about 10:30 in Jackson Square, said it all started when the youth drove his car in circles three or four times on the "super - road" at the intersection of W. 8th St., Jefferson St. and Webber Way.

In attempting to escape the cruiser that was pursuing him, Jenkins drove at 50 miles an hour through Rural Ln. — a 20-mile zone — and nearly upset his auto when he turned left out of the alley onto Jackson St., the officer testified.

After circling his auto, Jenkins drove up Jefferson St. "at a high rate of speed" to 7th St., then to Persimmon Alley, Carter reported. He turned left into Rural Ln., crossed the Jefferson St. intersection without stopping and then turned left onto Jackson St., he added.

Jenkins drew the $10 fines on charges of reckless driving and speeding. The judge indicated the fines were comparatively light because of the license suspension. In response to a question from the judge, Jenkins admitted he was in court a few months ago on a reckless driving charge in which it was alleged that gravel was thrown from the wheels of his car onto pedestrians in LaCroft.

Lions At Midland Will Give Cagers Banquet, Trophy

The Midland Lions Club will present a trophy to Lincoln High School basketball team at a banquet for players and coaches April 9 at Deramo's Restaurant, Emeric Davis, president, announced.

Louis Glumac will be program chairman. Members met for dinner Thursday evening at Deramo's and a program was not held due to Holy Thursday. Several members attended church services afterwards.

Plans for a zone party to be held April 30 at 6:30 p. m. at the Hotel Barr at Aliquippa, for the six zone clubs, were made last night at a meeting at the Chippewa Township Lions Club near Beaver Falls.

Davis and Albert Masters, secretary, attended. Plans were also discussed for a food fair at Baden the first week of June.

A board meeting will be held Thursday at Deramo's.

would be requested to make an application for federal aid. A representative of the Army Corps of Engineers would survey the watershed and determine if flood control aid is warranted.

The delegation yesterday indicated the proposed construction of a single dam would be close to the city limits, and would probably necessitate relocation of some homes and possible a part of 3rd St. Ext.

It was suggested that the creek bed be deepened, and some retaining walls be erected to reduce the flooding of the stream in heavy storms.

Dr. Watkins and Stevens plan to report on the delegation's visit and recommendations at the next meeting of Council Wednesday night.

Crucifixion

Soldiers stand guard over the tomb for the priests fear him even in death. What do they fear? That he will arise from the dead?

His followers, the 12—no, 11—who were his close disciples, have disappeared. Scattered to the four winds. Now I wish I had taken Peter more seriously two days ago when we talked of this man and his teachings. Would that I had given him both ears! Now it is too late.

Or is it? Is it ever too late? If Jesus is the Son of God then he will find some way to show me, some way to answer these questions that burn within me.

But is he the Son of God?

Part of me says no. At Golgotha, a man near me, one of the mockers, shouted at Jesus: "If you are the Son of God, why do you not save yourself as you claim to have saved others?" Indeed, I asked myself the same question. Why did he not save himself?

Another part of me says yes, he is the Son of God. Else how does one explain the unearthly spell that surrounds him and affects men's minds?

How does one explain the miracles that sincere and honest men say they have seen him perform? Why does he arouse these questions in me?

PETER TOLD me that when I have faith, I shall know. But how shall I have faith unless I know? Others have had signs. Peter, the disciples, even my unbelieving friend Titus. Why have I had no sign?

I think that tomorrow I shall go out to the tomb. If there is to be a sign for me, my father, it now can only be there that it will be given, if not tomorrow then the next day or the next. I do not know what the sign will be. But I shall be there, watching and waiting, waiting.

Review Offered On Terms Initiative And Referendum

people. But it also can be used to propose an ordinance repealing legislation which Council has enacted.

In 1958, the initiative procedure was the only avenue open to the group which sought successfully to repeal the tax. The tax legislation enacted then contained an emergency clause under which it went into immediate effect and state law says no referendum can be allowed on an ordinance containing an emergency clause.

That left only initiative procedure. Opponents of the tax successfully circulated petitions to get a ballot place for an ordinance repealing the legislation.

But, because of the procedure laid down in state law, the city was allowed to collect the tax pending the decision at the polls. The tax went into effect May 1. A few weeks later the initiative petitions were filed.

Voters repealed the tax at the Nov. 4 general election. The action became official about 10 days later when the County Election Board formally certified the result of the general election.

With all that history in mind, Council decided to draft its new tax legislation in a form that would permit the public to force a vote — if it wished — and assuring that the tax would not be collected, meanwhile.

That's why, in the present legislative process, Council will consider the tax at three separate readings. The ordinance does not contain an emergency clause, which means the way is left open for a referendum.

Considering the legislation at three meetings a week apart also allows plenty of time for full and free debate on the pros and cons of the issue by the general public and the councilmen themselves.

But Council's changed approach to the tax question may be nullified by the opposition's altered strategy.

A YEAR AGO, the opponents centered their arguments on the fact that the tax legislation contained an emergency clause, barring a referendum and allowing the city to collect the money between May and November.

Their argument was, in effect: "We don't oppose the tax so much as the way in which it was passed —at a single reading and with an 'emergency' clause. If Council had left the way open for a referendum, a lot of the people who oppose it on principle would be silent."

But that argument has been ditched, now that Council is moving ahead with passage of the ordinance in the way in which the opponents said it should have been enacted in 1958.

Now the opposition argument centers on the fact that more than 5,000 people voted against the tax last November, while fewer than 4,000 supported it. There has been no mention of the fact that the legislation has no emergency clause and that it is being considered at three separate meetings.

The opposition's main argument now, in effect, is: "A clear majority of the voters rejected this tax in November. Now Council plans to enact it again. The issue was settled at the polls, so Council is thwarting the will of the majority by deciding to enact the tax again."

Council's position, of course, is that it is attempting to enact the tax in the way in which the opponents insisted it should have been handled last year. However, that point has been shoved aside in the argument to date over renewal of the tax.

THE FACT the present ordinance contains no emergency clause allows opponents two shots at seeking repeal.

First, they have 30 days after final enactment of the legislation to circulate a petition seeking a referendum.

But if they skip the referendum procedure, the 30 days after the ordinance becomes law can be used to circulate a petition initiating legislation to repeal the tax measure.

Thus the opponents would have 60 days after enactment to seek a test at the polls. In the first 30 days, they could seek a referendum. In the 30 days after the effective date, they could circulate an initiative petition.

However, the referendum procedure is expected to be used for the test, as it alone would hold up collection of the tax pending a decision at the polls.

However, the law does not permit the referendum petition to be placed in circulation until the ordinance has been passed and approved by the mayor. In the eyes of the law there is no ordinance until Council has approved it finally and the mayor has affixed his signature. No ordinance, no referendum, the law says in effect.

In the referendum procedure, the opponents would file a certified copy of the questioned ordinance with the city auditor's office, along with official notice of intent to circulate a petition. The group then would have 30 days in which to circulate its petitions and obtain the required number of signatures.

When the referendum petitions are filed with the auditor, the law requires him to hold them at least 10 days to determine if they carry a sufficient number of valid signatures to force a vote. He may certify his findings to the Election Board after 10 days, but the proposal must be turned over to the board in any event not less than 90 days before the general election.

INITIATIVE and referendum—and the recall—are the basic safeguards of citizens' rights written into the constitutions of all Democratic societies.

The intent is that the public can put to a vote a law it believes should be enacted—even if the local legislative authority refuses to act—or it can force a test at the polls on any legislation which a segment of the population feels should be repealed.

Although initiative and referendum generally are not used on routine legislative matters, the power is there in the law any time the public wishes to use it.

Technically, if a lone voter thinks the city should have an ordinance forbidding chickens to cross the road the law gives him the right to circulate a petition in an effort to get it onto the ballot.

Once he has enough signatures, the public bears the expense of printing the ballots and all the other costly election procedure required to get a decision at the polls.

Conversely, if the voter questions an ordinance his Council has enacted, he has the right to circulate a petition for a referendum in which all the qualified voters will have an opportunity to mark their ballots "yes" or "no."

There's one way in which Council could enact an income tax that would go to a vote of the people, but it's unlikely such procedure ever would be tried.

State law allows a Council to levy an income tax of up to 1 per cent without a vote of the people. But if Council wanted to enact a measure that would go direct to a vote of the people, it could fix a rate of 1.1 per cent, for instance. Because the rate exceeded the 1 per cent limit, it automatically would go into the ballot for a decision.

But a 1.1 per cent rate is five-tenths of one per cent more than the tax that was in effect in 1958 and seven-tenths of one per cent more than the tax Council proposes now.

Young Driver Loses Permit After Pursuit

A 19 - year - old LaCroft motorist lost his operator's permit for 15 days today in Municipal Court and was fined $10 and costs on each of two other charges filed by police in a case Thursday night that included a ring - around - the rosy game in an auto on the "super - road" and a pursuit in which he was nabbed by a cruiser.

Otto Thomas Jenkins was making his second appearance before Judge George L. Brokaw on a reckless driving charge.

"If you come back here again on such a charge, I will suspend your license for six months or a year," the judge warned Jenkins. "I'm almost inclined to do it now. We won't put up with this sort of thing."

Patrolman Paul Carter, who pursued and nabbed Jenkins about 10:30 in Jackson Square, said it all started when the youth drove his car in circles three or four times on the "super - road" at the intersection of W. 8th St., Jefferson St. and Webber Way.

In attempting to escape the cruiser that was pursuing him, Jenkins drove at 50 miles an hour through Rural Ln. — a 20-mile zone — and nearly upset his auto when he turned left out of the alley onto Jackson St., the officer testified.

After circling his auto, Jenkins drove up Jefferson St. "at a high rate of speed" to 7th St., then to Persimmon Alley, Carter reported. He turned left into Rural Ln., crossed the Jefferson St. intersection without stopping and then turned left onto Jackson St., he added.

Jenkins drew the $10 fines on charges of reckless driving and speeding. The judge indicated the fines were comparatively light because of the license suspension. In response to a question from the judge, Jenkins admitted he was in court a few months ago on a reckless driving charge in which it was alleged that gravel was thrown from the wheels of his car onto pedestrians in LaCroft.

Lions At Midland Will Give Cagers Banquet, Trophy

The Midland Lions Club will present a trophy to Lincoln High School basketball team at a banquet for players and coaches April 9 at Deramo's Restaurant, Emeric Davis, president, announced.

Louis Glumac will be program chairman. Members met for dinner Thursday evening at Deramo's and a program was not held due to Holy Thursday. Several members attended church services afterwards.

Plans for a zone party to be held April 30 at 6:30 p. m. at the Hotel Barr at Aliquippa, for the six zone clubs, were made last night at a meeting at the Chippewa Township Lions Club near Beaver Falls.

Davis and Albert Masters, secretary, attended. Plans were also discussed for a food fair at Baden the first week of June.

A board meeting will be held Thursday at Deramo's.

would be requested to make an application for federal aid. A representative of the Army Corps of Engineers would survey the watershed and determine if flood control aid is warranted.

The delegation yesterday indicated the proposed construction of a single dam would be close to the city limits, and would probably necessitate relocation of some homes and possible a part of 3rd St. Ext.

It was suggested that the creek bed be deepened, and some retaining walls be erected to reduce the flooding of the stream in heavy storms.

Health Officials Slate First Class On Prenatal Care

LISBON — The Columbiana County Health Department will hold its first class in prenatal instruction Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Health Department office in the Courthouse.

Because of the limited space and the desirability of individual instruction, the first classes will be limited to not more than 15 women expecting their first babies. More suitable quarters may be found for future courses, making restrictions unnecessary, the department said.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, said there have been 11 registrations to date so several more can be accepted if registrants will call the Health Department or Mrs. Leonard McDaniel. There is no fee.

The classes will cover subjects relating to pregnancy, hospital experience, care of the baby and the responsibilities of parenthood. The Welcome Wagon Club of Lisbon will serve as hostesses and serve refreshments.

The course will be conducted by Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, assisted by area hospital personnel.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'm fed up to here with all the garbage dished out in magazines, newspapers and whatever you choose to look on "How To Hold Your Woman"?

I'm sick of gushy articles suggesting that the "smart" wife never lets her husband see her looking less than her best.

A pox on the idiots who picture the ideal American wife as a super-human creature who wears a fixed smile even though bills are unpaid, her mother-in-law is en route and her infant is delirious with fever.

Let's face it. Most men are slobs around the house. Yet I've never seen a single line published suggesting that a husband shave on weekends, comb his hair, or wear freshly pressed slacks to please his wife.

My old man slops around the house in army pants that fit him 15 years ago. His "favorite" sweater is filled with moth holes.

If a husband can lose interest in his wife because she waddles around without a girdle or sleeps in a hairnet, why can't a wife lose interest in a husband who has gained 30 pounds?

It's about time someone recognized the monster has two heads. —20-20 VISION.

Dear 20-20: In behalf of the distaff side, thank you. There's great deal in what you have said and I applaud you for saying it so succinctly.

Both Out Of Line

Dear Ann Landers: I had five dates with a soldier who was stationed in a nearby city. I met him in the home of a friend and he seemed very nice. When he learned he was going to Japan he asked if I would write to him.

I said "yes" but made it plain I wasn't interested in getting serious. He said he didn't want to get serious either. I'm 19 and he is 22.

At first I heard from him once every 10 days, then his letters started to come twice a week. Although I tried to keep my letters friendly, yet casual, his letters became warmer and warmer. A month ago he proposed marriage "in a couple years."

I decided he was way out of line, so I sent him all his letters in one large envelope with a note asking him not to write to me any more.

Now I think I made a mistake. I miss not hearing from him. I find myself thinking of him all the time. He won't be home for five months. What shall I do?—ACTED IN HASTE.

Dear Acted: That makes two of you who were "out of line." You should have known he was lonesome and the distance intensified his feelings. There was no need to give him the ax and then twist the handle.

Since you failed to get a letter from his commanding officer saying he has committed suicide, or a tear-drenched plea begging you to reconsider, why don't you write a letter of apology and admit you acted in haste?

Let him know you'd like to hear from him again but to please soft-pedal the love-and-marriage talk until he can come home and become better acquainted.

-:-

Accept Gratefully

Dear Ann: Recently a close friend passed away. She owned a beautiful silver tea service which I always admired.

A few weeks before her death, in the presence of her two sisters, she said, "Kay I want you to have this silver service when I die. You've always been so fond of it."

Last week, one of her sisters phoned me to come get the service. It's very expensive and I'm uncomfortable about accepting it. I also have a feeling the other sister would like it.

May I hear from you? I will do as you say.—K.L.

Dear Kay: Phone both sisters and thank them for their thoughtfulness. Tell them the service will be a reminder of the pleasant hours spent with their sister.

Since the woman expressed the wish that you have the silver service in the presence of both sisters, accept it graciously and forget that it's expensive.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

IN BERMUDA VISIT. Miss Alicia M. Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Leland Thompson of Park Blvd., is shown on an auxiliary cycle, the favorite mode of transportation for the thousands of college and prep school students in Bermuda for "College Weeks." A student of the Shipley School of Bryn Mawr, Pa., she visited the island with a group of classmates. She will arrive home tonight for the spring vacation.

Coast Guard Unit Sets Examination Of New Members

An examination for provisional members was set for April 29 at a meeting of Flotilla 7 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary Wednesday night at the Foremen's Club on Harvey Ave.

Capt. R. W. Parkins of McKeesport will conduct the exam. Victor Carosiello, commander, announced meetings will be held weekly for the next month to make up for time lost at a meeting canceled because of bad weather.

The meetings will be held next Wednesday and April 15, 22, and 29. Carosiello reminded the trainees that all book work must be completed before the examination.

Nile Blackmore, assistant training officer, gave instruction to new members on basic seamanship. Paul Rowland, training officer, was instructor for inspector examiners. He conducted a true and false session on various questions prospective examiners will be asked.

Inspector examiners are qualified to conduct official inspection of boats as to safety equipment.

Carosiello announced that the national auxiliary conference will be held May 6-9 at the Hotel Astor in New York City. The 20th anniversary of the organization will be celebrated. The slogan is "New York In May for CGA." Several local members plan to attend.

The yak is an extremely useful animal to the natives of Tibet. Looking rather like a huge, untidy bison with its shaggy, dark brown coat which is often long enough to trail on the ground, the yak is used as a work animal, for milk, butter, meat and leather.

Car Fumes Hospitalize 31 Pupils, 41 Advisers

KANAB, Utah (AP) — Carbon monoxide poisoning hospitalized 31 Santa Barbara, Calif., high school students and 41 adult advisers for four hours Thursday in this southwestern Utah community.

The group, members of the Calvary Baptist church in Santa Barbara, was returning by bus after a tour of the church's Navajo missions in northern Arizona.

Bus driver Walter McCully turned on the heater. Officers said it apparently sucked the exhaust fumes into the vehicle.

A Model Life

Everywhere That Mother Goes Her Lamb Is Sure to Follow

WAITING for hair to dry at the beauty parlor, Mrs. Dugan amuses fellow model.

WHEN IT COMES to fashion, both high and low, the family of John J. Dugan of Evanston, Ill., are odds-on favorites with many of Chicago's commercial and advertising studios.

A graduate of Hunter College in New York, Ann Lee Dugan has been modeling high fashion, acting in television commercials, and film shorts for the past 10 years. Her hobbies are interior decorating and barbecuing. Two years ago she married Mr. Dugan, a water conditioning engineer. The birth of Ann Lee II brought a halt, but only temporarily, to Mrs. Dugan's career.

"The agencies kept calling me at home with attractive offers for modeling jobs," said Mrs. Dugan, "and when I told them about baby Ann Lee they told me to bring her along. A baby carriage was too awkward to handle getting about Chicago so I had a special baby carrier made up from a design I had seen in a magazine."

It was not long before baby Ann Lee was getting into the act, too, at $20 an hour and loving every minute of it.

"Can you imagine," said Mrs. Dugan, "what it is like to have a 4½-month-old daughter with a Social Security number?"

The Dugans have only one worry. That is that some morning they are going to find their home picketed as "unfair" to the baby sitters of America.

ADVERTISING AGENCY PHOTOGRAPHER John Banas gives baby Ann Lee's hair a final touch as he prepares to take a photograph of Mrs. Dugan feeding her daughter baby food. Mother and daughter work four days a week on modeling.

D'ARDEN BONTIQUE, one of Chicago's top hat designers, shows high fashion model Ann Lee Dugan how she should wear a hat that he specially created for her. Daughter Ann Lee plays on the floor.

WEARING MATCHING HEADPIECES, Mrs. Dugan pauses in the studio dressing room to repair her make-up while baby Ann Lee amuses herself. Clothing takes the largest bite out of the income as a top model must always look her best.

A graduate of Hunter College in New York, Ann Lee Dugan has been modeling high fashion, acting in television commercials, and film shorts for the past 10 years. Her hobbies are interior decorating and barbecuing. Two years ago she married Mr. Dugan, a water conditioning engineer. The birth of Ann Lee II brought a halt, but only temporarily, to Mrs. Dugan's career.

"The agencies kept calling me at home with attractive offers for modeling jobs," said Mrs. Dugan, "and when I told them about baby Ann Lee they told me to bring her along. A baby carriage was too awkward to handle getting about Chicago so I had a special baby carrier made up from a design I had seen in a magazine."

It was not long before baby Ann Lee was getting into the act, too, at $20 an hour and loving every minute of it.

"Can you imagine," said Mrs. Dugan, "what it is like to have a 4½-month-old daughter with a Social Security number?"

The Dugans have only one worry. That is that some morning they are going to find their home picketed as "unfair" to the baby sitters of America.

WAITING for hair to dry at the beauty parlor, Mrs. Dugan amuses fellow model.

ADVERTISING AGENCY PHOTOGRAPHER John Banas gives baby Ann Lee's hair a final touch as he prepares to take a photograph of Mrs. Dugan feeding her daughter baby food. Mother and daughter work four days a week on modeling.

D'ARDEN BONTIQUE, one of Chicago's top hat designers, shows high fashion model Ann Lee Dugan how she should wear a hat that he specially created for her. Daughter Ann Lee plays on the floor.

WEARING MATCHING HEADPIECES, Mrs. Dugan pauses in the studio dressing room to repair her make-up while baby Ann Lee amuses herself. Clothing takes the largest bite out of the income as a top model must always look her best.

Similar Interests Good For Marriage

From what you have read and heard from sociologists and various other experts on marriage, you may have concluded with them that, all else being equal similarity of backgrounds, interests and ideals in the couple favors successful marriage.

By Garry Meyers

Dr. Paul Popenoe, in "Family Life," (December), raises these questions: "Do couples who are unsuccessfully married gather about them friends of similar backgrounds, interests and ideals so as to add stability to their family lives? Are couples who are successful as marriage partners and parents careful in the selection of the type of friends they invite into their homes?"

"YES," SAYS Dr. Popenoe.

He bases his conclusion on an extensive three-year study subsidized by the Ford Foundation. More than 60,000 families and a quarter of a million individuals of six large cities have been studied.

To quote from the study:

"In every city we found that families who have friends that are not like themselves (as measured by religion, kindred or intermarriage, region of origin, and income) have the most trouble with their children and the most trouble between parents as well."

He also reports that families with less than $2,000 income and families with income of over $10,000 have the most trouble with their children.

AND THAT the most recent arrivals to the city and those who don't establish permanent homes and neighborhood relations have the difficulty with children and between husband wife.

Marriages between Catholics and non-Catholics produce a high number of divorces, desertions and delinquent children. Jews who marry outside their faith have unusually great difficulties in making a marriage last.

Summarizing, the report states, "Marry your own—whether of the same religion, region, ethnic group or educational and economic status. Protect your own by gathering about you family friends of similsr backgrounds, interests, and ideals."

Events Back Of Crucifixion Reviewed By Kiwanis Guest

Some of the influences of religion, politics and the power of evil which figured in the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ were reviewed in an Easter meditation by John Mostoller, minister, at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

The pastor of the First Church of Christ said the incident at Calvary was not only an act of God to prove, dramatically to all mankind, the power and strength to overcome the forces of darkness.

The resentment of organized religion, the hatred of politicians and the apathy of common man were among the earthly factors which brought about Christ's execution.

Religious men were affronted at Christ's healing on the Sabbath, at his analogies of "destroying this temple" and at the profound thoughts from this mere carpenter's son.

Nationalists of Judea had at first rallied behind Christ as a leader for their political aims, but turned against Him when He declared He had not come to establish a kingdom or sit on a throne.

The Roman government failed to act in the affair, and the very people who had hailed Christ's entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday failed to speak out for Him.

"But behind all this was the invisible power of evil, which is evident today in religion, dividing and narrowing; in government, which is lax or capable of promising to be the savior of the people, or in the average man who cannot explain why he commits offenses against society," he said.

"Calvary was a battle of the power of God's love, compassion, mercy and inner strength against this force of evil," the pastor declared, and "it is this victory that Easter celebrates."

Miss Elizabeth Ann Eunson, director of music at the church, sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Jo Ann Vannoy.

Famed Surgeon Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dr. S. Milton Dupertuis, 53, internationally known plastic surgeon, died Thursday after collapsing at the door of his home. He was a past president of the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery and professor of plastic surgery at the University of Pittsburgh.

JOHN THE BAPTIST

"And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. And his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John."

—Luke 1:59, 60

From the time of his birth and before, there were "signs and wonders" surrounding John, all pointing to his prophetic destiny.

The son of Zacharias and Elizabeth, he was born about six months before Jesus. His father, who was a priest, was stricken dumb from the time the angel Gabriel announced to him that Elizabeth was to bear a son, until after John was more than a week old.

When Elizabeth insisted that the child be called John, rather than Zacharias, relatives appealed to his father. The priest having been told by the angel of God that his son should be named John, called for a writing table because he could not speak.

On it he wrote, "His name is John."

At that moment, he regained his speech "and he spake and praised God."

The people who were present marvelled at this. Soon the whole hill country of Judaea was rife with talk about the remarkable boy.

"What manner of child shall this be!" they exclaimed at the end of each story.

The Scriptures tell us little about John's boyhood, except that "the child grew and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts until the day of his shewing unto Israel."

Some writers believe he may have been taken to live among a colony of mystics who had gone into the desert to live strictly according to the laws of God.

This sect had built a kind of monastery on the shores of the Dead Sea. It was they who wrote the famous Dead Sea Scrolls, which were discovered in recent years.

Scholars point to the fact that it was only a short distance from this spot that John baptized Jesus, when the Baptist had come out of the wilderness crying, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God."

If John's childhood was spent at the monastery at Qumran, he built into his character the hardy fiber that in later life gave him the courage to defy and denounce the Temple priests and even publicly point an accusing finger at evil King Herod.

For life at Qumran was one of hard work, humility, fasting and loneliness. For food, we are told, he ate locusts and wild honey.

So he fulfilled the prophecy of his father, who had said:

"Thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest; for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways."

Dental Theme Chosen For 4-H Club Leaders

"Teeth White, Shine Bright" was chosen as the 1959 health theme when the Hancock County 4-H Leaders Association met Thursday night in the Agricultural Building at New Cumberland to outline future activities.

Miss Iris Cuppy, president, presided and April 29 was set for a health skit contest at New Cumberland High School. Members of the winning 4-H club will appear on television May 19.

County Demonstration Day will be April 11, Miss Helen Petrakis, 4-H leader, announced. In other business, Miss Martha Troop was named chairman of a Rural Life Sunday committee. The next leaders' meeting is April 16.

Court Studies Traffic Case

Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw reserved a decision Thursday at the conclusion of testimony in a drunken driving case against an East Liverpool motorist, who also faces a second degree manslaughter charge as the aftermath of a traffic fatality March 8 on E. 3rd St.

The defendant is Bernard J. Icenhower, 40, of 305 E. 2nd St., driver of an auto in which Murl Oney, 37, of E. 2nd St. was injured fatally in a collision with a parked tractor-trailer.

At the time of the crash, Icenhower was charged with drunken driving. About a week ago, police filed the second charge of second degree manslaughter. He pleaded not guilty to both.

Icenhower's hearing had been delayed because he was injured in the crash in which Mr. Oney was killed. The judge listened to more than an hour's testimony from the prosecution and the defense.

Asked about the manslaughter charge, the judge said it is possible it may be presented direct to the next Grand Jury, rather than through a Municipal Court preliminary hearing.

Atty. William S. Foulks appeared for the defense and Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark was prosecutor.

U.S., Red Bulgaria To Resume Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Communist Bulgaria—at the initiative of Bulgaria — have agreed to resume diplomatic relations.

The United States broke off relations in 1950 after Bulgaria accused Donald R. Heath, then U.S. ambassador, of espionage and demanded his recall.

Officials said Bulgaria had approached the United States several times about resuming relations. Each time the effort failed because the Sofia government refused to withdraw the charges against Heath.

The State Department said Thursday night it now considers it in the best interest of the United States to resume the relations because Bulgaria has at last withdrawn the Heath charges—calling them groundless.

Teamsters Called 'Strongest Next To Government'

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Kennedy says James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union is "the most powerful institution next to the government in the United States."

Kennedy, Senate Rackets Committee chief counsel, also told an Overseas Press Club luncheon Thursday that the power wielded by the Teamsters Union gives it an "economic stranglehold" over many American communities.

Kennedy said men with criminal records were exerting influence in Teamsters affairs in Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, Nashville, Philadelphia and New York. He did not elaborate.

A bill intended to curb abuses in the labor field has been sponsored jointly by Kennedy's brother, Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) and Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC).

Residents In Hancock Reminded On Fire Law

Hancock County residents were reminded that West Virginia state law permits kindling of outdoor fires in the spring only between 5 p. m. and 5 a. m. daily.

Volunteer firemen in Chester, Newell and New Cumberland have been kept busy this month quelling brush and grass fires during daylight hours. Outdoor burning must be done between 5 at night, and 5 the next morning, firemen stressed.

Residents still are responsible for damages which may occur when the fire burns out of control, regardless of the hour.

The Sports Bench

Rumors, Dime A Dozen . . .

Rumors are a dime a dozen as to who will be the new basketball coach at East Liverpool High School.

Supt. Ralph Betts said "several applications have been received," and added, "We haven't yet set a date for naming a new coach. We are going to take our time."

About 40 applications are expected for the job, but several probably will be withdrawn because of the teaching scale at East Liverpool — one of the lowest in Ohio. The maximum here is $5,200.

A basketball coach at ELHS receives $700 additional.

Numerous names have been mentioned in connection with the opening which resulted when John Karaffa submitted his resignation last week.

Right away speculation concentrated on four former East Liverpool cagers — Jim Harris, Al Bailey, Dencil Miller and Dick Bancroft.

All had good records this past season at their respective schools. Harris showed 15-5 at Warrensville Heights and Miller had the same mark at Pettisville. Bailey lost only one game in 23 starts at Geneva Spencer.

We do not know whether any of the above have applied, but we do know that at least two of them are very interested in the job.

Tink Healey, the former Wellsville coach, has applied for the job here.

Another name which has been mentioned is that of Henry Pennline, coach at Charleroi High School. Pennline, if he applies, comes highly recommended — his record speaking for itself.

In five years as head coach at Charleroi, he has won 108 while losing only 26. In the last three years he has taken Charleroi to the WPIAL championship once, to the semi-finals and this season lost in the finals to Farrell. His salary is much higher at Charleroi, however.

State Tourney Clippings . . .

DON'T BE SURPRISED if you pick up the paper about a year from now and the headline reads Cleveland East Tech Wins Third Straight Title.

The Scarabs could do it in view of what Coach John Broski has coming back next year.

Looking over the lineup, Broski will have four giants in Dave Childress, 6-foot-9, Gene Lane, 6-foot-8, Dennis Osborne, 6-foot-6 and Grady Zeigler, 6-foot-4. And Sam Franklin, 5-foot-9, will return.

Lane and Franklin were both considered regulars this season and will be the nucleus for next year's club.

East Tech has taken over the spotlight once dominated by Middletown and Jerry Lucas, even though the Middies managed to break into the limelight by sneaking into the semi-finals again this year.

Coach Paul Walker of Middletown was probably the most relaxed coach at the tournament. In previous years, all the pressure has been on him because he was expected to win with Jerry Lucas in the lineup.

However, this season followers hadn't even given Middletown a chance to reach the state finals.

One of the biggest disappointments of the tournament was the play of Woody Deitch of Salem. He is much better than the game he displayed at Columbus.

THE TWO officials who worked the Middletown-Salem game were called down by a sportswriter for the Ohio State Journal for their constant whistle tooting. The officials were Besozzi and Radabaugh.

The story in the Journal read in part: "The over-zealous whistles of referees Radabaugh and Besozzi couldn't ruin the excitement of Salem's comeback victory over Middletown, but the two boys in stripes butchered the game of basketball to the despair of 13,924 patrons. The pair breathed out 43 fouls — a total exceeding by three the fouls called in both afternoon Class "A" contests and 12 more than were seen in the first Class "AA" game."

"At one particularly ridiculous part of the first half, the whistles blew six fouls in only 16 seconds of play."

"Middletown outscored Salem from the field, 26-22, but was a 39-23 loser at the foul line."

Semi-Finalists Set In Nonpareil Tourney

Eason's Set New Record With 102

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Uniontown, Eason Insurance, Gengarellas and Swissvale make up the semi-final quartet in the 12th annual Junior Tournament sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

While teams take a break today, action will resume Saturday night when a new champion will be crowned. Three games will be played Saturday beginning at 7.

The four teams will meet at 6:45 and draw to see which bracket plays the first game at 7. The games will be sandwiched with the second contest beginning at 7:30.

Uniontown, a strong contender, with talent from Washington, German Township and Uniontown will battle Eason Insurance in one semi-final game while Gengarellas meet Swissvale in the other.

The two winners will meet in the Championship contests which should get underway about 10 p. m.

Eason Insurance set a new tourney record for most points scored. Eason's which list Joe Maddrey and some stars from the Beaver Valley rolled into the semi-finals with a 102-34 victory over Chambers Co. (Bethel Pa. High School) Thursday night at Memorial Auditorium.

It marked the first time any team ever went over the 100-point total in Junior Tournament play.

Once Gengarellas got rolling last night they had an easy time with Canton Presbyterian by taking a 79-56 decision.

The surprise of the tournament is Swissvale which pulled the big upset last night by nipping the Midland Legion, 52-51.

Maddrey, the 6-foot-4 giant named to several all-state teams in Pennsylvania, got a good start toward repeating as high point man.

He dropped in 33 points for the highest mark of the tournament so far. Maddrey was deadly with a one-hand jump shot and scored on numerous tips from under the board.

He also had the distinction of scoring the 100th point last night.

Eason's led all the way with a 26-9 margin at the first quarter and 50-17 at halftime.

Behind Maddrey in the scoring was Sheffield with 21 points and Cain, who chipped in with 17.

The Eason-Uniontown battle should be the game of the tournament and could go a long way in deciding the championship.

The thriller of the evening found Swissvale and Midland wrapped up in a nip and tuck affair.

The score swayed back and forth throughout the contest, but Swissvale came from behind in the final moments to nip the Midland varsity.

Swissvale took a 14-8 lead at the end of the first period, but Midland bounced back for a 20-19 margin at halftime. The score at the end of three periods showed Midland on top 34-33.

Fulmer was the big gun for the Swissvale five with 20 points while Zilko added 14 and Byrmes 12 in a well-balanced scoring attack.

Movie Smith with 17 and Steve Yetso's 16 paced the losers.

It took Gengarellas a while to get rolling, but once they did it was no contest.

A full-court press and fast break wrecked Canton Presbyterian, a team composed of Canton High School stars.

Gengarellas, sporting the Youngstown Chaney varsity plus Salem's Woody Deitch, trailed 17-13 at the end of the first period, but an effective press reversed the score at halftime as Gengarellas took a 39-26 margin and then continued to lead 58-42 at the end of three quarters.

Deitch, who is also a showman besides a scorer, led the way with 27 points while Clark Avery, a neat little floorman, and Ron Sabo each collected 16.

Osborne, a star at Canton Lincoln this past season, paced the Presbyterian five with 22 points.

Cabas Named To Coach Northern All-Star Five

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two all-Ohio stars, Benny Roberts of Middletown and Dick Reasbeck of Bellaire St. John, will lead the Rebels as they battle the Yankees in the second annual Ohio high school North - South basketball game June 20 at Troy's Hobart Arena.

Reasbeck, with 501 points in 18 games, was the second-high scorer in Class AA for the regular season. Roberts was the big reason the rebuilt Middies made it back to the state tournament. Both were first team all-Ohio selections.

Jackie Moore of Columbus East and Don Heft of Pickerington were named co-coaches of the southern squad by the mentors from the lower half of the state, and they'll have their boys in Troy for a week before the big game.

A year ago the South took the inaugural game in the series 93-72, with Middletown's Jerry Lucas scoring 33 in three periods.

Rounding out the southern squad are Merl Clum of New Philadelphia, a third-team all-Ohio choice, and honorable mentions Bill Glenn of Springfield, Eddie Clark of Columbus North, Larry Jones of Columbus East, and Ron Hall of Chillicothe in Class AA. Only Class A cager named was Junior Thompson of Stockdale, Pike County.

The northern team, to be coached by Johnny Cabas of Salem, runner-up for the state Class AA title, and Paul Bricker of Convoy-Union, which won 26 before losing a double-overtime regional game to Class A champion Edgerton, also has some top-flight talent.

The Yankees will have Paul Winterhalter of Tiffin Calvert, the state's top Class AA scorer with 635 in 19 games and a first team all-Ohio choice; second team stars Pete Grant of Toledo Central Catholic and Woody Deitch of Salem; third-stringers Jim Stone of Cleveland East Tech, Bill Mrukowski of Elyria and Kirk Gooding of Lima Senior, and honorable mentions Dan Mueller of Delphos St. John, Ron Sabo of Youngstown Chaney, and Bob Vogel of Massillon.

The Urbana Boosters Club, sponsors of the all-star fray, will select one more southern player, as will the Rebel coaches, to round out a squad of 10. The northern coaches also have one additional choice, and he could be either all-Ohio Ken Glenn of East Tech, captain of the all-state tournament team, or Denny Pawlecki of Toledo Central Catholic, who led the list of alternates in that order.

The Boosters Club announced speakers for the clinic accompanying the game as Dick Shrider of Miami University, Frank Shannon of Ohio Wesleyan, and high school mentors Howard Grimes of Cincinnati Hughes and Bert Barnes of Buchtel-York.

Pierce Having Good Spring

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Billy Pierce is having such a good spring it scares him.

The Chicago White Sox pitching ace had his best spring in six years in 1958 and it took him more than a month to register his first victory.

"It seems whenever I have a poor spring," said the boyish looking 32-year-old southpaw, "I wind up with a good year. I got racked up in the spring exhibition games in 1956 and 1957. I was a 20-game winner each year.

"I had high hopes of winning 25 games last year the way I was going during the spring training season. But once the regular season started I couldn't win for losing."

Without a victory in six starts, Pierce finally entered the win column on May 16. Seven straight victories followed. Billy warmed up for his midsummer All-Star appearance by hurling three consecutive shutouts.

"Although I had the second best earned run average in the league (2.68), I was disappointed. I didn't win 20. Once you win 20 you want to win 20 every year. You feel you don't have a good season unless you win 20."

75 Colleges Seek Services Of Princeton's Rod Thorn

PRINCTEON (AP) — The college basketball offers continued to pour in for Rod Thorn, Princeton's highly publicized star.

The latest count shows the 6-4 Princeton all-Stater has received bids from 75 colleges all over the nation. About six weeks ago, there were 50 after him.

Has Rod made up his mind? "No sir," the Princeton honor student said respectfully. "I figure that I'll take my time in deciding where to go since my career might depend on it."

How about your mother and dad? Have they expressed any wish as to where they want you to go?

"No sir," he replied. "They told me to make up my own mind."

Thorn has made only three Bs in his high school career — in typing, geometry and Latin. All the other grades were straight As. But the quiet-spoken senior didn't achieve these grades by accident. He hits the books on an average of two hours per school night.

But all the publicity and fame has its drawbacks.

"I've been getting around four and five phone calls a night," Thorn said. "Most of them are people who aren't connected in any official capacity with colleges. Most of them want to know where I'm going. I don't mind talking with them but it sure makes it tough to concentrate on my studies."

Thorn also is quite an accomplished baseball player, having had tryout offers from three major league ball clubs. He had intended to play this summer with the Little Pirates, a junior team of the Pittsburgh Pirates. But now he's not so sure.

"I may stay here in Princeton this summer and get a job with the water company," he said. "I need to put on some weight."

Thorn weighed 166 at the end of the basketball season. Since then, his weight shot up to 176 pounds. And even though the season has ended, Thorn managed to practice every day on his backyard court.

"I practice my shooting about 30 minutes a day and plan to keep it up at least until I start to college next fall," Thorn said.

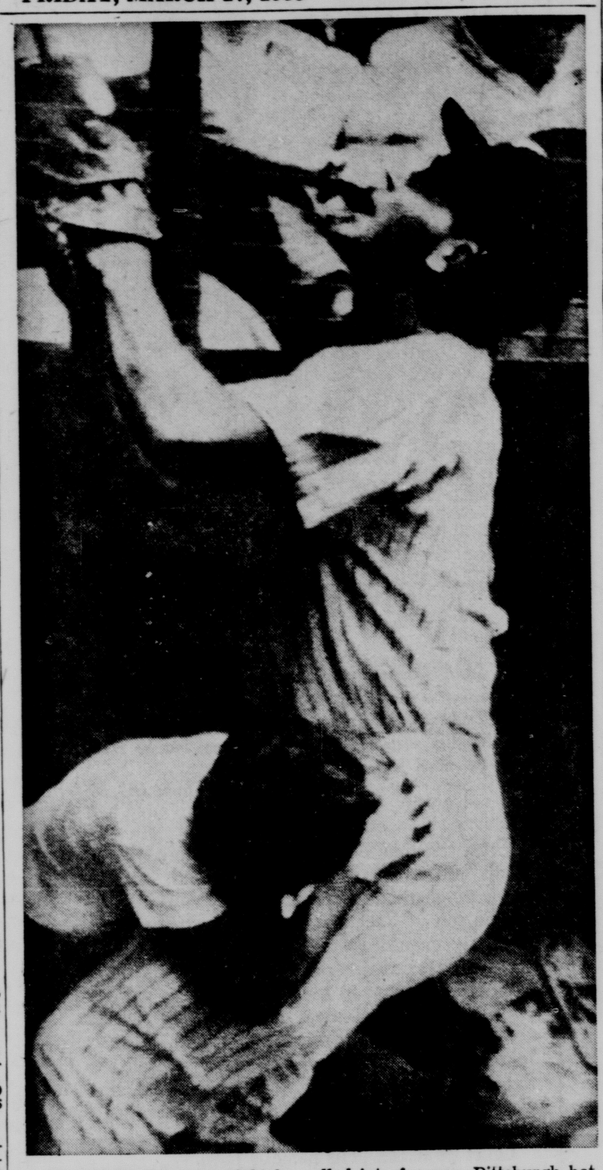

West Virginia, of course, is high in the running for Thorn's services. So is Kentucky. Thorn has a May 2 date to visit Kentucky's campus. He intimates he may make up his mind on which school to attend after the Kentucky visit.

Extension Of Voting On Hall Of Fame Asked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Assn. of Baseball Writers today asked officials of the Hall of Fame to extend voting privileges to veteran sports writers outside the major league cities.

Cy Kritzer of the Buffalo Evening News, president of the association, said a survey of its members showed the writers feel they are entitled to vote in the Hall of Fame elections and have asked for such representation.

Kritzer said a formal presentation of the survey will be made to the directors of the Hall of Fame in the near future.

King Gives Schaus Lift As Assistant Cage Coach

MORGANTOWN, (AP) — George King has no regrets about giving up professional basketball for a coaching job at West Virginia University.

"I've had a most happy year at Morgantown," King says.

It was about this time last year that King hung up his shoes after a season with the Cincinnati Royals. Shortly thereafter he was named assistant to basketball coach Fred Schaus.

"Frankly I don't know how I managed before George came here," Schaus declared. "He's been of tremendous value not only in coaching our guards and working with our fast break but also in scouting and recruiting assignments."

Schaus, in his fifth year at the WVU basketball helm, had no help to speak of until King became his first fulltime assistant. As a result the WVU mentor had little time for recruiting activities because of the press of his coaching and scouting duties.

The addition of King to the staff gives WVU a solid one - two coaching and recruiting punch.

Both learned the finer ropes of the game in professional basketball. Schaus was with the Fort Wayne Pistons and the New York Knicks. King was with the Syracuse Nationals in addition to the one - year stint with the Royals.

King starred at Morris Harvey and his name became synonymous with basketball in Southern West Virginia. The same is true for Schaus — in the northern part of the state — because of his sparkling career at WVU where he captained the ball club for two years.

When possible, King was sent out on recruiting missions during the high school season, making several trips through the state while Schaus was taking care of the Mountaineers.

King also went on numerous scouting expeditions during the campaign. While scouting St. Josephs, Pa. This season in Philadelphia, King got a chance to drop in and see the Royals play the Philly Warriors.

"I dropped in to say hello to the fellows. They were going to leave town right after the game. I stayed and watched them play only a half, then left," King said.

"Nope, I don't miss pro ball at all."

Will Delany Shoot For Miracle Mile?

CHICAGO (AP) — Is the time ripe for Ron Delany to run a four-minute indoor mile?

The Irish Villanova graduate student will shoot for his 34th straight mile victory Saturday night in the Chicago Relays at the International Amphitheater.

In the same arena and on the same board oval, the 1956 Olympic 1,500-meter champion from Dublin last year set his first indoor mile mark of 4:03.4.

Twice he has lowered it this season — 4:02.5 in the National AAU in New York Feb. 21, and 4:01.4 in the New York Knights of Columbus meet March 7.

Delany, who doesn't fight the clock, was pressed in setting his two recent records by the former Hungarian army officer, Istvan Rozsavolgyi. But Rozy's viza has run out and he will miss the Chicago Relays.

Opposing Delany will be Phil Coleman, who has been second to the Irishman in the meet's Banker's Mile the last two years; Ted Wheeler, the 1956 winner in 4:07.5, and Ed Moran, Penn State senior who ran a 4:01.7 outdoor mile in the 1958 National AAU championships.

Moran, who will give up his anchor spot on Penn State's crack two-mile relay team to run the mile, proved his ability on the boards three weeks ago. He won the 1,000-yard run in the IC4A at Madison Square Garden in 2:09.6, an intercollegiate record.

NHL Playoffs Show Boston, Montreal, 2-0

By The Associated Press

Little Marcel Bonin, strictly a junior partner until recently, has hung his shingle right under that of Dickie Moore and Jean Beliveau as a member of the Montreal Canadiens' point-making line.

He scored two goals Thursday night to again trigger the Canadiens to a 5-1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks in the Stanley Cup semifinal hockey payoffs.

The victory boosted Montreal to a 2-0 lead over Chicago, the same as Boston holds over Toronto in the other best-of-7 series. The Bruins used another little man, Guy Gendron, to defeat the Leafs 4-2 at Boston.

Bonin has scored four goals in two games as the third member of a line that was 1-2 in regular season National Hockey League scoring. Moore won the title with 96 points (a new league record) and Beliveau was second with 92. Both have scored a goal and have four assists, in the two games.

Bonin scored the first and fifth goals. His two linemates each added one and Boom Boom Geoffrion got the other.

Gendron, picked up last winter in the league draft from the New York Rangers, broke a 2-2 tie in the final four minutes with a 10-foot shot.

Four minutes later, Boston's Doug Mohn's and Toronto's Bob Pulford touched off a five minute free swinging brawl that finally punctuated a game marked by 21 penalties.

Pitching Seen Key To Bruins Success In NL

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs have finished in the second division of the National League 12 solid years. And, unless they achieve overnight pitching prosperity, they may have trouble keeping better company this year.

This is almost exactly the same team that finished last season in a fifth-place tie with St. Louis. Even this modest achievement is a bit misleading because the Cubs wound up only a game out of seventh place.

Chicago's leading man of course is Ernie Banks. Behind him are long-ball hitters like Walt Moryn, Dale Long, Bobby Thomson and Lee Walls.

Manager Bob Scheffing thinks his pitchers have good potential, but admits he's not certain the potential will be realized this year.

"When you've got a staff of young pitchers," he said, "and none of them is proven, you haven't got much to go on in trying to figure out how you're going to do. Now, we've got Drabowsky and Drot and Hillman. I know something about them. But some of the others — well, we just don't know."

Dave Hillman, who was 4-8 last year, could be the only starter over 25. He's 31. Moe Drabowsky (9-11) is only 23 and Dick Drott (7-11) is 22.

Other youngsters looking for starting jobs include Bob Anderson (3-3), Glen Hobbie (10-6) and southpaw Taylor Phillips (7-10).

The regular starting lineup will look something like this: Cal Neeman (.259) or Sammy Taylor (.259) at catcher, Long (.271) at first, Tony Taylor (.235) at second, Banks (.315) at short, Al Dark (.295) at third, and Walls (.304), Thomson (283) and Moryn (.264) in the outfield.

"And maybe this George Altman," Scheffing added. Altman, who hit .325 for Pueblo last season, has performed ably in the outfield this spring.

Rumors, Dime A Dozen . . .

Rumors are a dime a dozen as to who will be the new basketball coach at East Liverpool High School.

Supt. Ralph Betts said "several applications have been received," and added, "We haven't yet set a date for naming a new coach. We are going to take our time."

About 40 applications are expected for the job, but several probably will be withdrawn because of the teaching scale at East Liverpool — one of the lowest in Ohio. The maximum here is $5,200.

A basketball coach at ELHS receives $700 additional.

Numerous names have been mentioned in connection with the opening which resulted when John Karaffa submitted his resignation last week.

Right away speculation concentrated on four former East Liverpool cagers — Jim Harris, Al Bailey, Dencil Miller and Dick Bancroft.

All had good records this past season at their respective schools. Harris showed 15-5 at Warrensville Heights and Miller had the same mark at Pettisville. Bailey lost only one game in 23 starts at Geneva Spencer.

We do not know whether any of the above have applied, but we do know that at least two of them are very interested in the job.

Tink Healey, the former Wellsville coach, has applied for the job here.

Another name which has been mentioned is that of Henry Pennline, coach at Charleroi High School. Pennline, if he applies, comes highly recommended — his record speaking for itself.

In five years as head coach at Charleroi, he has won 108 while losing only 26. In the last three years he has taken Charleroi to the WPIAL championship once, to the semi-finals and this season lost in the finals to Farrell. His salary is much higher at Charleroi, however.

State Tourney Clippings . . .

DON'T BE SURPRISED if you pick up the paper about a year from now and the headline reads Cleveland East Tech Wins Third Straight Title.

The Scarabs could do it in view of what Coach John Broski has coming back next year.

Looking over the lineup, Broski will have four giants in Dave Childress, 6-foot-9, Gene Lane, 6-foot-8, Dennis Osborne, 6-foot-6 and Grady Zeigler, 6-foot-4. And Sam Franklin, 5-foot-9, will return.

Lane and Franklin were both considered regulars this season and will be the nucleus for next year's club.

East Tech has taken over the spotlight once dominated by Middletown and Jerry Lucas, even though the Middies managed to break into the limelight by sneaking into the semi-finals again this year.

Coach Paul Walker of Middletown was probably the most relaxed coach at the tournament. In previous years, all the pressure has been on him because he was expected to win with Jerry Lucas in the lineup.

However, this season followers hadn't even given Middletown a chance to reach the state finals.

One of the biggest disappointments of the tournament was the play of Woody Deitch of Salem. He is much better than the game he displayed at Columbus.

THE TWO officials who worked the Middletown-Salem game were called down by a sportswriter for the Ohio State Journal for their constant whistle tooting. The officials were Besozzi and Radabaugh.

The story in the Journal read in part: "The over-zealous whistles of referees Radabaugh and Besozzi couldn't ruin the excitement of Salem's comeback victory over Middletown, but the two boys in stripes butchered the game of basketball to the despair of 13,924 patrons. The pair breathed out 43 fouls — a total exceeding by three the fouls called in both afternoon Class "A" contests and 12 more than were seen in the first Class "AA" game."

"At one particularly ridiculous part of the first half, the whistles blew six fouls in only 16 seconds of play."

"Middletown outscored Salem from the field, 26-22, but was a 39-23 loser at the foul line."

Extension Of Voting On Hall Of Fame Asked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Assn. of Baseball Writers today asked officials of the Hall of Fame to extend voting privileges to veteran sports writers outside the major league cities.

Cy Kritzer of the Buffalo Evening News, president of the association, said a survey of its members showed the writers feel they are entitled to vote in the Hall of Fame elections and have asked for such representation.

Kritzer said a formal presentation of the survey will be made to the directors of the Hall of Fame in the near future.

Semi-Finalists Set In Nonpareil Tourney

Eason's Set New Record With 102

By BOB DUFFY

Uniontown, Eason Insurance, Gengarellas and Swissvale make up the semi-final quartet in the 12th annual Junior Tournament sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

While teams take a break today, action will resume Saturday night when a new champion will be crowned. Three games will be played Saturday beginning at 7.

The four teams will meet at 6:45 and draw to see which bracket plays the first game at 7. The games will be sandwiched with the second contest beginning at 7:30.

Uniontown, a strong contender, with talent from Washington, German Township and Uniontown will battle Eason Insurance in one semi-final game while Gengarellas meet Swissvale in the other.

The two winners will meet in the Championship contests which should get underway about 10 p. m.

Eason Insurance set a new tourney record for most points scored. Eason's which list Joe Maddrey and some stars from the Beaver Valley rolled into the semi-finals with a 102-34 victory over Chambers Co. (Bethel Pa. High School) Thursday night at Memorial Auditorium.

It marked the first time any team ever went over the 100-point total in Junior Tournament play.

Once Gengarellas got rolling last night they had an easy time with Canton Presbyterian by taking a 79-56 decision.

The surprise of the tournament is Swissvale which pulled the big upset last night by nipping the Midland Legion, 52-51.

Maddrey, the 6-foot-4 giant named to several all-state teams in Pennsylvania, got a good start toward repeating as high point man.

He dropped in 33 points for the highest mark of the tournament so far. Maddrey was deadly with a one-hand jump shot and scored on numerous tips from under the board.

He also had the distinction of scoring the 100th point last night.

Eason's led all the way with a 26-9 margin at the first quarter and 50-17 at halftime.

Behind Maddrey in the scoring was Sheffield with 21 points and Cain, who chipped in with 17.

The Eason-Uniontown battle should be the game of the tournament and could go a long way in deciding the championship.

The thriller of the evening found Swissvale and Midland wrapped up in a nip and tuck affair.

The score swayed back and forth throughout the contest, but Swissvale came from behind in the final moments to nip the Midland varsity.

Swissvale took a 14-8 lead at the end of the first period, but Midland bounced back for a 20-19 margin at halftime. The score at the end of three periods showed Midland on top 34-33.

Fulmer was the big gun for the Swissvale five with 20 points while Zilko added 14 and Byrmes 12 in a well-balanced scoring attack.

Movie Smith with 17 and Steve Yetso's 16 paced the losers.

It took Gengarellas a while to get rolling, but once they did it was no contest.

A full-court press and fast break wrecked Canton Presbyterian, a team composed of Canton High School stars.

Gengarellas, sporting the Youngstown Chaney varsity plus Salem's Woody Deitch, trailed 17-13 at the end of the first period, but an effective press reversed the score at halftime as Gengarellas took a 39-26 margin and then continued to lead 58-42 at the end of three quarters.

Deitch, who is also a showman besides a scorer, led the way with 27 points while Clark Avery, a neat little floorman, and Ron Sabo each collected 16.

Osborne, a star at Canton Lincoln this past season, paced the Presbyterian five with 22 points.

Cabas Named To Coach Northern All-Star Five

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two all-Ohio stars, Benny Roberts of Middletown and Dick Reasbeck of Bellaire St. John, will lead the Rebels as they battle the Yankees in the second annual Ohio high school North - South basketball game June 20 at Troy's Hobart Arena.

Reasbeck, with 501 points in 18 games, was the second-high scorer in Class AA for the regular season. Roberts was the big reason the rebuilt Middies made it back to the state tournament. Both were first team all-Ohio selections.

Jackie Moore of Columbus East and Don Heft of Pickerington were named co-coaches of the southern squad by the mentors from the lower half of the state, and they'll have their boys in Troy for a week before the big game.

A year ago the South took the inaugural game in the series 93-72, with Middletown's Jerry Lucas scoring 33 in three periods.

Rounding out the southern squad are Merl Clum of New Philadelphia, a third-team all-Ohio choice, and honorable mentions Bill Glenn of Springfield, Eddie Clark of Columbus North, Larry Jones of Columbus East, and Ron Hall of Chillicothe in Class AA. Only Class A cager named was Junior Thompson of Stockdale, Pike County.

The northern team, to be coached by Johnny Cabas of Salem, runner-up for the state Class AA title, and Paul Bricker of Convoy-Union, which won 26 before losing a double-overtime regional game to Class A champion Edgerton, also has some top-flight talent.

The Yankees will have Paul Winterhalter of Tiffin Calvert, the state's top Class AA scorer with 635 in 19 games and a first team all-Ohio choice; second team stars Pete Grant of Toledo Central Catholic and Woody Deitch of Salem; third-stringers Jim Stone of Cleveland East Tech, Bill Mrukowski of Elyria and Kirk Gooding of Lima Senior, and honorable mentions Dan Mueller of Delphos St. John, Ron Sabo of Youngstown Chaney, and Bob Vogel of Massillon.

The Urbana Boosters Club, sponsors of the all-star fray, will select one more southern player, as will the Rebel coaches, to round out a squad of 10. The northern coaches also have one additional choice, and he could be either all-Ohio Ken Glenn of East Tech, captain of the all-state tournament team, or Denny Pawlecki of Toledo Central Catholic, who led the list of alternates in that order.

The Boosters Club announced speakers for the clinic accompanying the game as Dick Shrider of Miami University, Frank Shannon of Ohio Wesleyan, and high school mentors Howard Grimes of Cincinnati Hughes and Bert Barnes of Buchtel-York.

Pierce Having Good Spring

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Billy Pierce is having such a good spring it scares him.

The Chicago White Sox pitching ace had his best spring in six years in 1958 and it took him more than a month to register his first victory.

"It seems whenever I have a poor spring," said the boyish looking 32-year-old southpaw, "I wind up with a good year. I got racked up in the spring exhibition games in 1956 and 1957. I was a 20-game winner each year.

"I had high hopes of winning 25 games last year the way I was going during the spring training season. But once the regular season started I couldn't win for losing."

Without a victory in six starts, Pierce finally entered the win column on May 16. Seven straight victories followed. Billy warmed up for his midsummer All-Star appearance by hurling three consecutive shutouts.

"Although I had the second best earned run average in the league (2.68), I was disappointed. I didn't win 20. Once you win 20 you want to win 20 every year. You feel you don't have a good season unless you win 20."

King Gives Schaus Lift As Assistant Cage Coach

MORGANTOWN, (AP) — George King has no regrets about giving up professional basketball for a coaching job at West Virginia University.

"I've had a most happy year at Morgantown," King says.

It was about this time last year that King hung up his shoes after a season with the Cincinnati Royals. Shortly thereafter he was named assistant to basketball coach Fred Schaus.

"Frankly I don't know how I managed before George came here," Schaus declared. "He's been of tremendous value not only in coaching our guards and working with our fast break but also in scouting and recruiting assignments."

Schaus, in his fifth year at the WVU basketball helm, had no help to speak of until King became his first fulltime assistant. As a result the WVU mentor had little time for recruiting activities because of the press of his coaching and scouting duties.

The addition of King to the staff gives WVU a solid one - two coaching and recruiting punch.

Both learned the finer ropes of the game in professional basketball. Schaus was with the Fort Wayne Pistons and the New York Knicks. King was with the Syracuse Nationals in addition to the one - year stint with the Royals.

King starred at Morris Harvey and his name became synonymous with basketball in Southern West Virginia. The same is true for Schaus — in the northern part of the state — because of his sparkling career at WVU where he captained the ball club for two years.

When possible, King was sent out on recruiting missions during the high school season, making several trips through the state while Schaus was taking care of the Mountaineers.

King also went on numerous scouting expeditions during the campaign. While scouting St. Josephs, Pa. This season in Philadelphia, King got a chance to drop in and see the Royals play the Philly Warriors.

"I dropped in to say hello to the fellows. They were going to leave town right after the game. I stayed and watched them play only a half, then left," King said.

"Nope, I don't miss pro ball at all."

Will Delany Shoot For Miracle Mile?

CHICAGO (AP) — Is the time ripe for Ron Delany to run a four-minute indoor mile?

The Irish Villanova graduate student will shoot for his 34th straight mile victory Saturday night in the Chicago Relays at the International Amphitheater.

In the same arena and on the same board oval, the 1956 Olympic 1,500-meter champion from Dublin last year set his first indoor mile mark of 4:03.4.

Twice he has lowered it this season — 4:02.5 in the National AAU in New York Feb. 21, and 4:01.4 in the New York Knights of Columbus meet March 7.

Delany, who doesn't fight the clock, was pressed in setting his two recent records by the former Hungarian army officer, Istvan Rozsavolgyi. But Rozy's viza has run out and he will miss the Chicago Relays.

Opposing Delany will be Phil Coleman, who has been second to the Irishman in the meet's Banker's Mile the last two years; Ted Wheeler, the 1956 winner in 4:07.5, and Ed Moran, Penn State senior who ran a 4:01.7 outdoor mile in the 1958 National AAU championships.

Moran, who will give up his anchor spot on Penn State's crack two-mile relay team to run the mile, proved his ability on the boards three weeks ago. He won the 1,000-yard run in the IC4A at Madison Square Garden in 2:09.6, an intercollegiate record.

NHL Playoffs Show Boston, Montreal, 2-0

By The Associated Press

Little Marcel Bonin, strictly a junior partner until recently, has hung his shingle right under that of Dickie Moore and Jean Beliveau as a member of the Montreal Canadiens' point-making line.

He scored two goals Thursday night to again trigger the Canadiens to a 5-1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks in the Stanley Cup semifinal hockey payoffs.

The victory boosted Montreal to a 2-0 lead over Chicago, the same as Boston holds over Toronto in the other best-of-7 series. The Bruins used another little man, Guy Gendron, to defeat the Leafs 4-2 at Boston.

Bonin has scored four goals in two games as the third member of a line that was 1-2 in regular season National Hockey League scoring. Moore won the title with 96 points (a new league record) and Beliveau was second with 92. Both have scored a goal and have four assists, in the two games.

Bonin scored the first and fifth goals. His two linemates each added one and Boom Boom Geoffrion got the other.

Gendron, picked up last winter in the league draft from the New York Rangers, broke a 2-2 tie in the final four minutes with a 10-foot shot.

Four minutes later, Boston's Doug Mohn's and Toronto's Bob Pulford touched off a five minute free swinging brawl that finally punctuated a game marked by 21 penalties.

Pitching Seen Key To Bruins Success In NL

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs have finished in the second division of the National League 12 solid years. And, unless they achieve overnight pitching prosperity, they may have trouble keeping better company this year.

This is almost exactly the same team that finished last season in a fifth-place tie with St. Louis. Even this modest achievement is a bit misleading because the Cubs wound up only a game out of seventh place.

Chicago's leading man of course is Ernie Banks. Behind him are long-ball hitters like Walt Moryn, Dale Long, Bobby Thomson and Lee Walls.

Manager Bob Scheffing thinks his pitchers have good potential, but admits he's not certain the potential will be realized this year.

"When you've got a staff of young pitchers," he said, "and none of them is proven, you haven't got much to go on in trying to figure out how you're going to do. Now, we've got Drabowsky and Drot and Hillman. I know something about them. But some of the others — well, we just don't know."

Dave Hillman, who was 4-8 last year, could be the only starter over 25. He's 31. Moe Drabowsky (9-11) is only 23 and Dick Drott (7-11) is 22.

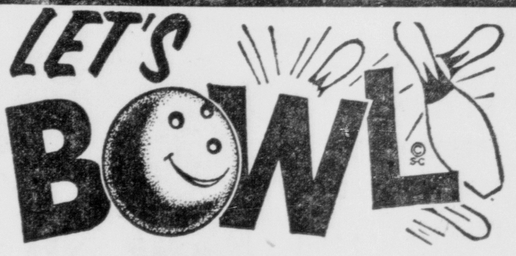

Other youngsters looking for starting jobs include Bob Anderson (3-3), Glen Hobbie (10-6) and southpaw Taylor Phillips (7-10).

The regular starting lineup will look something like this: Cal Neeman (.259) or Sammy Taylor (.259) at catcher, Long (.271) at first, Tony Taylor (.235) at second, Banks (.315) at short, Al Dark (.295) at third, and Walls (.304), Thomson (283) and Moryn (.264) in the outfield.

"And maybe this George Altman," Scheffing added. Altman, who hit .325 for Pueblo last season, has performed ably in the outfield this spring.

Kennedy's, Johnny's To Clash In Wellsville Cage Finals

Dennis Scores 43 To Pace Johnny's

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

A Kent State University area team boasting several "skyscrapers" and another local squad dotted by tournament veterans pulled up in the finals of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce basketball tournament by scoring smashing victories in the semi-finals Thursday night at Beacom Memorial Gym.

Johnny's Lunch, spearheaded by a trio who frequently "dunk" their shots, and Chuck Kennedy's of East Liverpool, will square off in the championship game Saturday night at 9:30 in what appears to be a tossup.

Both squads resembled professional clubs in Thursday night's action, with the tall Johnny's Lunch entry routing Maple Lane of Steubenville, 115-71, and Chuck Kennedy's easily rolling over Radio WMOD of Moundsville by 106 to 82.

Losers of the two semi - final games will battle for consolaton honors in Saturday's opener at 7. The consolation game will be followed by a performance of the Dover Basketeers, a group of grade school dribblers who frolic in Harlem Globetrotter fashion.

Dick Dennis of Kent Roosevelt High School and recently of Kent State University paced Johnny's Lunch to an easy triumph with a record-smashing 43 point performance.

Dennis, who lofted 20 long one-handed push shots through the nets and added three foul shots, erased a previous individual record of 41 for the tourney set by Welcome Cafe's Tom Yancy.

Dennis and Gus Johnson, a 6-6 pivot star from Akron Central High School, figure to spearhead Johnny's Lunch in the championship attraction and each appear to have inside tracks on nominations for the all-tournament team.

Johnson collected 34 points for Johnny's Lunch on 13 field goals and 8 of 15 free throws, with many of his buckets coming on "dunk" shots as he soared high above the rim.

Ron Brown of Kent Roosevelt added 10 points for the winners who will have a great height advantage on Chuck Kennedy's in the finale Saturday night.

Kennedy's, however, turned in an impressive victory in sidelining Radio WMOD from championship contention, and figure to be even stronger with the appearance in the ranks Saturday of Youngstown University's great Herb Lake.

Two Washington & Jefferson College stars led Kennedy's in their semi-final triumph, with Frank Chan racking up 30 points on a variety of set shots and lay-ups, and Larry Romboski contributing 17 tallies.

Jim Potts, formerly of East Liverpool's Potters, and now at Bowling Green University, also had a hot night and scored 19 points. Wellsville's Bob Bingham, an incomparable southpaw drive artist, scored 16 points as Kennedy's easily broke the century mark for the second time of the tournament.

McCoy featured for the losing radio station by scoring 33 points on 15 goals and three foul shots.

Ten-minute quarters of playing time probably figured in the unprecedented high-scoring semi-final games and will probably lure a good crowd for the finals Saturday, especially those who cater to a busy scoreboard.

Only eight minute quarters were in effect for the long grind to semi-final play, as 28 teams fell by the wayside from the original starting field.

Miller Pitch Hits Power, With Near-Riot Following

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stu Miller, a curveballer with a three-pitch repertoire called "slow, slower and slower still,' was the center of a beanball controversy today after toppling Cleveland's Vic Power in an exhibition game.

A Miller pitch hit Power on the head and knocked him unconscious momentarily in the ninth inning of San Francisco's 7-5 victory over the Indians Thursday. Hot words between the managers and a wrestling match between San Francisco's Andre Rodgers and Cleveland's Jim Bolger came in the wake of the incident, which drew these varying comments:

From Miller: "I never threw at anybody in my life. He ducked into the ball."

From Power: "He threw at me and he knows it."

Rodgers was involved when, following the incident, Bolger slammed into him at second base while breaking up a double-play attempt. While they wrestled, both benches emptied but no punches were thrown. Bolger had gone in as a pinch runner for Power, who was not injured but was taken out just the same. Power was not wearing a protective helmet, as required by most clubs.

In other games, Boston nipped the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 11 innings at Scottsdale, Ariz., and in Florida, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 2-1, Philadelphia downed Washington 5-2 at Clearwater, St. Louis whipped Milwaukee 6-3 at Bradenton, New York defeated Pittsburgh 7-2 at St. Petersburg, Detroit whipped the Chicago White Sox 5-2 at Tampa and Baltimore topped Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings at Miami.

Lakers Knot Series Again

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The stormy National Basketball Assn. playoff between the Minneapolis Lakers and the St. Louis Hawks was deadlocked again today and new verbal jabs flew from both camps.

The Lakers survived a third-period blowup to gain a 108-98 victory Thursday night and knot the Western division final playoff at the two games apiece in the best-of-7 series.

Elgin Baylor's 32 points and defensive job on a superb but tiring Cliff Hagan in the fourth quarter put Minneapolis over the top after the Lakers lost a 19-point lead. Hagan scored 38 points but was held to 3 in the final quarter.

"What I said earlier this week still goes," said Hawks Coach Ed Macauley. "The Lakers played the same way last night that they did Sunday, pushing and shoving."

Macauley and owner Ben Kerner of the Hawks charged Monday that the Lakers were using roughhouse tactics. The Lakers denied it then and they did the same today.

The Laker-Hawk series resumes Saturday night at St. Louis. Boston and Syracuse, also 2-2 in the Eastern division, play their fifth game Saturday in Boston. They were idle Thursday night.

12-Mile Wind Could Erase Javelin Mark

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A 258-foot, 4-inch javelin throw by Bill Alley helped Kansas win the Abilene Christian College invitational track and field meet Thursday but it may not be recognized as a national collegiate record.

There was 12 - miles-per-hour wind at Alley's back as he bettered the record of 257 feet 1 inch set by John Fromm of Pacific Lutheran last year in the NCAA.

Oliver Jackson, coach of Abilene Christian and director of the meet, expressed some doubt that the record would be recognized because of the wind.

Kansas won the meet with comparative ease, racking up 71½ points.

Alley went to Gainesville, Fla., to compete in the Florida Relays and the Kansas mile relay team, accompanied by Easton, left for Chicago to appear in the Chicago Relays.

In the meet here Abilene Christian was second with 56½ points; Ohio State, third with 43; Southern Methodist, fourth with 31½; Houston, fifth with 19, and Baylor, last with 15½.

Smith To Use Only Regulars

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Want to know what pitchers made the grade with the Cincinnati Reds for the coming season? Just watch and see who pitches in the rest of the exhibition season.

Manager Mayo Smith wouldn't say Thursday which of 15 hurlers still in camp he plans to have with him on opening day.

But he indicated he's seen enough of the greenhorns and from now on, the regulars-to-be will get the work.

Brooks Lawrence showed flashes of his best form Thursday, going all the way with a seven-hitter for a 2-1 triumph over Los Angeles' Dodgers.

The Dodgers picked up one run in the third inning, but the Reds bunched two runs together in the eighth to turn the tide.

Smith said earlier, "I believe we have four solid starting pitchers in Brooks Lawrence, big Newk (Don Newcombe), Joe Nuxhall and Bob Purkey.

"The fifth starter will have to come from the rest of the pitchers here in camp."

Experts Wonder If 1316 Doubles Will Stand In ABC

ST. LOUIS (AP) — With all the fabulous scores that have been shot in other divisions of the 56th American Bowling Congress tournament, can the 1316 total that leads the doubles stand up?

When Bob and Glenn Gersch of Chicago assembled their total on Feb. 21, experts predicted it wouldn't last more than a week. Since then, more than 10,000 bowlers have taken a shot at the two-man title and failed.

Last year it took a 1414 total for Jim Vrenick and Bill Tucker of St. Louis to nab the two-man crown. The last time a set as low as the Gersch boys' won the doubles was in 1931 when Rafferty and Charles Reilly of Philadelphia rolled an identical tally, 1316.

The possibility that anyone will knock Ed Lubansky of Detroit out of the singles or all - events leads seems remote. He rolled 764 in the singles and 2116 in the all-events. Likewise, there does not seem to be any teams remaining with the potential to outpin the record 3243 by Lubanski's Pfeiffers in the open team event.

Schaus To Coach Pan-American Basketball Team

LOUISVILLE (AP)— West Virginia will be well represented at the Pan-American basketball tryouts here April 2-4.

West Virginia Coach Fred Schaus will be head mentor of the College All - Stars. His All-America player, Jerry West, will be one of the participants. His trainer, A. C. Whitey Gwynne will perform in a similar capacity here.

Named as Schaus' assistant was Peck Hickman, Louisville coach.

The selection of Schaus was announced in Lawrence, Kan. yesterday by A. C. Dutch Lonborg, chairman of the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee.

Schaus guided his 1959 WVU Mountaineers to the NCAA runner-up spot here while Hickman's Louisville team finished fourth.

Other entries in the tournament will be two AAU teams and one representing the military services.

5 Beneficiaries To Share Equally Litchfield Trust

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Five beneficiaries will share equally in the $650,000 Paul W. Litchfield Charitable Trust established by the honorary board chairman of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. who died March 18.

Establishment of the charitable trust and the Paul W. Litchfield Foundation of $400,000 was disclosed Thursday by trustees of the funds. The trusts, not announced previously, are separate from Litchfield's estate.

The First National Bank of Akron, trustee of the charitable trust, will distribute the $650,000 among the Children's Hospital of Akron; the Akron Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America; the University of Akron; the Church of our Saviour here and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, from which Litchfield was graduated in 1896.

The charitable purposes of the Paul W. Litchfield Foundation were not announced.

Exclusive Club Of 60-Foot Shot Putters To Vie

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — World record holder Parry O'Brien and the other three members of the exclusive "60-foot" shot putters' society headline the annual Easter relays Saturday.

Entered against O'Brien are Dallas Long, sensational freshman of the University of Southern California; Davis Davis of the Southern Cal varsity, and Bill Nieder, ex-Kansas star now in the Army.

All have put the shot 60 feet or better.

Threatened is O'Brien's world mark of 63 feet 3 inches, and most certain to fall is his record of 59 feet 9⅝ inches set in 1956.

Nieder won the event last year and has an all-time best put of 60-3. Davis' best is 61 even.

More than 1,400 athletes will compete in high school, junior college and open divisions.

Protests Fly Against Soviet Fishing Fleet

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A foray by a big Soviet fishing fleet into waters off Alaska's Bristol Bay touched off protests up and down the north Pacific Coast today.

The presence of the Soviet flotilla in a region where they have never appeared before was viewed as an extension of the economic cold war.

The objections, however vociferous, may be futile because the upwards of 50 trawlers and auxiliary vessels are clustered in international waters where ships of all nations have free access.

But the fact the Soviets aren't violating any international law didn't diminish the chorus of concern.

Alaska's acting governor, Hugh J. Wade, called for a four-nation fishing agreement as "absolutely necessary" to bring the Soviet Union into international fisheries control efforts — with the United States, Canada and Japan.

At Vancouver, B.C. the independent United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union called on the Canadian government to ask the U.S.S.R. to hold back its trawlers.

The Navy, which has been keeping the Soviet fishing fleet under surveillance as part of routine patrol duties, didn't indicate any alarm.

Rear Adm. Arnold W. McKechnie, commander of the Alaska Sea Frontier and the 17th Naval District at Kodiak, Alaska, said "Their presence in the southeastern Bering Sea is of no particular military concern to us, but of course we are keeping track of what they do. They are in international waters where they have every legal right to be."

Cronin Sees Closer American League Race

BOSTON (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin is optimistic about a closer race for the pennant this year after returning from a visit to the Florida spring training camps.

Though his viewing was hindered by the rain, Cronin commented:

"From what little I saw I became optimistic about a closer American League race this year. I think all the teams I saw have strengthened in a spot or two that may help make a closer race."

Washington Will Shoot For 70 Victories In '59

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Cookie Lavagetto has set a goal for his Washington Senators. Not first place. Not even the first division. In fact, he's not pointing at any particular spot in the standings."

"I want to hit a minimum of 70 victories," the swarthy Senator skipper said modestly. "That would give us nine more than last year.

"I think we can do it. We weren't as bad last year as the record indicates. We played fair ball until the last month of the season when the boys tired badly. I think we lost something like 13 straight in September.

"We have added youth and a little speed in an effort to offset this. I think we will also have a little better bench."

It is clear that Cookie is relying heavily on newcomers Reno Bertoia to make good at third, Ronnie Samford to plug the hole at shortstop and rookie Bob Allison to win a regular outfield berth.

Bertoia and Samford came from Detroit in the trade that sent Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges to the Tigers. If Allison makes good, Roy Sievers may be switched from left field to first base, according to Lavagetto.

Otherwise, the team is the same as the one which finished in the basement last year. Norm Zauchin is the first baseman, with Herb Plews at second, Bertoia at third and Jose Valdivielso at short. Ken Aspromonte, Bob Malkmus and Harmon Killebrew are the reserves.

Last year's No. 1 rookie Albie Pearson, sidelined with a groin injury, is expected to take over the center field spot upon his return. Bob Lemon, still not fully recovered from a knee operation, is fighting to hold off Allison and Dan Dobbek in the battle for the third outfield post. The catchers are Clint Courtney and Eddie Fitz Gerald.

The club is pitifully shy of pitching. Pete Ramos (14-18) and Camilio Pascual (8-12) are proven big league starters and Dick Hyde was just about the best relief pitcher in the American League last year.

138 Tee Off Today In Azalea Open Golf

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Seven of the year's top 15 money winners were included in a field of 138 which opened the $15,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament today.

The top man, Art Wall Jr., has pocketed $12,830 since the first of the year.

Other top money makers in the field are Doug Ford, Mike Souchak, Billy Maxwell and Bob Rosburg.

After 18 holes today and Saturday the field will be cut to the low 60 pros and ties for the windup on Sunday and Monday.

8 Periods Set For Summer YMCA Camp

Eight camping sessions for youths have been scheduled for the 1959 summer camp program at Pine Ridge, with the season to open June 28 and close Aug. 19, Carl Werner, general secretary of the YMCA, said.

In addition to two sessions for midgets, boys 8 to 9, three periods are reserved for girls and three for boys in the 10-14 age grouping.

Jack Doughty, who was associated with the Y last summer, will return early in June to resume work on the staff. Mrs. Werner will assist girls for all three periods, with Jan Burke to assist both groups during the camping periods.

Registrations arrangements are being completed. Parents wishing additional information on the camp may call at the Y office Monday through Saturday.

The camp schedule follows:

Midget boys, June 28-July 1; girls, July 5-11; boys July 12-18; girls, July 19-25; boys, July 26-Aug. 1; girls, Aug. 2-8; boys, Aug. 9-15, and midget boys, Aug. 16-19.

Thor Missile Logs Successful Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force's versatile Thor has logged another apparently successful trip over intermediate range on its 26th flight test.

The 65-foot rocket, which seems to perform equally well as a war weapon and booster for space vehicles, roared aloft Thursday night on what appeared to be a perfect start.

The latest shoot was part of the Thor's advanced research and development series aimed at improving reliability — that is, bettering the odds for hitting the target on every launching.

Thor squadrons already are entrenched in the United Kingdom under Royal Air Force control as part of the NATO defenses.

The Thor now is considered 65 per cent reliable, but the Air Force hopes to increase it to 80 or 90 per cent by the end of the year.

Kennedy's, Johnny's To Clash In Wellsville Cage Finals

Dennis Scores 43 To Pace Johnny's

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

A Kent State University area team boasting several "skyscrapers" and another local squad dotted by tournament veterans pulled up in the finals of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce basketball tournament by scoring smashing victories in the semi-finals Thursday night at Beacom Memorial Gym.

Johnny's Lunch, spearheaded by a trio who frequently "dunk" their shots, and Chuck Kennedy's of East Liverpool, will square off in the championship game Saturday night at 9:30 in what appears to be a tossup.

Both squads resembled professional clubs in Thursday night's action, with the tall Johnny's Lunch entry routing Maple Lane of Steubenville, 115-71, and Chuck Kennedy's easily rolling over Radio WMOD of Moundsville by 106 to 82.

Losers of the two semi - final games will battle for consolaton honors in Saturday's opener at 7. The consolation game will be followed by a performance of the Dover Basketeers, a group of grade school dribblers who frolic in Harlem Globetrotter fashion.

Dick Dennis of Kent Roosevelt High School and recently of Kent State University paced Johnny's Lunch to an easy triumph with a record-smashing 43 point performance.

Dennis, who lofted 20 long one-handed push shots through the nets and added three foul shots, erased a previous individual record of 41 for the tourney set by Welcome Cafe's Tom Yancy.

Dennis and Gus Johnson, a 6-6 pivot star from Akron Central High School, figure to spearhead Johnny's Lunch in the championship attraction and each appear to have inside tracks on nominations for the all-tournament team.

Johnson collected 34 points for Johnny's Lunch on 13 field goals and 8 of 15 free throws, with many of his buckets coming on "dunk" shots as he soared high above the rim.

Ron Brown of Kent Roosevelt added 10 points for the winners who will have a great height advantage on Chuck Kennedy's in the finale Saturday night.

Kennedy's, however, turned in an impressive victory in sidelining Radio WMOD from championship contention, and figure to be even stronger with the appearance in the ranks Saturday of Youngstown University's great Herb Lake.

Two Washington & Jefferson College stars led Kennedy's in their semi-final triumph, with Frank Chan racking up 30 points on a variety of set shots and lay-ups, and Larry Romboski contributing 17 tallies.

Jim Potts, formerly of East Liverpool's Potters, and now at Bowling Green University, also had a hot night and scored 19 points. Wellsville's Bob Bingham, an incomparable southpaw drive artist, scored 16 points as Kennedy's easily broke the century mark for the second time of the tournament.

McCoy featured for the losing radio station by scoring 33 points on 15 goals and three foul shots.

Ten-minute quarters of playing time probably figured in the unprecedented high-scoring semi-final games and will probably lure a good crowd for the finals Saturday, especially those who cater to a busy scoreboard.

Only eight minute quarters were in effect for the long grind to semi-final play, as 28 teams fell by the wayside from the original starting field.

Miller Pitch Hits Power, With Near-Riot Following

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stu Miller, a curveballer with a three-pitch repertoire called "slow, slower and slower still,' was the center of a beanball controversy today after toppling Cleveland's Vic Power in an exhibition game.

A Miller pitch hit Power on the head and knocked him unconscious momentarily in the ninth inning of San Francisco's 7-5 victory over the Indians Thursday. Hot words between the managers and a wrestling match between San Francisco's Andre Rodgers and Cleveland's Jim Bolger came in the wake of the incident, which drew these varying comments:

From Miller: "I never threw at anybody in my life. He ducked into the ball."

From Power: "He threw at me and he knows it."

Rodgers was involved when, following the incident, Bolger slammed into him at second base while breaking up a double-play attempt. While they wrestled, both benches emptied but no punches were thrown. Bolger had gone in as a pinch runner for Power, who was not injured but was taken out just the same. Power was not wearing a protective helmet, as required by most clubs.

In other games, Boston nipped the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 11 innings at Scottsdale, Ariz., and in Florida, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 2-1, Philadelphia downed Washington 5-2 at Clearwater, St. Louis whipped Milwaukee 6-3 at Bradenton, New York defeated Pittsburgh 7-2 at St. Petersburg, Detroit whipped the Chicago White Sox 5-2 at Tampa and Baltimore topped Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings at Miami.

Lakers Knot Series Again

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The stormy National Basketball Assn. playoff between the Minneapolis Lakers and the St. Louis Hawks was deadlocked again today and new verbal jabs flew from both camps.

The Lakers survived a third-period blowup to gain a 108-98 victory Thursday night and knot the Western division final playoff at the two games apiece in the best-of-7 series.

Elgin Baylor's 32 points and defensive job on a superb but tiring Cliff Hagan in the fourth quarter put Minneapolis over the top after the Lakers lost a 19-point lead. Hagan scored 38 points but was held to 3 in the final quarter.

"What I said earlier this week still goes," said Hawks Coach Ed Macauley. "The Lakers played the same way last night that they did Sunday, pushing and shoving."

Macauley and owner Ben Kerner of the Hawks charged Monday that the Lakers were using rough-house tactics. The Lakers denied it then and they did the same today.

The Laker-Hawk series resumes Saturday night at St. Louis. Boston and Syracuse, also 2-2 in the Eastern division, play their fifth game Saturday in Boston. They were idle Thursday night.

12-Mile Wind Could Erase Javelin Mark

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A 258-foot, 4-inch javelin throw by Bill Alley helped Kansas win the Abilene Christian College invitational track and field meet Thursday but it may not be recognized as a national collegiate record.

There was 12 - miles-per-hour wind at Alley's back as he bettered the record of 257 feet 1 inch set by John Fromm of Pacific Lutheran last year in the NCAA.

Oliver Jackson, coach of Abilene Christian and director of the meet, expressed some doubt that the record would be recognized because of the wind.

Kansas won the meet with comparative ease, racking up 71½ points.

Alley went to Gainesville, Fla., to compete in the Florida Relays and the Kansas mile relay team, accompanied by Easton, left for Chicago to appear in the Chicago Relays.

In the meet here Abilene Christian was second with 56½ points; Ohio State, third with 43; Southern Methodist, fourth with 31½; Houston, fifth with 19, and Baylor, last with 15½.

Smith To Use Only Regulars

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Want to know what pitchers made the grade with the Cincinnati Reds for the coming season? Just watch and see who pitches in the rest of the exhibition season.

Manager Mayo Smith wouldn't say Thursday which of 15 hurlers still in camp he plans to have with him on opening day.

But he indicated he's seen enough of the greenhorns and from now on, the regulars-to-be will get the work.

Brooks Lawrence showed flashes of his best form Thursday, going all the way with a seven-hitter for a 2-1 triumph over Los Angeles' Dodgers.

The Dodgers picked up one run in the third inning, but the Reds bunched two runs together in the eighth to turn the tide.

Smith said earlier, "I believe we have four solid starting pitchers in Brooks Lawrence, big Newk (Don Newcombe), Joe Nuxhall and Bob Purkey.

"The fifth starter will have to come from the rest of the pitchers here in camp."

It's Purkey's chance to show his stuff today against Philadelphia. Ruben Gomez will oppose him.

Experts Wonder If 1316 Doubles Will Stand In ABC

ST. LOUIS (AP) — With all the fabulous scores that have been shot in other divisions of the 56th American Bowling Congress tournament, can the 1316 total that leads the doubles stand up?

When Bob and Glenn Gersch of Chicago assembled their total on Feb. 21, experts predicted it wouldn't last more than a week. Since then, more than 10,000 bowlers have taken a shot at the two-man title and failed.

Last year it took a 1414 total for Jim Vrenick and Bill Tucker of St. Louis to nab the two-man crown. The last time a set as low as the Gersch boys' won the doubles was in 1931 when Rafferty and Charles Reilly of Philadelphia rolled an identical tally, 1316.

The possibility that anyone will knock Ed Lubansky of Detroit out of the singles or all - events leads seems remote. He rolled 764 in the singles and 2116 in the all-events. Likewise, there does not seem to be any teams remaining with the potential to outpin the record 3243 by Lubanski's Pfeiffers in the open team event.

5 Beneficiaries To Share Equally Litchfield Trust

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Five beneficiaries will share equally in the $650,000 Paul W. Litchfield Charitable Trust established by the honorary board chairman of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. who died March 18.

Establishment of the charitable trust and the Paul W. Litchfield Foundation of $400,000 was disclosed Thursday by trustees of the funds. The trusts, not announced previously, are separate from Litchfield's estate.

The First National Bank of Akron, trustee of the charitable trust, will distribute the $650,000 among the Children's Hospital of Akron; the Akron Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America; the University of Akron; the Church of our Saviour here and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, from which Litchfield was graduated in 1896.

The charitable purposes of the Paul W. Litchfield Foundation were not announced.

Exclusive Club Of 60-Foot Shot Putters To Vie

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — World record holder Parry O'Brien and the other three members of the exclusive "60-foot" shot putters' society headline the annual Easter relays Saturday.

Entered against O'Brien are Dallas Long, sensational freshman of the University of Southern California; Davis Davis of the Southern Cal varsity, and Bill Nieder, ex-Kansas star now in the Army.

All have put the shot 60 feet or better.

Threatened is O'Brien's world mark of 63 feet 3 inches, and most certain to fall is his record of 59 feet 9⅜ inches set in 1956.

Nieder won the event last year and has an all-time best put of 60-3. Davis' best is 61 even.

More than 1,400 athletes will compete in high school, junior college and open divisions.

TV Winner Shoots For Crack At Title

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A possible shot at Davey Moore's featherweight championship here next summer is in prospect for the winner of tonight's nationally televised, 10 - rounder between Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, Tex., and Harold Gomes of Providence, R.I.

Promoter Chris Dundee has been in communication with Willie Ketchum, Moore's manager, concerning such a bout.

Jorgensen, the No. 2 contender, is an even choice against Gomes. Both have impressive records. Jorgensen is 75-5-4, and Gomes 42-4.

The bout at the Miami Beach Auditorium will be televised over the NBC network starting at 10 p.m. (EST)

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 50 north, 57 south. Normal low 32-36. Cooler Saturday, warmer Sunday and Monday, cool again Tuesday and Wednesday. Rain indicated Tuesday and Wednesday. Generally fair Easter Sunday.

Protests Fly Against Soviet Fishing Fleet

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A foray by a big Soviet fishing fleet into waters off Alaska's Bristol Bay touched off protests up and down the north Pacific Coast today.

The presence of the Soviet flotilla in a region where they have never appeared before was viewed as an extension of the economic cold war.

The objections, however vociferous, may be futile because the upwards of 50 trawlers and auxiliary vessels are clustered in international waters where ships of all nations have free access.

But the fact the Soviets aren't violating any international law didn't diminish the chorus of concern.

Alaska's acting governor, Hugh J. Wade, called for a four-nation fishing agreement as "absolutely necessary" to bring the Soviet Union into international fisheries control efforts — with the United States, Canada and Japan.

At Vancouver, B.C. the independent United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union called on the Canadian government to ask the U.S.S.R. to hold back its trawlers.

The Navy, which has been keeping the Soviet fishing fleet under surveillance as part of routine patrol duties, didn't indicate any alarm.

Rear Adm. Arnold W. McKechnie, commander of the Alaska Sea Frontier and the 17th Naval District at Kodiak, Alaska, said "Their presence in the southeastern Bering Sea is of no particular military concern to us, but of course we are keeping track of what they do. They are in international waters where they have every legal right to be."

Cronin Sees Closer American League Race

BOSTON (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin is optimistic about a closer race for the pennant this year after returning from a visit to the Florida spring training camps.

Though his viewing was hindred by the rain, Cronin commented:

"From what little I saw I became optimistic about a closer American League race this year. I think all the teams I saw have strengthened in a spot or two that may help make a closer race."

Washington Will Shoot For 70 Victories In '59

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Cookie Lavagetto has set a goal for his Washington Senators. Not first place. Not even the first division. In fact, he's not pointing at any particular spot in the standings."

"I want to hit a minimum of 70 victories," the swarthy Senator skipper said modestly. "That would give us nine more than last year.

"I think we can do it. We weren't as bad last year as the record indicates. We played fair ball until the last month of the season when the boys tired badly. I think we lost something like 13 straight in September.

"We have added youth and a little speed in an effort to offset this. I think we will also have a little better bench."

It is clear that Cookie is relying heavily on newcomers Reno Bertoia to make good at third, Ronnie Samford to plug the hole at shortstop and rookie Bob Allison to win a regular outfield berth.

Bertoia and Samford came from Detroit in the trade that sent Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges to the Tigers. If Allison makes good, Roy Sievers may be switched from left field to first base, according to Lavagetto.

Otherwise, the team is the same as the one which finished in the basement last year. Norm Zauchin is the first baseman, with Herb Plews at second, Bertoia at third and Jose Valdivielso at short. Ken Aspromonte, Bob Malkmus and Harmon Killebrew are the reserves.

Last year's No. 1 rookie Albie Pearson, sidelined with a groin injury, is expected to take over the center field spot upon his return. Bob Lemon, still not fully recovered from a knee operation, is fighting to hold off Allison and Dan Dobbek in the battle for the third outfield post. The catchers are Clint Courtney and Eddie Fitz Gerald.

The club is pitifully shy of pitching. Pete Ramos (14-18) and Camilio Pascual (8-12) are proven big league starters and Dick Hyde was just about the best relief pitcher in the American League last year.

8 Periods Set For Summer YMCA Camp

Eight camping sessions for youths have been scheduled for the 1959 summer camp program at Pine Ridge, with the season to open June 28 and close Aug. 19, Carl Werner, general secretary of the YMCA, said.

In addition to two sessions for midgets, boys 8 to 9, three periods are reserved for girls and three for boys in the 10-14 age grouping.

Jack Doughty, who was associated with the Y last summer, will return early in June to resume work on the staff. Mrs. Werner will assist girls for all three periods, with Jan Burke to assist both groups during the camping periods.

Registrations arrangements are being completed. Parents wishing additional information on the camp may call at the Y office Monday through Saturday.

The camp schedule follows:

Midget boys, June 28-July 1; girls, July 5-11; boys July 12-18; girls, July 19-25; boys, July 26-Aug. 1; girls, Aug. 2-8; boys, Aug. 9-15, and midget boys, Aug. 16-19.

Sam Crawford, Detroit outfielder, won the American League home run crown in 1908 by hitting only seven homers.

Thor Missile Logs Successful Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force's versatile Thor has logged another apparently successful trip over intermediate range on its 26th flight test.

The 65-foot rocket, which seems to perform equally well as a war weapon and booster for space vehicles, roared aloft Thursday night on what appeared to be a perfect start.

The latest shoot was part of the Thor's advanced research and development series aimed at improving reliability — that is, bettering the odds for hitting the target on every launching.

Thor squadrons already are entrenched in the United Kingdom under Royal Air Force control as part of the NATO defenses.

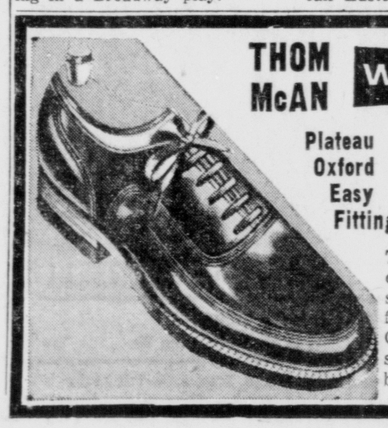

The Thor now is considered 65 per cent reliable, but the Air Force hopes to increase it to 80 or 90 per cent by the end of the year.

2 To Be Paroled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Cleveland men, Thomas Childs, 54, and Sandy Pickens, 27, will be paroled from Marion Correctional Institution April 23. Childs has served 12 years on a second degree murder conviction and Pickens, convicted of first-degree manslaughter, was received at the institution in 1956.

Burr Tillstrom Remains Out Of TV

CHICAGO

Puppet master Burr Tillstrom, a live example of the high mortality rate among television pioneers, is approaching his 20th anniversary in TV and his second anniversary OUT of TV.

Marie Torre

Paradoxical? Not really.

Since the cradle days of television, Tillstrom's all-knowing Kuklapolitans had captured the fancy of young and old, lowbrow and highbrow, until a vague matter of network economics put an end to the daily fun almost two years ago.

His "Kukla, Fran and Ollie" could have remained in TV on a weekly basis, but Tillstrom, a thinking craftsman, rejected that on the theory that the charm of the Kuklapolitans was their "chuckly, day-to-day humor."

It is a credit to his tenacity that he chooses to remain out of regular TV rather than compromise his talents.

"OH, THERE have been guest shot offers here and there," says Tillstrom, "and I accepted a few when the situations were right. Other than that, the only offers I've had have been for commercials.

"Lots of money in commercials, but I've turned them all down. I've always felt that when viewers see a well-known performer doing commercials they say, 'Oh, business hasn't been so good for him.'

"I don't take commercial work on a matter of principle. I still have a little money so I can afford to have principles."

Although Tillstrom is out of regular TV, he still receives letters from old viewing fans. The letters have been pouring in in greater volume during the last month since the untimely death of his associate Beulah Zachary, who was one of the ill-fated passengers on the jet airliner that crashed at LaGuardia Airport.

She was en route to New York from Chicago to arrange for the rental of a small theater at which the Kuklapolitans were to give regular theatrical performances.

-:-

"I DIDN'T have the heart to follow through on the plan after Beulah's death," says Tillstrom. "I just let things ride.

"The other day I was asked to consider the possibility of presenting the Kuklapolitans at the Civic Theater in Chicago, and well, maybe I will."

Whether or not he accepts the Civic engagement, Tillstrom's next professional activity will be in the theater rather than television. And why not? In the theater world, they know a good thing when they see it.

Long-term network contracts are not the most desirable things, Mickey Rooney has learned, and so he has asked CBS to release him from his five-year pact. No animosity involved. Rooney, after two years of trying to get placed in a CBS series, has grown impatient.

"The network," said his manager, Red Doff, "hasn't come up with anything that interests us, and they in turn haven't been interested in formats we have suggested. We want to go off on our own."

Besides a Rooney series, the actor and his manager hope to produce other weekly shows, including one called "The Lariat Kid," with Johnny Weismuller Jr.

This is described by Doff as a "teen-age Western." And, incidentally, what ever became of the "adult" Western?

PROFESSIONALLY, Jackie Gleason is now "alone." He and his manager, George (Bullets) Durgom, have severed relations after 10½ years. Durgom, still a Gleason fan, is branching out into TV production. . . .

"Maverick" continued to slay the opposition last Sunday night. In the 7:30 - to - 8 o clock period, ABC's favorite Western registered 34.6 opposite Jack Benny's 11.2 and Steve Allen's 14.5. In the second half, "Maverick" drew 35.8 to Allen's 14.5 and Ed Sullivan's 14.0. . .

Radio is dead? The National Association of Broadcasters announces an all-time high membership of 1,503 AM and 410 FM members. NAB television membership is 334. . .

Mike Wallace returns to his former employer, ABC, next season to head a panel show called "Take a Good Look."

-:-

WE'RE ADVISED that women will look like women, instead of boxes, trapezes or flying saucers, in this year's Academy Award telecast, according to designer Edith Head.

"We've had treacherous years in fashion, but this year's designers are back to figure normalcy," said Miss Head.

"There'll be no bustles, flying fins or front and back projections. Our actresses will look like women of today, instead of women of the future."

Amen!

Machinery Clinic Set For County Farmers

LISBON — Corn planters and grain drills will be discussed at a machinery clinic tonight at 8 at the Gause & Ritchey Supply Co. near Guilford Lake.

William E. Gill, extension agriculture engineer at Ohio State University, will discuss care and operation of grain drills, operation of corn planter, including fertilizer placement, speed of planter and size of plates.

All interested farmers are welcome to attend.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission has received an application for assignment of a construction permit for station WIOI to WIOI, Inc., in New Boston, Ohio.

Virtually All Tainted Fish Are Located

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Health officials said today virtually all of the tainted flounder which set off a poison scare along the eastern seaboard Wednesday night has been accounted for.

The only possible exceptions, the officials said, were fish which has been stored in family freezers. They warned housewives who had stored flounder purchased in the Philadelphia area to destroy it.

Meanwhile, investigators continued their efforts to determine how poisonous sodium nitrite got into the fish. One death was attributed to the poisoned flounder.

Dr. John L. Harvey of the Food and Drug Administration identified the wholesaler who supplied the tainted fish as the Universal Sea Food Co., operated by Dan DiOrio of Philadelphia.

Harvey said his investigators found the DiOrio firm had taken 1,800 pounds of fluke, which is sold as flounder, and filleted it, to make boneless slices. In the process, the fish was dipped in brine. The poison was not found on other fish which had not been dipped in brine, Harvey said. But it has not been determined if the sodium nitrite somehow got into the brine, Harvey added.

DiOrio said he was "just as sorry as anyone that it happened."

"Just how or when it happened we don't know," he said.

The poisoned fish has been blamed for the death of Haddon Heights, N. J., boy, Dale Kleinschmidt, 3. The entire Kleinschmidt family of six became ill after dinner on flounder Tuesday night.

Toastmasters Discuss Current Member Drive

Progress of the current membership drive was discussed at the meeting of the Midland Toastmasters Club Tuesday evening at Deramo's Restaurant with Lester Trainer, president, presiding.

Bill McComb was toastmaster, Bill Sluzarczyk was tabletopics master and Bill Marcum was speaker.

Dr. Vern Watson, Midland club winner of the speech contest held recently and who participated in the Area 5 contest at Coraopolis Saturday, was commended. John Onderick of Aliquippa won the area contest.

Bradley Groscost was welcomed as a new member.

At the next business meeting, Tuesday, April 7, a slate of officers will be presented.

"Ladies Night" will be the highlight of the meeting April 21.

Trainer was judge of a speech contest conducted by the Beaver Valley Toastmistress Club Monday evening in Beaver with Mrs. G. H. Urban of the Beaver Valley Club as winner.

16 Counties In West Virginia Act For Excess School Levies

CHARLESTON (AP) — Sixteen of the 55 West Virginia counties have taken steps to utilize a constitutional amendment which gives them more freedom in voting excess property tax levies for school purposes.

Under the amendment ratified by the state's voters last November, a county may—upon approval by 60 per cent of those voting in a special election—exceed regular property tax levy rates for schools by up to 100 per cent for a period up to five years. The previous excess levy limits were 50 per cent and three years. Mineral County already has approved a 100 per cent excess levy for schools.

The State Chamber of Commerce, in a report to members, reported that 14 other counties now have scheduled special elections on excess school levies. In 12 of the counties, the excess would be 100 per cent.

Since the printing of the chamber report, another county, McDowell, has scheduled an election on a 100 per cent excess levy.

The chamber listed these other counties with elections on 100 per cent excess school levies coming up: Boone, Brooke, Kanawha, Marion, Marshall, Mingo, Preston, Raleigh, Upshur, Wayne, Wetzel and Wood.

In addition, Ohio and Tyler counties will vote on proposals for 75 per cent excess school levies for 1959-60.

The chamber noted that the 15 counties excluding McDowell "account for 41 per cent of the total elementary and secondary school enrollment of the state."

Approval of the excess school levies proposed in the 15 counties, the chamber continued, would increase their school operating funds by an aggregate of $5,904,617 for the 1959-60 school year.

Thugs Tie, Gag Woman And Set Home Afire

CLEVELAND (AP)—A woman was bound and gagged and her east side home was set afire Thursday night by two thugs who attempted to rob her.

Mrs. Ella J. Harris, 39, told police two men grabbed her when she walked into her kitchen.

When she refused to open a small safe, which she said later contained no money, the men bound her and set a fire that did $12,000 damage to the three-story house.

Mrs. Harris worked the gag loose and attracted neighbors with her screams. They helped her from the burning house.

Although the chive, a perennial herb, is closely related to the onion and resembles it in taste and odor, unlike the onion, the leaves of the chive are its edible portion.

Seniors Begin Rehearsal To Stage Comedy

A three-act comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," has been selected for the annual Senior Class play of East Liverpool High School.

Rehearsals are under way for the presentation Friday and Saturday, April 10-11, at Westgate School auditorium. Ronald Boris, speech teacher, is director.

The comedy, by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, was first produced in 1937 on Broadway. It also has been made into a movie.

The play is about the Martin Vanderhof family and sundry relatives, namely the Sycamores, who live in New York City near Columbia University. The time is just before the Fourth of July. All characters in the production are eccentrics and don't believe in working for a living.

The production also incorporates romance. Snakes, ballet dancing and fireworks help make things lively.

The cast includes Dixie Hall, Debbie Weston, Ruth Ann Lovas, Nick Musuraca, John Hunter, Dave Buzzard, Pat Cooper, Dave Coleman, Lou McComas, Jim Calhoun, Bill McWhorter, Bruce Roush, Jim Clunk, Judy Capwell, Lynne Stover, Virgil Brooks, John O'Brien and John Starkey.

Daisy Shelton is the student director and Eugene Kiernan is the stage director.

Lion Recaptured After Impromptu Act At Rehearsal

NEW YORK (AP) — Peanuts, pink popcorn—and a lion on the loose. The latter was inadvertently served up to about 2,000 persons attending a dress rehearsal Thursday night of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum and Bailey Circus at Madison Square Garden.

Putting on an impromptu, and terrifying, act for about 10 minutes was Ponto, heavily maned, 800-pound lion, said to be one of the largest of his species in captivity. He was finally recaptured in the lobby. No one was injured.

Ponto broke through a door of his cage and started roaming around the big arena while a tiger and lion act was in progress.

Temporarily king of all he surveyed, he leaped over the arena rail into a section of seats—which luckily happened to be sparsely populated.

Some spectators stood their ground, not knowing what else to do. Others scattered.

Hans Naumann, the lion's trainer, dashed after Ponto with whip, chair and pistol. Ponto headed for the lobby. It immediately emptied.

Apparently the huge beast was following the scent to other animals in the basement menagerie. He vainly tried to tear down the locked door to the basement.

Frustrated, he tried to climb onto a telephone booth in the lobby. Men with an aerialist's net cornered him there. With Naumann directing, a cage on rubber tires was wheeled in, and Ponto was safely stored away.

Claimed In Fire

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A fire in her second-story apartment Thursday night killed Mrs. Vera Manning, 46. She apparently suffocated, firemen said. A lighted cigarette started the fire in a sofa.

Injuries Are Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two hours after his car rammed a parked tow truck here Thursday night, William Martin, 42, died at Polyclinic Hospital.

Fires Back At Critic

DiSalle Has Few Answers To Labor Publication Story

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle had a few answers to a labor publication story "Is DiSalle turning on labor?"

The story, which appeared in a publication of the International Assn. of Machinists, quoted Matt DeMore of Cleveland, official of the machinists state council, as saying a DiSalle-sponsored bill pending in the Ohio Legislature "could put every trade union in the state out of operation."

DeMore referred to DiSalle's proposal for enactment of an Ohio code of labor ethics which the governor says is similar to, but milder than, the AFL-CIO's code.

DiSalle Thursday released copies of a letter to the editor of the publication it said in part:

"Let me first of all say that, if I was elected governor of Ohio, it was not because of Matt DeMore, but in spite of him.

"All during the primary election he was a constant critic. From the primary to the general election, I could not classify him as a friend. Accordingly, I am not at all surprised that he continues in his usual irresponsible manner. . . .

"The objectives of the legislation are the same as subscribed to by the AFL-CIO when they adopted the code of ethical practices. I have repeatedly told the press that, should there be some modification in the language necessary, that I am not adamant and that the sub-committee considering the legislation is free to make any corrective changes necessary. . . .

"As a public official, I feel that I must be as objective as possible and that my position cannot be dictated or arrived at through pressures created by Matt DeMore or any other individual or movement."

Asked whether he was "parting company" with labor, DiSalle said his position on labor legislation "is no different now" from what it was before the election.

He pointed out that he recently approved a labor-backed law to allow simultaneous payment of supplemental unemployment benefits and state jobless compensation, and that he is still for a "reasonable" minimum wage law in Ohio.

In Cleveland, DeMore said DiSalle was probably upset by his criticisms.

"I did not attack him personally, but when he supports and proposes bad legislation I reserve the right to criticize that legislation, notwithstanding my support of him during the recent elections," DeMore stated.

He continued:

"The governor errs when he states that I failed to support him.

"I am happy to note that the legislators who introduced the bill which I criticized have had it sent to a sub-committee for redrafting.

"This would appear to support my view that the bill was ill-conceived and poorly drafted."

W. A. Fannin Retires At National Steel Corp.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — National Steel Corp. has announced the retirement of W. A. Fannin, assistant to the firm's president.

A native of Bob's Branch, Ky., Fannin began his career with National Steel at the Weirton Steel Co. division in 1930. He became assistant general manager of sales at Weirton in 1949 and was appointed to his last position in January 1957.

Rail Figure Claimed

CHICAGO (AP)—John F. Harmon, 74, of Wilmington, N.C., assistant to the general freight agent of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, died Thursday, apparently of a heart attack.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

- "Problem" Eaters
- Multiple Myeloma

Q. "What can I do to improve my youngster's appetite?"—A worried mother.

A. Poor appetite in the reasonably healthy, normal youngster is more often due to parents than to some condition affecting the child. One thing to remember is that children are usually able to decide how much to eat. There can be too much at-the-table forcing, begging and bribing. A New Orleans doctor reverses this approach, believing that food made hard-to-get will be more desired. He whets the appetite by allowing only water and fruit juices for one day; water, fruit juices and fresh fruits the second day. Small helpings of meat or eggs, fruits, vegetables and bread are permitted the third and fourth days. "Seconds" are given only when the child asks for them. By the fifth day, according to this physician, the "starved" youngster will often eat all of anything put before him.

Q. "What can you tell me about multiple myeloma—its symptoms and cure?" — A Pennsylvania reader.

A. Multiple myeloma is a serious disorder arising in the bone marrow which occurs most often in persons past 40 or so. Vague back pains and weakness are usually noticed early in the disease. These and other symptoms often become more pronounced as the condition progresses. Multiple myeloma is treated by x-ray and drugs. It's hard to discuss the possibility of cures in diseases for which the actual cause is unknown. Take the reported case of two brothers who developed multiple myeloma. Both had similar symptoms and both were treated in the same way. For no apparent reason, one recovered and one didn't. The recovery wasn't claimed to be a "cure" but at least the man had no symptoms and was apparently healthy one year after treatment.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Burr Tillstrom Remains Out Of TV

CHICAGO

Puppet master Burr Tillstrom, a live example of the high mortality rate among television pioneers, is approaching his 20th anniversary in TV and his second anniversary OUT of TV.

Marie Torre

Paradoxical? Not really.

Since the cradle days of television, Tillstrom's all-knowing Kuklapolitans had captured the fancy of young and old, lowbrow and highbrow, until a vague matter of network economics put an end to the daily fun almost two years ago.

His "Kukla, Fran and Ollie" could have remained in TV on a weekly basis, but Tillstrom, a thinking craftsman, rejected that on the theory that the charm of the Kuklapolitans was their "chuckly, day-to-day humor."

It is a credit to his tenacity that he chooses to remain out of regular TV rather than compromise his talents.

"OH, THERE have been guest shot offers here and there," says Tillstrom, "and I accepted a few when the situations were right. Other than that, the only offers I've had have been for commercials.

"Lots of money in commercials, but I've turned them all down. I've always felt that when viewers see a well-known performer doing commercials they say, 'Oh, business hasn't been so good for him.'

"I don't take commercial work on a matter of principle. I still have a little money so I can afford to have principles."

Although Tillstrom is out of regular TV, he still receives letters from old viewing fans. The letters have been pouring in in greater volume during the last month since the untimely death of his associate Beulah Zachary, who was one of the ill-fated passengers on the jet airliner that crashed at LaGuardia Airport.

She was en route to New York from Chicago to arrange for the rental of a small theater at which the Kuklapolitans were to give regular theatrical performances.

-:-

"I DIDN'T have the heart to follow through on the plan after Beulah's death," says Tillstrom. "I just let things ride.

"The other day I was asked to consider the possibility of presenting the Kuklapolitans at the Civic Theater in Chicago, and well, maybe I will."

Whether or not he accepts the Civic engagement, Tillstrom's next professional activity will be in the theater rather than television. And why not? In the theater world, they know a good thing when they see it.

Long-term network contracts are not the most desirable things. Mickey Rooney has learned, and so he has asked CBS to release him from his five-year pact. No animosity involved. Rooney, after two years of trying to get placed in a CBS series, has grown impatient.

"The network," said his manager, Red Doff, "hasn't come up with anything that interests us, and they in turn haven't been interested in formats we have suggested. We want to go off on our own."

Besides a Rooney series, the actor and his manager hope to produce other weekly shows, including one called "The Lariat Kid," with Johnny Weismuller Jr.

This is described by Doff as a "teen-age Western." And, incidentally, what ever became of the "adult" Western?

PROFESSIONALLY, Jackie Gleason is now "alone." He and his manager, George (Bullets) Durgom, have severed relations after 10½ years. Durgom, still a Gleason fan, is branching out into TV production. . . .

"Maverick" continued to slay the opposition last Sunday night. In the 7:30 - to - 8 o clock period, ABC's favorite Western registered 34.6 opposite Jack Benny's 11.2 and Steve Allen's 14.5. In the second half, "Maverick" drew 35.8 to Allen's 14.5 and Ed Sullivan's 14.0. . .

Radio is dead? The National Association of Broadcasters announces an all-time high membership of 1,503 AM and 410 FM members. NAB television membership is 334. . .

Mike Wallace returns to his former employer, ABC, next season to head a panel show called "Take a Good Look."

-:-

WE'RE ADVISED that women will look like women, instead of boxes, trapezes or flying saucers, in this year's Academy Award telecast, according to designer Edith Head.

"We've had treacherous years in fashion, but this year's designers are back to figure normalcy," said Miss Head.

"There'll be no bustles, flying fins or front and back projections. Our actresses will look like women of today, instead of women of the future."

Amen!

Machinery Clinic Set For County Farmers

LISBON — Corn planters and grain drills will be discussed at a machinery clinic tonight at 8 at the Gause & Ritchey Supply Co. near Guilford Lake.

William E. Gill, extension agriculture engineer at Ohio State University, will discuss care and operation of grain drills, operation of corn planter, including fertilizer placement, speed of planter and size of plates.

All interested farmers are welcome to attend.

Virtually All Tainted Fish Are Located

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Health officials said today virtually all of the tainted flounder which set off a poison scare along the eastern seaboard Wednesday night has been accounted for.

The only possible exceptions, the officials said, were fish which has been stored in family freezers. They warned housewives who had stored flounder purchased in the Philadelphia area to destroy it.

Meanwhile, investigators continued their efforts to determine how poisonous sodium nitrite got into the fish. One death was attributed to the poisoned flounder.

Dr. John L. Harvey of the Food and Drug Administration identified the wholesaler who supplied the tainted fish as the Universal Sea Food Co., operated by Dan DiOrio of Philadelphia.

Harvey said his investigators found the DiOrio firm had taken 1,800 pounds of fluke, which is sold as flounder, and filleted it, to make boneless slices. In the process, the fish was dipped in brine. The poison was not found on other fish which had not been dipped in brine, Harvey said. But it has not been determined if the sodium nitrite somehow got into the brine, Harvey added.

DiOrio said he was "just as sorry as anyone that it happened."

"Just how or when it happened we don't know," he said.

The poisoned fish has been blamed for the death of Haddon Heights, N. J., boy, Dale Kleinschmidt, 3. The entire Kleinschmidt family of six became ill after dinner on flounder Tuesday night.

Toastmasters Discuss Current Member Drive

Progress of the current membership drive was discussed at the meeting of the Midland Toastmasters Club Tuesday evening at Deramo's Restaurant with Lester Trainer, president, presiding.

Bill McComb was toastmaster, Bill Sluzarczyk was tabletopics master and Bill Marcum was speaker.

Dr. Vern Watson, Midland club winner of the speech contest held recently and who participated in the Area 5 contest at Coraopolis Saturday, was commended. John Onderick of Aliquippa won the area contest.

Bradley Groscost was welcomed as a new member.

At the next business meeting, Tuesday, April 7, a slate of officers will be presented.

"Ladies Night" will be the highlight of the meeting April 21.

Trainer was judge of a speech contest conducted by the Beaver Valley Toastmistress Club Monday evening in Beaver with Mrs. G. H. Urban of the Beaver Valley Club as winner.

16 Counties In West Virginia Act For Excess School Levies

CHARLESTON (AP) — Sixteen of the 55 West Virginia counties have taken steps to utilize a constitutional amendment which gives them more freedom in voting excess property tax levies for school purposes.

Under the amendment ratified by the state's voters last November, a county may—upon approval by 60 per cent of those voting in a special election—exceed regular property tax levy rates for schools by up to 100 per cent for a period up to five years. The previous excess levy limits were 50 per cent and three years. Mineral County already has approved a 100 per cent excess levy for schools.

The State Chamber of Commerce, in a report to members, reported that 14 other counties now have scheduled special elections on excess school levies. In 12 of the counties, the excess would be 100 per cent.

Since the printing of the chamber report, another county, McDowell, has scheduled an election on a 100 per cent excess levy.

The chamber listed these other counties with elections on 100 per cent excess school levies coming up: Boone, Brooke, Kanawha, Marion, Marshall, Mingo, Preston, Raleigh, Upshur, Wayne, Wetzel and Wood.

In addition, Ohio and Tyler counties will vote on proposals for 75 per cent excess school levies for 1959-60.

The chamber noted that the 15 counties excluding McDowell "account for 41 per cent of the total elementary and secondary school enrollment of the state."

Approval of the excess school levies proposed in the 15 counties, the chamber continued, would increase their school operating funds by an aggregate of $5,904,617 for the 1959-60 school year.

Thugs Tie, Gag Woman And Set Home Afire

CLEVELAND (AP)—A woman was bound and gagged and her east side home was set afire Thursday night by two thugs who attempted to rob her.

Mrs. Ella J. Harris, 39, told police two men grabbed her when she walked into her kitchen.

When she refused to open a small safe, which she said later contained no money, the men bound her and set a fire that did $12,000 damage to the three-story house.

Mrs. Harris worked the gag loose and attracted neighbors with her screams. They helped her from the burning house.

Although the chive, a perennial herb, is closely related to the onion and resembles it in taste and odor, unlike the onion, the leaves of the chive are its edible portion.

Seniors Begin Rehearsal To Stage Comedy

A three-act comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," has been selected for the annual Senior Class play of East Liverpool High School.

Rehearsals are under way for the presentation Friday and Saturday, April 10-11, at Westgate School auditorium. Ronald Boris, speech teacher, is director.

The comedy, by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, was first produced in 1937 on Broadway. It also has been made into a movie.

The play is about the Martin Vanderhof family and sundry relatives, namely the Sycamores, who live in New York City near Columbia University. The time is just before the Fourth of July. All characters in the production are eccentrics and don't believe in working for a living.

The production also incorporates romance. Snakes, ballet dancing and fireworks help make things lively.

The cast includes Dixie Hall, Debbie Weston, Ruth Ann Lovas, Nick Musuraca, John Hunter, Dave Buzzard, Pat Cooper, Dave Coleman, Lou McComas, Jim Calhoun, Bill McWhorter, Bruce Roush, Jim Clunk, Judy Capwell, Lynne Stover, Virgil Brooks, John O'Brien and John Starkey.

Daisy Shelton is the student director and Eugene Kiernan is the stage director.

Lion Recaptured After Impromptu Act At Rehearsal

NEW YORK (AP) — Peanuts, pink popcorn—and a lion on the loose. The latter was inadvertently served up to about 2,000 persons attending a dress rehearsal Thursday night of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum and Bailey Circus at Madison Square Garden.

Putting on an impromptu, and terrifying, act for about 10 minutes was Ponto, heavily maned, 800-pound lion, said to be one of the largest of his species in captivity. He was finally recaptured in the lobby. No one was injured.

Ponto broke through a door of his cage and started roaming around the big arena while a tiger and lion act was in progress.

Temporarily king of all he surveyed, he leaped over the arena rail into a section of seats—which luckily happened to be sparsely populated.

Some spectators stood their ground, not knowing what else to do. Others scattered.

Hans Naumann, the lion's trainer, dashed after Ponto with whip, chair and pistol. Ponto headed for the lobby. It immediately emptied.

Apparently the huge beast was following the scent to other animals in the basement menagerie. He vainly tried to tear down the locked door to the basement.

Frustrated, he tried to climb onto a telephone booth in the lobby. Men with an aerialist's net cornered him there. With Naumann directing, a cage on rubber tires was wheeled in, and Ponto was safely stored away.

Claimed In Fire

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A fire in her second-story apartment Thursday night killed Mrs. Vera Manning, 46. She apparently suffocated, firemen said. A lighted cigarette started the fire in a sofa.

Injuries Are Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two hours after his car rammed a parked tow truck here Thursday night, William Martin, 42, died at Polyclinic Hospital.

Fires Back At Critic

DiSalle Has Few Answers To Labor Publication Story

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle had a few answers to a labor publication story "Is DiSalle turning on labor?"

The story, which appeared in a publication of the International Assn. of Machinists, quoted Matt DeMore of Cleveland, official of the machinists state council, as saying a DiSalle-sponsored bill pending in the Ohio Legislature "could put every trade union in the state out of operation."

DeMore referred to DiSalle's proposal for enactment of an Ohio code of labor ethics which the governor says is similar to, but milder than, the AFL-CIO's code.

DiSalle Thursday released copies of a letter to the editor of the publication it said in part:

"Let me first of all say that, if I was elected governor of Ohio, it was not because of Matt DeMore, but in spite of him.

"All during the primary election he was a constant critic. From the primary to the general election, I could not classify him as a friend. Accordingly, I am not at all surprised that he continues in his usual irresponsible manner. . . .

"The objectives of the legislation are the same as subscribed to by the AFL-CIO when they adopted the code of ethical practices. I have repeatedly told the press that, should there be some modification in the language necessary, that I am not adamant and that the sub-committee considering the legislation is free to make any corrective changes necessary. . . .

"As a public official, I feel that I must be as objective as possible and that my position cannot be dictated or arrived at through pressures created by Matt DeMore or any other individual or movement."

Asked whether he was "parting company" with labor, DiSalle said his position on labor legislation "is no different now" from what it was before the election.

He pointed out that he recently approved a labor-backed law to allow simultaneous payment of supplemental unemployment benefits and state jobless compensation, and that he is still for a "reasonable" minimum wage law in Ohio.

In Cleveland, DeMore said DiSalle was probably upset by his criticisms.

"I did not attack him personally, but when he supports and proposes bad legislation I reserve the right to criticize that legislation, notwithstanding my support of him during the recent elections," DeMore stated.

He continued:

"The governor errs when he states that I failed to support him.

"I am happy to note that the legislators who introduced the bill which I criticized have had it sent to a sub-committee for redrafting.

"This would appear to support my view that the bill was ill-conceived and poorly drafted."

W. A. Fannin Retires At National Steel Corp.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — National Steel Corp. has announced the retirement of W. A. Fannin, assistant to the firm's president.

A native of Bob's Branch, Ky., Fannin began his career with National Steel at the Weirton Steel Co. division in 1930. He became assistant general manager of sales at Weirton in 1949 and was appointed to his last position in January 1957.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

- "Problem" Eaters
- Multiple Myeloma

Q. "What can I do to improve my youngster's appetite?"—A worried mother.

A. Poor appetite in the reasonably healthy, normal youngster is more often due to parents than to some condition affecting the child. One thing to remember is that children are usually able to decide how much to eat. There can be too much at-the-table forcing, begging and bribing. A New Orleans doctor reverses this approach, believing that food made hard-to-get will be more desired. He whets the appetite by allowing only water and fruit juices for one day; water, fruit juices and fresh fruits the second day. Small helpings of meat or eggs, fruits, vegetables and bread are permitted the third and fourth days. "Seconds" are given only when the child asks for them. By the fifth day, according to this physician, the "starved" youngster will often eat all of anything put before him.

Q. "What can you tell me about multiple myeloma—its symptoms and cure?" — A Pennsylvania reader.

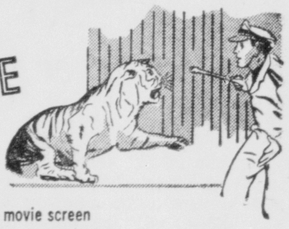

A. Multiple myeloma is a serious disorder arising in the bone marrow which occurs most often in persons past 40 or so. Vague back pains and weakness are usually noticed early in the disease. These and other symptoms often become more pronounced as the condition progresses. Multiple myeloma is treated by x-ray and drugs. It's hard to discuss the possibility of cures in diseases for which the actual cause is unknown. Take the reported case of two brothers who developed multiple myeloma. Both had similar symptoms and both were treated in the same way. For no apparent reason, one recovered and one didn't. The recovery wasn't claimed to be a "cure" but at least the man had no symptoms and was apparently healthy one year after treatment.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Pre-Communion Services Planned Tonight At Wellsville

"The Meal In the Upper Room," an Easter preparatory Communion service, will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Wellsville First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Philip Fletcher will speak on "The Valley of the Shadow."

The Lyric Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Louise Brookman Taylor, will sing an anthem, "Alone" (Price). The congregation will sing "There Is a Green Hill Far Away." The supper will be served in the Church School Chapel.

The deacons will conduct the service of lighting of the Passover candles, followed with singing of "The Cross Was His Own" by Mrs. Thomas McNicol, Mrs. Philip Fletcher and Mrs. Wilbur Terry.

The Scripture will be read by C. R. Donaldson, Ford S. Ball, Harold C. Miller, James Ralston, Alex Jenkins, William Frail, Robert Runyon, James Salsgiver, O. P. McAdoo and David Brookman, elders.

On the Communion tables will be foods similar to those probably eaten at the Last Supper. The elements of Holy Communion will be administered as communicants are seated at the tables.

Rev. Fletcher will sing a bass-baritone solo, "Were You There?" and the trio will sing, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" (Woodbury-Mason).

Twenty - eight boys and girls will participate in a program, also at 7:30, sponsored by the Junior Hi and Junior departments. Following a song and prayer service, an explanation of the Last Supper, using wafers and orange juice, will be given. Tropical fruit, figs, olives and dates will be on the Communion tables.

Roger McLain will sing, "In the Garden" and a trio from the Junior Hi department will sing "At the Cross" and "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone?"

The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Alex Jenkins and Mrs. Mary Plate.

Easter 'Lily Parades' To Be Held In Hancock

Easter "lily parades" will be held Saturday in Chester and Newell as part of fund - raising activities of the Hancock County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Mrs. Clayton Hobbs, Chester chairman, said lilies will be sold by Girl Scouts. Members of the Key Club of Chester High School will operate with a roadblock on Carolina Ave. to receive donations from motorists.

Girl Scouts and others will sell the flowers in Newell. Mrs. Carl Durham is chairman. Girl Scouts solicited residents Wednesday night.

About $852 was realized from a lily parade Thursday in Weirton, Mrs. Joe Cullinan, chairman, reported. Mrs. William Anderson was co - chairman.

The society's goal this year is $6,000. Mrs. Joseph Zak of Weirton is president.

Applications For Postal Positions To Total 100

Nearly 100 applicants were expected to file for an examination for substitute clerks and carriers in the East Liverpool Post Office before the deadline Thursday.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said 55 actually had filed about 2 weeks ago out of 100 application blanks distributed.

Because the applications were to be filed with the Civil Service Commission in Cleveland, Brown said he had no recent report on the number in.

No date for the examination has been announced, he added. The tests generally are given in Steubenville, the postmaster continued, adding that it possibly may be held late in April.

Ross Pens Letters Citing 2 For Arrest

Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross issued letters of commendation Thursday to Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi and Patrolman Thomas A. Walker of the Special Service Bureau for their part in the arrest of a 15-year-old East End boy who attempted to extort $500 from an East Liverpool physician's family last weekend.

In the letter to Walker, the director wrote:

"We wish to commend you very highly for your work in connection with the extortion case involving the Rugh family.

"We want you to know that we recognize and appreciate your tireless effort in working many extra hours on this, as well as many other cases and problems."

A similar commendation was given in the letter to the chief, which added that Ross was pleased with praise given Radeschi for his work on the case by William Murphy, agent-in-charge of the Cleveland FBI office.

"It is this kind of police work and co-operation with other agencies that will keep crime in our city to a minimum," the director added.

The two local officers and federal agents set a trap for the boy and arrested him when he appeared to pick up a drop of fake money near the Second Presbyterian Church on Virginia Ave. He was held for violation of the federal juvenile delinquency statute.

County Medical Society To Have 2 At Meeting

Dr. John A. Fraser of East Liverpool and Dr. Paul H. Beaver of Leetonia will attend the Ohio State Medical Association's annual meeting at Columbus April 21-24 as representatives of the Columbiana County Medical Society.

Dr. Fraser will serve as a delegate to the state association's House of Delegates. Dr. Beaver is an alternate. A scientific program will be held April 21 under the auspices of the Ohio Division of the American Cancer Society and the Ohio State Hearing Association.

Thirty - six scientific sessions are scheduled and physicians and their guests will inspect more than 100 scientific, educational and technical exhibits at the Memorial Building.

Your Mail Box Gone? Try Contacting Sheriff

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan today was seeking to locate the owners of four rural mail boxes — and the name plates off of two others — that were dumped sometime last night on the lawn at the home of A. L. Bricker of Salem.

The mail boxes carry the names Sam Hill, Edward Seroka, Joe Domanski and Gower. The plates carry the names of Frank Entriken and Rev. A. A. Kosower.

The sheriff's office theorized the mail boxes were removed by vandals, then dumped at the Salem home.

Gas Concern To Close Greene County Plant

Due to new transmission facilities, the People's Natural Gas Co.'s Brave Station in Greene County, Pa., will cease operating on or about Oct. 1, H. Donald Borger, president, announced.

He explained that three major transmission projects, one of which is completed, will improve system supply facilities and at the same time make unnecessary the pumping functions at Brave.

One unit of a planned continuous supply line, a 16 - mile, 24-inch pipe line from McKeesport to Gibson Station, was completed last fall.

He said efforts are being made to reassign each of the 45 regular employes. The Brave station has been in operation over 50 years.

Thief Blocks Up Auto After Theft Of Wheels

It was a thoughtful thief who removed the two rear wheels and tires from a 1959 sedan parked outside an East End auto agency's display room Wednesday night or early Thursday.

Instead of lowering the auto onto the spindles, he placed concrete blocks underneath to keep it clear of the ground.

The theft was reported to police Thursday by Emmanuel Fellouzis, 1714 Allison St., one of the owners of M. & A. Motors, 1273 Pennsylvania Ave. He said the wheels and two tires — worth a total of about $80 — were removed sometime between 9:30 p. m. Wednesday and 10:30 a. m. Thursday.

3 Boys Given Penalties In Greenhouse Entry

An 11-year-old city boy and two Glenmoor boys — 10 and 12 — were penalized by Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon Thursday for breaking into a greenhouse, stealing money and buying an air-gun which they used to shoot out windows.

The 12-year-old was fined $15 and placed on a six-month curfew condition under which he is not permitted out of his home—except for school—unless accompanied by his parents.

The other two were placed in the custody of the County Welfare Department, records showing they had been in court previously for other offenses.

The trio admitted breaking into the Keil Greenhouse at Glenmoor, and taking $11, using the money to buy the airgun.

Fined On 2 Counts

LISBON — Walter B. Crubaugh, 65, of R. D. 2 was fined $10 and costs for fictitious plates and $1 and costs for driving an unsafe vehicle at a hearing Thursday before Mayor John Todd. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Club At Palestine Votes To Disband

EAST PALESTINE — The Boosters Club at a special meeting Thursday night — with the unanimous approval of the seven members present — officially disbanded the club.

Officials said the action was taken due to lack of co-operation and interest on the past of the community.

Of the $700.30 remaining in the treasury, $500 was allotted as the club's annual share of the summer youth athletic program at City Park. The remainder was assigned to help pay for miniature gold footballs presented to the city's champion high school grid squad.

The club's $2,000 scoreboard at the stadium and a movie camera for photographing grid games were donated to the Board of Education, Charles Brant, president, reported.

The booster group annually received some proceeds of the East Palestine Minstrel Association's show, which is not being held this year.

Worker Hurt In Fall At Store Construction

A Wellsville man, hurt at a store construction project at Calcutta Thursday afternoon, is in "fairly good" condition at City Hospital where a man and boy were treated yesterday after separate mishaps.

John Wolf, 22, of 1st St., Wellsville, suffered back injuries in the fall of about 10 feet at the new store building for the Billingsley Grocery Store at Calcutta. Wolf was on scaffolding which fell when a steel beam slipped. Two other workers escaped injury.

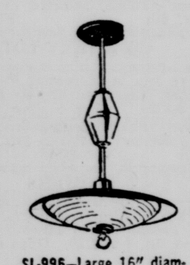

George Miller, 39, of Kelly Ave. Glenmoor, an employe of the Dravo Construction Co., suffered a fractured thumb at work.

Emmett McComas, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roma McComas of Globe St., was treated for a fractured right ankle received at play.

He explained that three major transmission projects, one of which is completed, will improve system supply facilities and at the same time make unnecessary the pumping functions at Brave.

One unit of a planned continuous supply line, a 16 - mile, 24-inch pipe line from McKeesport to Gibson Station, was completed last fall.

He said efforts are being made to reassign each of the 45 regular employes. The Brave station has been in operation over 50 years.

Thief Blocks Up Auto After Theft Of Wheels

It was a thoughtful thief who removed the two rear wheels and tires from a 1959 sedan parked outside an East End auto agency's display room Wednesday night or early Thursday.

Instead of lowering the auto onto the spindles, he placed concrete blocks underneath to keep it clear of the ground.

The theft was reported to police Thursday by Emmanuel Fellouzis, 1714 Allison St., one of the owners of M. & A. Motors, 1273 Pennsylvania Ave. He said the wheels and two tires — worth a total of about $80 — were removed sometime between 9:30 p. m. Wednesday and 10:30 a. m. Thursday.

3 Boys Given Penalties In Greenhouse Entry

An 11-year-old city boy and two Glenmoor boys — 10 and 12 — were penalized by Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon Thursday for breaking into a greenhouse, stealing money and buying an air-gun which they used to shoot out windows.

The 12-year-old was fined $15 and placed on a six-month curfew condition under which he is not permitted out of his home—except for school—unless accompanied by his parents.

The other two were placed in the custody of the County Welfare Department, records showing they had been in court previously for other offenses.

The trio admitted breaking into the Keil Greenhouse at Glenmoor, and taking $11, using the money to buy the airgun.

Fined On 2 Counts

LISBON — Walter B. Crubaugh, 65, of R. D. 2 was fined $10 and costs for fictitious plates and $1 and costs for driving an unsafe vehicle at a hearing Thursday before Mayor John Todd. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Club At Palestine Votes To Disband

EAST PALESTINE — The Boosters Club at a special meeting Thursday night — with the unanimous approval of the seven members present — officially disbanded the club.

Officials said the action was taken due to lack of co-operation and interest on the past of the community.

Of the $700.30 remaining in the treasury, $500 was allotted as the club's annual share of the summer youth athletic program at City Park. The remainder was assigned to help pay for miniature gold footballs presented to the city's champion high school grid squad.

The club's $2,000 scoreboard at the stadium and a movie camera for photographing grid games were donated to the Board of Education, Charles Brant, president, reported.

The booster group annually received some proceeds of the East Palestine Minstrel Association's show, which is not being held this year.

Worker Hurt In Fall At Store Construction

A Wellsville man, hurt at a store construction project at Calcutta Thursday afternoon, is in "fairly good" condition at City Hospital where a man and boy were treated yesterday after separate mishaps.

John Wolf, 22, of 1st St., Wellsville, suffered back injuries in the fall of about 10 feet at the new store building for the Billingsley Grocery Store at Calcutta. Wolf was on scaffolding which fell when a steel beam slipped. Two other workers escaped injury.

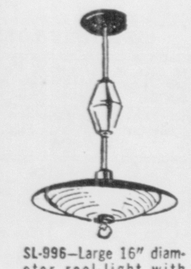

George Miller, 39, of Kelly Ave. Glenmoor, an employe of the Dravo Construction Co., suffered a fractured thumb at work.

Emmett McComas, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roma McComas of Globe St., was treated for a fractured right ankle received at play.

Actress Elizabeth Taylor Is Converted To Judaism

By JOHN BECKLER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor has been converted to Judaism, the faith of her late husband, Mike Todd, and of Eddie Fisher, the handsome singer she is expected to marry.

Although the English - born beauty, formerly a Protestant, apparently had been considering the step for more than two years, her decision caught Hollywood by surprise.

Friends and colleagues — even her agent — knew nothing of her conversion and the long studies that preceded it until it was announced late Thursday night in a brief press release issued by Temple Israel of Hollywood.

A spokesman for the Temple, where the ceremony was performed Thursday in the presence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, said the announcement was made at Miss Taylor's request. Conversions are not normally announced, he said.

The 27-year-old actress apparently first decided to embrace the reformed branch of Judaism at the time she married Mike Todd Feb. 2, 1957. Todd, born Avram Goldboggen, was the son of a rabbi.

Rabbi Max Nussbaum, who conducted the simple rites, said the death of Todd in a plane crash March 22, 1958, intensified her desire to enter the Jewish faith.

"She was a good pupil," the rabbi said. "She has a good understanding of Jewish life and has read extensively in Jewish history. She is very intelligent."

It was during the period of the actress' studies that her romance with Fisher flared into the headlines. Their widely publicized dates in New York City led to a breakup of Fisher's marriage to Debbie Reynolds and Fisher has been seen constantly with Miss Taylor since his divorce.

Accomplishments Of Congress Held Good As Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said today the accomplishments of Congress during its three months of sessions compare favorably with those of any preceding Congress.

Rayburn reviewed the results as he packed his gear for a rest at his Texas ranch during a 12-day Easter recess.

Three bills already have been signed by President Eisenhower, he noted, and a fourth, extending emergency federal jobless benefits, has been sent to the President.

Already signed into law are bills extending the draft law four years, granting statehood to Hawaii, and permitting artificial coloring of oranges.

A dozen other bills of a general nature, in addition to numerous private measures, have cleared the House, although none has gone to the President.

Most of the big, controversial bills, including appropriation measures, remain to be acted on following the recess which ends April 7.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove scorch stains from linens?

A. Light scorches can be removed from linens by first wetting the stained areas with cold water and then exposing to the sun until the stain disappears.

Q. How can I purify a sponge?

A. If the household sponge has acquired a "sour" smell, it can be sweetened by merely rubbing a lemon into it thoroughly; then rinse three or four times.

Q. How can I remove perfume stains from linen?

A. Try an application of peroxide of hydrogen.

Designed For Bridge

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The new Greenup Dam on the Ohio River is being designed so Kentucky and Ohio can be connected by a new bridge at a future date, Highway Commissioner Ward J. Oats said Thursday. Once the dam is built, the states will discuss the joint construction of the 3½-million-dollar span, Oats said.

Actress Elizabeth Taylor Is Converted To Judaism

By JOHN BECKLER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor has been converted to Judaism, the faith of her late husband, Mike Todd, and of Eddie Fisher, the handsome singer she is expected to marry.

Although the English - born beauty, formerly a Protestant, apparently had been considering the step for more than two years, her decision caught Hollywood by surprise.

Friends and colleagues — even her agent — knew nothing of her conversion and the long studies that preceded it until it was announced late Thursday night in a brief press release issued by Temple Israel of Hollywood.

A spokesman for the Temple, where the ceremony was performed Thursday in the presence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, said the announcement was made at Miss Taylor's request. Conversions are not normally announced, he said.

The 27-year-old actress apparently first decided to embrace the reformed branch of Judaism at the time she married Mike Todd Feb. 2, 1957. Todd, born Avram Goldboggen, was the son of a rabbi.

Rabbi Max Nussbaum, who conducted the simple rites, said the death of Todd in a plane crash March 22, 1958, intensified her desire to enter the Jewish faith.

"She was a good pupil," the rabbi said. "She has a good understanding of Jewish life and has read extensively in Jewish history. She is very intelligent."

It was during the period of the actress' studies that her romance with Fisher flared into the headlines. Their widely publicized dates in New York City led to a breakup of Fisher's marriage to Debbie Reynolds and Fisher has been seen constantly with Miss Taylor since his divorce.

Accomplishments Of Congress Held Good As Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said today the accomplishments of Congress during its three months of sessions compare favorably with those of any preceding Congress.

Rayburn reviewed the results as he packed his gear for a rest at his Texas ranch during a 12-day Easter recess.

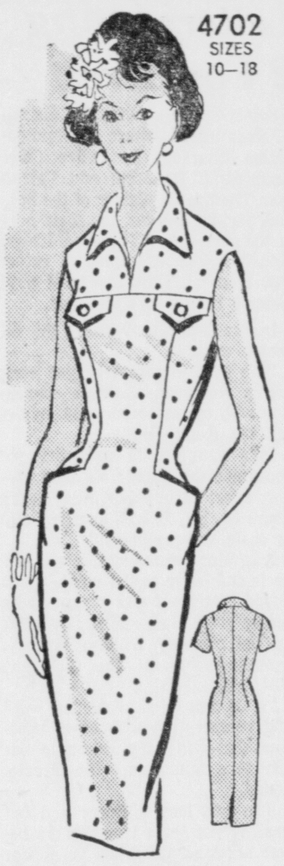

Three bills already have been signed by President Eisenhower, he noted, and a fourth, extending emergency federal jobless benefits, has been sent to the President.

Already signed into law are bills extending the draft law four years, granting statehood to Hawaii, and permitting artificial coloring of oranges.

A dozen other bills of a general nature, in addition to numerous private measures, have cleared the House, although none has gone to the President.

Most of the big, controversial bills, including appropriation measures, remain to be acted on following the recess which ends April 7.

Daily Pattern

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove scorch stains from linens?

A. Light scorches can be removed from linens by first wetting the stained areas with cold water and then exposing to the sun until the stain disappears.

Q. How can I purify a sponge?

A. If the household sponge has acquired a "sour" smell, it can be sweetened by merely rubbing a lemon into it thoroughly; then rinse three or four times.

Q. How can I remove perfume stains from linen?

A. Try an application of peroxide of hydrogen.

Designed For Bridge

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The new Greenup Dam on the Ohio River is being designed so Kentucky and Ohio can be connected by a new bridge at a future date, Highway Commissioner Ward J. Oats said Thursday. Once the dam is built, the states will discuss the joint construction of the 3½-million-dollar span, Oats said.

Research Team Experiments On Rats

New Clues Found To Heart Disease

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati medical research team reports it has produced "possibly for the first time" true heart attacks in rats.

The experiments may shed new light on two major causes of foreshortened life: Heart disease and hardening of the arteries.

A paper published Wednesday in the current issue of "Proceeding of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine," New York, and authored by Drs. Benjamin F. Miller and Bernard C. Wexler of Cincinnati, reported that cholestrol, considered high among suspected causes of heart disease, must share more attention with "stress."

Miller, director of the May Institute, a part of Jewish Hospital here, was lecturer in medicine at the Harvard Medical School from 1951 to 1954. He is among pioneers in studies involving transplantation of human kidneys, and currently is associate professor of experimental medicine at the university of Cincinnati. Wexler is a research associate at the May Institute.

Experiments somewhat similar to those underway involving rats have been conducted with dogs, Miller said. However, he observed, dietary requirements and the entire nutritional picture of rodents more nearly approach those of human species, "and for that reason, among others, we have been able to produce lesions more like those encountered in man."

Cholestrol is a fatty substance under suspicion because it is found in high concentrations in the swollen linings of diseased arteries, the two scientists wrote, hence "low fat" diets and concern about "cholestrol level" in the blood.

Stress, on the other hand, covers a wide range of pressures, both physical and emotional. It is not necessarily undesirable. What is important, the report continued, is the response of the whole human frame to stress situations. Some people withstand great pressures without damage, the report observed, probably because their psyches and adrenal glands somehow have achieved correct balance.

To intensify the severity of stress, the researchers used rats repeatedly involved in breeding because during pregnancy and breeding, the body is subjected to stress and produces extra hormones. From each rat, a kidney was removed, to produce additional stress. Finally, extra amounts of ACTH, the "stress hormone" were injected.

The control rats were fed normal diets, with neither fat nor salt added. The cholestrol levels remained normal. However, treated with ACTH, the animals developed severe evidences of arterial hardening, duplicating in many respects the condition encountered in human beings additionally these rats aged rapidly and prematurely. In earliest stages of the disease, microscopic examination failed to show any unusual amount of fats in the affected tissues.

In reporting a conclusion that fats in the diet do not necessarily bring on hardening of the arteries, Miller and Wexler said that conceivably abnormal response to stress could do the damage.

"We think" they wrote, "that this may be the first demonstration of a true heart attack in rats," meaning, they added, that the hardening which produced the attack was not too far from what might happen to people.

"We are not ready to throw out cholestrol as a cause," reported the doctors, who expressed belief that there are several possibilities in combination—heredity among them.

Suppose, they suggested, there were some chemical change, as yet undiscovered, triggered within the body by any one of these possible conditions? That would be at the root of the problem, and, said Miller, "That is what we are looking for."

Rush Awaited For Auto Tags

Two of four area motor vehicle registrars plan additional hours to handle an anticipated last - minute rush of motorists to secure 1959 vehicle licenses before the deadline Tuesday.

The new red and white plates must be on all vehicles by 12:01 a. m. Wednesday.

Robert Owen at Owen Hardware & Supply on Mulberry St. and Mrs. Mary Rahter at the Rahter Wallpaper Store on Main St., Wellsville, said they will remain open until 8 p. m. Monday and Tuesday. They will close as usual at 5 p. m. today and Saturday.

The Potters Lumber Co. in Calcutta will follow its regular schedule, closing at 8 p. m. today, Monday and Tuesday and at 4 p. m. Saturday.

The Columbiana County Motor Club office said it will be open until 5 p. m. today, Monday and Tuesday and will observe its regular noon closing on Saturday.

The four deputy registrars reported a total sale of 8,863 passenger plates.

The motor club said it has sold 4,753 passenger plates, 713 for trucks, 114 for farms and 104 for trailers. Business has been "fairly steady," the club said, with the main rush now for commercial plates.

Mrs. Rahter said the sale in Wellsville is running about 200 ahead of last year and business has been steady. Some 1,900 plates have been sold there.

Potters Lumber said business has picked up considerably in the last few days with an additional supply of plates due Saturday. The sale there has totaled 760.

Owen said the sale in East End appears to be lagging despite issuance of 1,450 tags.

Brothers Reunited In Phone Call To Italy

Frank Bosco, 1023 Rubicon St., received a pleasant birthday present Thursday in the form of a phone call.

Mrs. Bosco placed the call to her husband's brother, Rosario Bosco, in Avellina Montella, Italy.

Although the two have corresponded, they have not seen one another or heard the other's voice in 54 years.

Mrs. Bosco placed the call at 3 a. m. yesterday. The long distance operator finally located the town and then a messenger had to be sent to bring the brother to the phone. It required about 12 hours to complete the call.

Lions Club Prepares For Fair At Chester

Plans for the annual Chester firemen's fair were discussed Thursday night by the Chester Lions Club, which will sponsor the event for the second year.

It will be held July 29-Aug. 1. A general fair committee will be named at the next meeting and will meet with firemen later to discuss plans.

James Wallace, president, and Porter Rardin, John Abrams, Jerry D'Angelo and Anthony Bernardi will attend a Lions Club Zone meeting Aug. 4-5 near Ripley.

Wallace announced the Lioness Club will hold a public skating party Thursday at the Melody Lane Rink near Hookstown. The next meeting will be April 9.

Ike Returns To Golf After Long Layoff

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A bit rusty but well pleased, President Eisenhower is once again a golfer — after a four-month layoff.

"It sure feels good to get a round under your belt," he said Thursday after a trip around the Gettysburg Country Club course. He headed for the club shortly after arriving from Washington by helicopter for a long Easter weekend at his farm.

Until then Eisenhower hadn't played a regular round of golf since last November at Augusta, Ga.

That had set a record for the period since he became president in 1953 — barring an enforced five-month lay-off after his heart attack in 1955.

As might be expected, the President's first game was a bit erratic.

His iron shots reflected practice on the White House lawn, but his tee shots were short of the distance he ordinarily gets.

While Eisenhower was on the golf course, his wife traveled from Washington by automobile. Scheduled to arrive at the farm today for the Easter holiday were their four grandchildren and their parents, Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

The President, who expects to return to Washington Monday afternoon, plans to get in some work over the weekend on two speeches he will make next week.

Irish Chief Received In 'English Room'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ireland's President Sean O'Kelly, now touring America, gets a reception today in the Emerald Room of the Barclay Hotel.

All very appropriate, you'd say. What the management of the hotel isn't saying is that it usually is called the English Room.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Weight Gain Needn't Follow Smoking Halt

"How can an undesirable gain in weight be prevented when a person stops smoking?" This question is being asked with increasing frequency.

Ida Jean Kain

When everyone with whom you talk warns that you will pile on pounds, you begin to fear you cannot help yourself. Know the facts. Food doesn't suddenly get more fattening when you stop smoking. What does happen is that taste buds sharpen and food tastes better. Regard this change in terms of a keener appetite rather than a bigger appetite.

Certainly there is a difference. It's the practice of overeating that enlarges your capacity, so that it takes more food to fill the capacious space and bring a satisfied feeling. You need not fall into that trap!

DEAL PROMPTLY and effectively with this sharpened appetite and you'll have no weight problem. It's reassuring to know that that appetite, when controlled, levels off in about three weeks. Meanwhile, you can apply nutrition know-how to make your meals high in satiety. More about this later...

Now to deal with snacks: Smoking gives oral satisfaction. Food in the form of snacks provides oral gratification when smoking is stopped. Here you are dealing with habit. A recognized way to break a habit is through substitution, but the trick is to make sure the substitution doesn't turn into fattening habit.

There are on the market some Dietetic low calorie candies—lemon, mint and cherry drops—which contain three calories each. You can get them from any specialty store that furnished special Dietetic foods.

At home you can have a variety of snacks to munch on—crisp celery, carrot slivers, tart apple slices or crunchy low calorie wafers. In the late afternoon have an energy pick-up—a cup of hot tea or coffee plus a hard cooked egg or a ¾ ounce wedge of cheese.

Or have a glass of buttermilk or skim milk fortified with skim milk powder whipped in. Or have hot cocoa made with skim milk. A protein pick-up is the most know-how:

The satiety value of food can be measured in two ways — by the stick-to-the-ribs quality of a food and the amount of gastric juice stimulated. Clear soups and broths stimulate gastric juice and give a sense of well being, so start lunch and dinner with hot bouillon.

Meat has the greatest satiety value of all food but, to cut calories, trim off the fat. With meat, have a potatoe or a slice of bread to boost the satisfaction of the meal. But remember that "seconds" on these starches add more to calories than they do to satiety. Restrict second servings to lean meat.

GREEN VEGETABLES and salads enhance a sense of well-being because of the bulk supplied. For dessert, fruit provides a sweet finishing taste. A hot beverage gives great comfort at a no-calorie cost.

Switch to good food habits when you stop smoking and you will reap double rewards.

For "Hunger Control Diet," send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Steelworkers Launch Plans On Conference

The Executive Board of District 20, United Steelworkers of America, met Thursday in Ambridge to plan a legislative conference late in April at Midland, Kay Kluz, union representative, announced. Attending were representatives of 32 locals with more than 23,000 district members.

The board met with H. Charles Ford, state co - ordinator of the steelworkers' Pennsylvania legislative committee; Harold Edwards, steelworkers' Washington legislative representative; Helmut Golatz of Penn State; and Emery Bacon, steelworkers' educational director. All are assisting the board in setting up the program for the meeting.

Peter J. Pietrandrea, staff representative of District 20's Beaver Falls office, said the conference will be held at the United Steelworkers Local 1212 hall.

Members of the board are Walter W. Farber, Local 3461; William M. Welsh, Local 1360; Walter J. Wojtkiewicz, Local 1082; Joseph D'Alesio, Local 1212, represented by Steve Luketich, and Frank Davis, Local 1236.

Wojtkiewicz is the committee treasurer, Miss Eleanor Eakin, secretary, and Kluz, representing Bert Hough as chairman. Hough is district director.

Kluz said that in addition to regular business, the conferees will discuss legislation which "will protect and improve the economic security and social welfare of workers, strengthen and improve our democratic institutions, protect and expand our basic civil rights and our fundamental liberties," as provided by the by - laws of the committee.

TST Will Display New Chinaware At Open House Event

Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. will hold open house April 6-12 to show the public in the East Liverpool district the new chinaware line it introduced to wholesale buyers in Atlantic City in January, Richard B. Smith Jr., sales promotion manager, said today.

It will be the first local showing of the new line, called "Taylorton." The entire TST display used in the National Tableware Show at Atlantic City will be set up at the plant's retail outlet in Chester as a background for the seven new "Taylorton" patterns.

Invitations to the "open house" have been mailed to hundreds in the East Liverpool area. In the letter, Smith said:

"This will give you and your family the first opportunity to see how your local industries display their products for the thousands of major buyers around the country. TST is anxious to have you see this display and sincerely hopes you will stop in for a visit during our open house."

Library Has Book On Easter For Family Group Reading

Henry Denker, the producer of the radio program, "Greatest Story Ever Told," has written a timely version of the Resurrection for youngsters under 12.

"That First Easter" is highly recommended for reading aloud in family groups or church groups at this season, Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said.

Two outstanding novels with Biblical themes have just appeared. Taylor Caldwell, who has had a smashing success as a novelist on the modern American scene, has spent years of meticulous research on the life of the disciple, Luke. The story, "Dear and Glorious Physician," should reach the same audience as the writings of Lloyd Douglas and Frank Slaughter.

Joab, who was the strong right arm of King David in Biblical times. is the subject of Laurene Chinn's "The Unanointed." This novel was in preparation for 15 years.

Mission stories add to religious understanding and two highly inspiring volumes in this field are Glenn D. Kittler's "The Woman God Loved" and Clarence Hall's "Adventurers of God." The first concerns a French farm girl who became a nun and established the first colony of freed slaves in South America. The second concerns 13 modern missionaries in remote and exotic corners of the world.

Ralph W. Sockman discusses the first great commandment — love for God which conditions all other loves. Here he shows that man's love for God is possible only through God's love for man. The title is "Man's First Love."

A pair of thought - provoking books on non-religious subjects are James B. Conan's "The American High School Today" and C. Wright Mills' "The Causes of World War Three."

For teen-age girls, Pauline Coleman has written a novel of college life — the mixture of sorority life, Little Theater experience, and romance. "Not an Iota" is just as good as "The Different One" also by this author. How a 17-year-old orphan girl from Sweden adapts to America and finds love and happiness is the theme of Lillian Budd's "April Harvest."

Two novels for men are David Garth's "Watch on the Bridge," and M. J. Bosse's "The Journey of Tao Kim Nam." The first deals with Americans in Europe during World War II and the second is of a man's desperate search to reach freedom in war-torn Indo-China.

Those who enjoyed Walt Disney's film on wildlife in Northern Alaska will enjoy the engaging adventures of a naturalist. Peter Krott in "Demon of the North" describes his attempts to tame the most elusive creatures of the North—the wolverine. Even strong doses of strychnine cannot kill him.

Recommended for the bedside table are "Disc Jockey Gags" by Walt Hiley, and two volumes of short stories. Sylvia Berkman writes of the inarticulate and the lonely in "Blackberry Wilderness" and Ray Bradbury collects stories of fantasy in "A Medicine for Melancholy."

Research Team Experiments On Rats

New Clues Found To Heart Disease

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati medical research team reports it has produced "possibly for the first time" true heart attacks in rats.

The experiments may shed new light on two major causes of foreshortened life: Heart disease and hardening of the arteries.

A paper published Wednesday in the current issue of "Proceeding of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine," New York, and authored by Drs. Benjamin F. Miller and Bernard C. Wexler of Cincinnati, reported that cholestrol, considered high among suspected causes of heart disease, must share more attention with "stress."

Miller, director of the May Institute, a part of Jewish Hospital here, was lecturer in medicine at the Harvard Medical School from 1951 to 1954. He is among pioneers in studies involving transplantation of human kidneys, and currently is associate professor of experimental medicine at the university of Cincinnati. Wexler is a research associate at the May Institute.

Experiments somewhat similar to those underway involving rats have been conducted with dogs, Miller said. However, he observed, dietary requirements and the entire nutritional picture of rodents more nearly approach those of human species, "and for that reason, among others, we have been able to produce lesions more like those encountered in man."

Cholestrol is a fatty substance under suspicion because it is found in high concentrations in the swollen linings of diseased arteries, the two scientists wrote, hence "low fat" diets and concern about "cholestrol level" in the blood.

Stress, on the other hand, covers a wide range of pressures, both physical and emotional. It is not necessarily undesirable. What is important, the report continued, is the response of the whole human frame to stress situations. Some people withstand great pressures without damage, the report observed, probably because their psyches and adrenal glands somehow have achieved correct balance.

To intensify the severity of stress, the researchers used rats repeatedly involved in breeding because during pregnancy and breeding, the body is subjected to stress and produces extra hormones. From each rat, a kidney was removed, to produce additional stress. Finally, extra amounts of ACTH, the "stress hormone" were injected.

The control rats were fed normal diets, with neither fat nor salt added. The cholestrol levels remained normal. However, treated with ACTH, the animals developed severe evidences of arterial hardening, duplicating in many respects the condition encountered in human beings additionally these rats aged rapidly and prematurely. In earliest stages of the disease, microscopic examination failed to show any unusual amount of fats in the affected tissues.

In reporting a conclusion that fats in the diet do not necessarily bring on hardening of the arteries, Miller and Wexler said that conceivably abnormal response to stress could do the damage.

"We think" they wrote, "that this may be the first demonstration of a true heart attack in rats," meaning, they added, that the hardening which produced the attack was not too far from what might happen to people.

"We are not ready to throw out cholestrol as a cause," reported the doctors, who expressed belief that there are several possibilities in combination—heredity among them.

Suppose, they suggested, there were some chemical change, as yet undiscovered, triggered within the body by any one of these possible conditions? That would be at the root of the problem, and, said Miller, "That is what we are looking for."

Rush Awaited For Auto Tags

Two of four area motor vehicle registrars plan additional hours to handle an anticipated last - minute rush of motorists to secure 1959 vehicle licenses before the deadline Tuesday.

The new red and white plates must be on all vehicles by 12:01 a. m. Wednesday.

Robert Owen at Owen Hardware & Supply on Mulberry St. and Mrs. Mary Rahter at the Rahter Wallpaper Store on Main St., Wellsville, said they will remain open until 8 p. m. Monday and Tuesday. They will close as usual at 5 p. m. today and Saturday.

The Potters Lumber Co. in Calcutta will follow its regular schedule, closing at 8 p. m. today, Monday and Tuesday and at 4 p. m. Saturday.

The Columbiana County Motor Club office said it will be open until 5 p. m. today, Monday and Tuesday and will observe its regular noon closing on Saturday.

The four deputy registrars reported a total sale of 8,863 passenger plates.

The motor club said it has sold 4,753 passenger plates, 713 for trucks, 114 for farms and 104 for trailers. Business has been "fairly steady," the club said, with the main rush now for commercial plates.

Mrs. Rahter said the sale in Wellsville is running about 200 ahead of last year and business has been steady. Some 1,900 plates have been sold there.

Potters Lumber said business has picked up considerably in the last few days with an additional supply of plates due Saturday. The sale there has totaled 760.

Owen said the sale in East End appears to be lagging despite issuance of 1,450 tags.

Brothers Reunited In Phone Call To Italy

Frank Bosco, 1023 Rubicon St., received a pleasant birthday present Thursday in the form of a phone call.

Mrs. Bosco placed the call to her husband's brother, Rosario Bosco, in Avellina Montella, Italy.

Although the two have corresponded, they have not seen one another or heard the other's voice in 54 years.

Mrs. Bosco placed the call at 3 a. m. yesterday. The long distance operator finally located the town and then a messenger had to be sent to bring the brother to the phone. It required about 12 hours to complete the call.

Lions Club Prepares For Fair At Chester

Plans for the annual Chester firemen's fair were discussed Thursday night by the Chester Lions Club, which will sponsor the event for the second year.

It will be held July 29-Aug. 1. A general fair committee will be named at the next meeting and will meet with firemen later to discuss plans.

James Wallace, president, and Porter Rardin, John Abrams, Jerry D'Angelo and Anthony Bernardi will attend a Lions Club Zone meeting Aug. 4-5 near Ripley.

Wallace announced the Lioness Club will hold a public skating party Thursday at the Melody Lane Rink near Hookstown. The next meeting will be April 9.

Ike Returns To Golf After Long Layoff

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A bit rusty but well pleased, President Eisenhower is once again a golfer — after a four-month layoff.

"It sure feels good to get a round under your belt," he said Thursday after a trip around the Gettysburg Country Club course. He headed for the club shortly after arriving from Washington by helicopter for a long Easter weekend at his farm.

Until then Eisenhower hadn't played a regular round of golf since last November at Augusta, Ga.

That had set a record for the period since he became president in 1953 — barring an enforced five-month lay-off after his heart attack in 1955.

As might be expected, the President's first game was a bit erratic.

His iron shots reflected practice on the White House lawn, but his tee shots were short of the distance he ordinarily gets.

While Eisenhower was on the golf course, his wife traveled from Washington by automobile. Scheduled to arrive at the farm today for the Easter holiday were their four grandchildren and their parents, Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

The President, who expects to return to Washington Monday afternoon, plans to get in some work over the weekend on two speeches he will make next week.

Irish Chief Received In 'English Room'

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Weight Gain Needn't Follow Smoking Halt

"How can an undesirable gain in weight be prevented when a person stops smoking?" This question is being asked with increasing frequency.

Ida Jean Kain

When everyone with whom you talk warns that you will pile on pounds, you begin to fear you cannot help yourself. Know the facts. Food doesn't suddenly get more fattening when you stop smoking. What does happen is that taste buds sharpen and food tastes better. Regard this change in terms of a keener appetite rather than a bigger appetite.

Certainly there is a difference. It's the practice of overeating that enlarges your capacity, so that it takes more food to fill the capacious space and bring a satisfied feeling. You need not fall into that trap!

DEAL PROMPTLY and effectively with this sharpened appetite and you'll have no weight problem. It's reassuring to know that that appetite, when controlled, levels off in about three weeks. Meanwhile, you can apply nutrition know-how to make your meals high in satiety. More about this later...

Now to deal with snacks: Smoking gives oral satisfaction. Food in the form of snacks provides oral gratification when smoking is stopped. Here you are dealing with habit. A recognized way to break a habit is through substitution, but the trick is to make sure the substitution doesn't turn into fattening habit.

There are on the market some Dietetic low calorie candies—lemon, mint and cherry drops—which contain three calories each. You can get them from any specialty store that furnished special Dietetic foods.

At home you can have a variety of snacks to munch on—crisp celery, carrot slivers, tart apple slices or crunchy low calorie wafers. In the late afternoon have an energy pick-up—a cup of hot tea or coffee plus a hard cooked egg or a ¾ ounce wedge of cheese.

Or have a glass of buttermilk or skim milk fortified with skim milk powder whipped in. Or have hot cocoa made with skim milk. A protein pick-up is the most know-how:

The satiety value of food can be measured in two ways — by the stick-to-the-ribs quality of a food and the amount of gastric juice stimulated. Clear soups and broths stimulate gastric juice and give a sense of well being, so start lunch and dinner with hot bouillon.

Meat has the greatest satiety value of all food but, to cut calories, trim off the fat. With meat, have a potatoe or a slice of bread to boost the satisfaction of the meal. But remember that "seconds" on these starches add more to calories than they do to satiety. Restrict second servings to lean meat.

GREEN VEGETABLES and salads enhance a sense of well-being because of the bulk supplied. For dessert, fruit provides a sweet finishing taste. A hot beverage gives great comfort at a no-calorie cost.

Switch to good food habits when you stop smoking and you will reap double rewards.

For "Hunger Control Diet," send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Steelworkers Launch Plans On Conference

The Executive Board of District 20, United Steelworkers of America, met Thursday in Ambridge to plan a legislative conference late in April at Midland, Kay Kluz, union representative, announced. Attending were representatives of 32 locals with more than 23,000 district members.

The board met with H. Charles Ford, state co - ordinator of the steelworkers' Pennsylvania legislative committee; Harold Edwards, steelworkers' Washington legislative representative; Helmut Golatz of Penn State; and Emery Bacon, steelworkers' educational director. All are assisting the board in setting up the program for the meeting.

Peter J. Pietrandrea, staff representative of District 20's Beaver Falls office, said the conference will be held at the United Steelworkers Local 1212 hall.

Members of the board are Walter W. Farber, Local 3461; William M. Welsh, Local 1360; Walter J. Wojtkiewicz, Local 1082; Joseph D'Alesio, Local 1212, represented by Steve Luketich, and Frank Davis, Local 1236.

Wojtkiewicz is the committee treasurer, Miss Eleanor Eakin, secretary, and Kluz, representing Bert Hough as chairman. Hough is district director.

Kluz said that in addition to regular business, the conferees will discuss legislation which "will protect and improve the economic security and social welfare of workers, strengthen and improve our democratic institutions, protect and expand our basic civil rights and our fundamental liberties," as provided by the by - laws of the committee.
